"When A Fellow Needs A Friend"

The Junior high school class play, "When a Fellow Needs a Friend," will be put on by the Allerton H. S. in the Broadlands opera house, Wednesday evening, April 4.

This is one of the best and funniest plays of the season, and Prof. Montooth sure knew his stuff when he picked the cast. It's a real show from start to finish. No empty places, no thin spots, no waits.

Half the proceeds stays in Broadlands. Usual popular prices 25c and 35c. No reserved seats. Orchestra 7:30, curtain 8:00 o'clock.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank all those who so kindly assisted us during the illness and after the death of our baby. We also thank those who contributed flowers.

Organize Troup Of Boy Scouts

An organization of Boy Scouts for Broadlands and vicinity was effected last Monday night at a meeting held for that purpose in the First State Bank of Broadlands. A large number of representative men of the community were present. Robert J. Drake, Scout Executive of the Champaign-Urbana Regional Council was present and addressed the meeting. He gave the history of the Scout movement and explained its purposes. At the close of the meeting a local organization was brought about by the selection of a local Troup committee as follows: Geo. H. Cook, chairman; H. K. Allen, Dr. T. A. Dicks, O. J. Harden and Fuller Freeman. This Troup committee in turn selected Rev. C. M. Temple as Scout Master, and Kenneth Dicks and P. O. Rayl as assistant Scout Masters.

The Boy Scouts of America as an organization is open to all boys of any race or creed, over 12 years of age, who can pass the required tests of the Tenderfoot Scout, and who will assume the oath of honor.

A call will be made by Rev. Temple within two weeks for boys who wish to become scouts. Mr. W. A. Cooley has granted to the scouts the use of the bank's room for meetings as long as they shall require it. It is probable that there will be more than one Troup in Broadlands before the year is over.

To The Voters

Having been nominated on the Republican ticket for Highway Commissioner of Ayers township, I wish to say that if elected I will build and maintain the best roads that it is possible for me to make and will do the work as economically as it can be done. I thoroughly understand matters of road drainage, grading, leveling, oiling, and feel that I am capable of taking care of the highways of the township in a business like and satisfactory manner. I will therefore greatly appreciate your support at the polls next Tuesday April 3.

'Painting The Town' A Farce Comedy

"Painting the Town," the photoplay to be presented at the Broadlands Opera House on Saturday night, March 31, is without doubt one of the funniest pictures seen here in a long time. It keeps the audience in gales of laughter from start to finish and is excellent entertainment for all ages. There is nothing subtle in the humor of this comedy, nevertheless its rapid succession of laughable situations, good gags and funny subtitles serve to keep one at the laughing point through reel after reel.

Credit for most of the fun in this picture goes to Glenn Tryon a young comedian, hitherto little known. In the role of a small town smart-aleck he contributes a continuous stream of comedy. He is a new-comer among the field of popular screen comedians but judging from his work in this picture, he is due for fame and fortune.

Co-featured with Tryon is Patsy Ruth Miller, the heroine of many successful screen plays and an actress who can always be depended upon to add to the appeal of a picture by her beauty and acting ability. In "Painting the Town" she plays the role of a Follies beauty.

The Three C's of Credit

Here are the three qualities that determine a man's credit at this bank:

CHARACTER—That's another way of saying honor, and honor is the foundation of banking. We like to do business with men who can be trusted and in whom folks have confidence.

CAPACITY—Can the borrower manage his affairs so as to pay the note when it comes due? Has he the capacity to make the loan profitable?

CAPITAL—The man who has been successful in saving his money and putting it to profitable use has demonstrated that he has something to back up a request for a loan.

Why Re-elect Governor Small

Governor Len Small is a candidate for re-election. Responding to the popular demand from all parts of the state he has accepted the call and will again be the standard bearer of the Republican party in Illinois. Governor Small has been at the helm of state affairs in Illinois for upwards of seven years. During that time he has given the state a good administration. He has set a world's record for the building of hard roads. He has run the people's business with economy. Under his guidance the charitable and penal institutions have been ably managed. He has kept every pledge made to the people in his campaign platforms. He has been a true and faithful public servant. Governor Small, because he would not take orders from powerful interests of which the capitalistic press is the mouthpiece, has been maligned and slandered. He has been hounded and persecuted throughout his two terms in office. He has been hampered and harassed by his enemies. He has been made the victim of the grossest misrepresentation.

He has built five times the amount of hard roads of all other governors of the state, and at a minimum of cost. Thru economy in state government he has been able to reduce the tax rate for the coming year. Under the direction of Governor Small every department of the state government has been conducted in a business-like manner. He has placed Illinois at the head of states in legislation affecting agriculture, industry and education. The last seven years has been an era of great progress and prosperity. Viewed dispassionately, without prejudice or bias, Governor Small's administration has been above criticism. He has given unsparingly of his time and energy to the performance of his official duties. He has served his state with ability and fidelity. He has been a worthy servant of the people. Governor Len Small is entitled to re-election by every just standard that can be applied to the measurement of a candidate for public office.

There were about 80 in attendance at the Emerson meeting held at the Broadlands Opera House on Thursday night of last week.

Research and Books Equal for Medicos

Both Important for Well-Rounded Experience in Doctor's Profession.

Research into the causes of human disease is being stressed equally with the teaching of what is already known about the medical profession at the University of Illinois College of Medicine located at Chicago.

Throughout the work of the university investigators, a thread of practical application of science to medicine becomes apparent. The emphasis is placed on common every-day disabilities of the population, diseases which are so often neglected, but which are so frequently disabling. Such studies involve much hard work and there is little romance in their solution but the end results are of utmost importance to the welfare of the people.

In the Anatomy Department of the University of Illinois Medical College one of the investigators has upset the entire idea that the gall bladder is merely a passive organ. By a beautiful series of experiments, he has been able to demonstrate the contraction of the gall-bladder wall. In this same department is one man studying rare blood diseases, another the early stages of fertilization in mammals—experimentally induced and followed in the microscopic field.

One floor lower in the Research Laboratory we find the physiologists and the chemists. Here we see one young investigator following the contractions of the stomach of the dog under normal and abnormal conditions. A rubber balloon which the dog has swallowed records the movements, and the dog, pet that he is, lies as quietly as though he understood the importance of his co-operation.

Then there is the work of vitamins where another investigator is isolating by laborious methods the purest proteins ever prepared—so pure that delicate tests indicate their presence in dilutions of one in 10,000,000 parts. In a related field we find two clinicians at work—the one a surgeon and the other an internist—demonstrating that what we have heretofore thought were blood proteins in the urine in certain cases of Bright's disease were really proteins from the liver and other vital organisms.

Next, we come down to the floor of Pathology and Bacteriology. Here the pathologist has devised a new method of testing the activity of the liver—he injects an emulsion of fine fat droplets directly into the blood stream. The liver cells take these out of the circulation—the rate depending upon the momentary functional capacity of the liver cells. A young man is staining a fungus (mold) occasionally found in the spleen of certain sick individuals. This peculiar organism has been previously observed by others, but never recognized by them.

We now turn to the Bacteriological laboratory, and enter a room strewn with small flat dishes, each a small pasture where billions of bacteria multiply in the humid heat of the incubation. The Bacteriological department is interested in studies that deal with public health problems. One group of investigators is at work on the mechanism of the respiratory infections, the why and wherefore of infection by the common cold; the mechanism whereby the upper respiratory membranes sterilize themselves; the influences of thermal changes in this mechanism. Another group is attacking the related problems of the digestive tract—the reason why with a given intestinal infection (a contaminated water supply for instance) only certain individuals become ill; the reasons for the difference in susceptibility in the warm climates as compared to the temperate zone.

Immediately adjacent is the Neuro-pathological laboratory of Professor Has-sin. Perhaps no field of science is as intricate as the study of the brain. And if the normal brain and the normal nervous tracts offer difficulties, the diseased brain is doubly so. Yet certain brain diseases have materially advanced our knowledge of even the normal functions. When parts of the brain have been destroyed, either the absence of certain reactions, or the accentuation of certain normal functions when caused by local irritation may help us localize definite functions to certain areas of the brain. Much of our fundamental knowledge of the function of the brain goes back to just such careful studies. Today of course we derive additional information from animal experimentation.

Across the aisle is the laboratory of Otolaryngology. Here Professor Pierce is studying the hardening of the eardrum, the most common cause of deafness.

In collaboration with the Municipal Tuberculosis Sanitarium, the university investigators have undertaken an elaborate study that deals with the resistance of the individual to tuberculous infections.

Long before Koch discovered the tubercle bacillus, Brehmer, Wettweiler and other observing clinicians had discovered that rest and good food cured most cases of tuberculosis. Today, we regard the disease as eminently benign—rather than as unfailingly malignant—but still do not know why one person develops greater resistance than another under seemingly equal conditions.

Large U. of I. Chicago Units

Contrary to what many citizens of the state of Illinois may think, not all departments of the University of Illinois are located at Urbana-Champaign; in fact, all of the professional departments except law are located in Chicago.

In the Chicago group are the University of Illinois College of Medicine, the College of Dentistry and the School of Pharmacy. These three professional branches, along with the Research Library and Hospital, operated jointly by the university and the State Department of Public Welfare, comprise one of the greatest medical centers in the entire country.

The total enrollment for the whole university both at Urbana-Champaign and Chicago this year is 14,071. Of this number 1,346 attend the departments in Chicago. To properly instruct this number of medical, dental and pharmaceutical students, a corps of highly trained research and clinical instructors is needed.

RENOMINATE LEN SMALL

BECAUSE—he has made a real governor, serving the interests of the people in an efficient and fearless manner at all times.

BECAUSE—he is a farmer-banker, a downstate man who was reared on a farm and talks the language of the farmer and knows the problems of the rural sections. He has kept faith with the trying needs of the farmer.

BECAUSE—he has made a national reputation as the "Hard Roads Governor" completing over 5,500 miles in his term of office. Champaign County has over 75 miles of hard roads completed and bids on 66 miles more are being received at the present time. All these roads have been built with no direct tax on the people of the state.

BECAUSE—he has made and kept Illinois the healthiest large state in the union, as shown by the large reduction in the death rate during the past seven years as compared with the preceding seven years.

BECAUSE—he has reduced the State Tax Rate 31c. The per capita cost of government in Illinois is lower than that of any of the surrounding states; and only four states in the Union (North Carolina, Tennessee, Ohio and Alabama), have a lower per capita cost than Illinois.

This advertisement paid for by people in this community interested in the renomination of Len Small.

Ask Any Juror!

During the time I have been State's Attorney over fifteen hundred men sitting as jurors from all parts of Champaign County have closely observed my work either before the Grand Jury or in the actual trial of cases in the County or Circuit Courts. These men come from both political parties and should be able to, and I believe will, give an honest opinion, without partisan bias, of my conduct of the State's Attorney's Office.

In submitting my candidacy at this time I simply ask the voters, if they are not already familiar with my work, to inquire of any man or woman, EITHER REPUBLICAN OR DEMOCRAT, who has observed my work, whether he or she believes I have honestly, fairly and efficiently handled that office.

Roy R. Cline

William Z. Black Of St. Joseph, For State Representative

As a Republican Candidate for State Representative from the 24th Senatorial District he is the only one of the seven candidates who actually lives on his farm, and has knowledge of farm conditions learned at first hand.

He was educated at the University of Illinois, graduated from the College of Agriculture in 1908, has since been one of the outstanding farm owners and managers of his community and is quite an authority on farming problems.

Incidentally for some time he was cashier of the Exchange Bank at St. Joseph, Illinois, and was universally well liked by his patrons.

Has been a resident of Champaign County all of his life.

He is a Thirty-second degree Mason. A Shriner, Eastern Star, a member of Knights of Pythias and Modern Woodmen of America.

Has never held public office except school trustee; is Secretary of St. Joseph Community High School Board of Education.

As a man his character and habits are above reproach in every way. He is true to his friends, and his past record shows he is not afraid to fight for the right, and will stand by his convictions regardless of cost.

In asking the support of the Republican voters in the April 10th primary, for the office of State Representative Mr. Black wishes to state briefly his position on a few important matters that have come to his attention as a farmer, banker and taxpayer.

He is opposed to the re-districting of the State as proposed by Chicago. Will heartily support all legislation tending to equalize and reduce taxes; economy in expenditure of State money. Extension of good road system. In favor of all legislation tending toward equalization of Agriculture and against unfair legislation that strikes the entire labor movement.

If elected to the State Legislature he will endeavor always to go into the merits of any proposed legislation before voting and when he votes it will be in favor of the people whom he represents.

Important Announcement to every owner of a Model T Ford

ON MAY 25, 1927, when Henry Ford first announced his plans for making a new car, he announced also that he would continue to make parts for the Model T Ford. He said:

"The Model T Ford car was a pioneer. It blazed the way for the motor industry and started the movement for good roads everywhere. It broke down the barriers of distance in rural sections, brought people in these sections closer together, and placed education within the reach of everyone. We are still proud of the Model T Ford. If we were not, we would not have continued to make it so long."

For twenty years, the Model T Ford led the automobile industry and it still serves more people than any other automobile. Over one-third of all the automobiles in use today are Model T Fords — an indication of the sturdy worth of the car and its value to people in all walks of life the world over.

The Ford Motor Company will continue to make replacement parts for these cars "until the last Model T is off the road." That is a part of Ford service. That is what Henry Ford meant when he said: "We believe that when a man buys one of our cars we should keep it running for him as long as we can and at the lowest up-keep cost."

Because of this policy a considerable part of the Ford manufacturing plants is given over to the making of parts for the Model T Ford. These replacement parts are made of the same material and in the same way as those from which your car was originally assembled.

Make it a point, therefore, to see the nearest Ford dealer and have him look over your Model T Ford. You may find that a very small expenditure will enable you to get thousands of miles of additional service, and at the same time protect the money you have invested in your car.

Homer D. Howard For Representative

Announcing his support of farm relief, tax reduction, and cooperation with the highway department of the state for more hard roads in this district, Homer D. Howard, 311 South State St., Champaign, has filed his petition for the Republican nomination for representative from the 24th congressional district, which includes Champaign, Piatt, and Moultrie counties.

Mr. Howard, who is a locomotive engineer on the Illinois Central railroad operating on the Panama Limited, and who will be retired in June after 46 years of efficient service, was born and reared on a farm near LeRoy. Entering the University in 1879, after an ordinary grade, high, and normal school education, Mr. Howard graduated with the class of '83.

Serving at the present time as commissioner of fire and police in the city, Mr. Howard has been for 14 years an alderman and for nine years a member of the board of education. For 20 years he has been a member of the Republican central county committee, during one term of which he served as treasurer, and for 10 years chairman of the Republican township central committee, which includes the city of Champaign.

Besides being a member of the Alumni association of the University, Mr. Howard is a Mason, a member of the Knights Templars and Eastern Star, and an honorary member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

New Flood Demon Stalks Thru Valley

San Francisco, March 27.—Flood waters roared thru northern and central California and western Nevada with renewed violence today.

Hundreds of persons were homeless in California where two deaths were attributed to floods and property damage was estimated at upwards of $500,000. The city of Reno also was threatened with further inundation.

Continuous rains over the northern portion of the state, high winds, snow flurries at Reno and in the Sierra range near there aggravated the situation.

At midnight the town of Biggs was under 14 inches of water when the flood gates of the Sutter Butte Canal System were opened to save that water way from destruction.

At Oroville, 25 miles away, 50 families were rendered homeless when the Feather river went over its banks flooding the west end of that community.

Compromise

Jury Foreman: Gents, what are we going to do with this bird? Half of ye want to hang him, and half of ye want to send him up for life.

Murphy: Well, let's compromise by sending him up for 25 years an' then hanging him.

Who is there, cried the impassioned orator, who will lift a voice against the truth of my statement?

Just then a donkey on the outskirts of the crowd gave vent to one of the piercing "hee-haws" of the tribe. The laugh was on the orator for the moment; but, assuming an air of triumph, he lifted his voice above the din to say: I knew nobody but a jackass would try it.

JESUS THE SUFFERING MESSIAH

Henry M. Dunlap
Republican Candidate For Re-nomination To Senate. Primary April 10, 1928.

The Legislative Voters League, organized to report on the record made by members of the Legislature, for the information of the voters, has this to say of our senator:

"Henry M. Dunlap, senator; farmer, Savoy. Has served for eight terms and has made a remarkably fine record of usefulness as a legislator; is the dean of the Senate and is conceded to know more about its rules and procedure than any other senator; through the years he has shown himself to be able, conscientious and independent, and has served the people of Illinois faithfully."

No New Paper Bills To Be Issued In 1928

Those little one dollar bills which were to have been issued early this year by the treasury department and then advanced to next fall, will not appear at all this year, according to word received here by bankers.

The treasury department in sending out the announcement said that protests of bankers had something to do with the decision to delay printing of the bills until January 1 next year. But the chief delay was caused by mechanical trouble in the engraving and printing department of the bureau rather than the bank protests. The new bills when they appear will be approximately one-third smaller than the present size.

Rin-Tin-Tin Fails To Protect Home

From his mistress, Mrs. Lee Duncan, came a frantic phone call to the police last night that a burglar invaded her kitchen.

"Tell that dog of yours to hold him," the desk sergeant shouted back over the phone. "We'll come out and get him." "It's too late," the woman answered. "Besides, Rin-Tin-Tin is sound asleep in the backyard."

Two Farmers Burn To Death In Trash Fires

Springfield, Ill., March 24.—Two central Illinois farmers have lost their lives in fires started in an effort to clean their farms of rubbish.

William Greer, 55, farmer of Mt. Auburn, was burned to death yesterday while burning off a corn field.

The body of William Barnett, of near Jerseyville, was found on a neighbor's farm, badly charred. The fire had apparently swept to the neighboring land, and Barnett burned to death in an effort to check it.

LESSON TEXT—Mark 8:27-38.
GOLDEN TEXT—Whoever will come after Me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow Me.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus the Great Hero.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Heroism of Jesus.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Cost of Being Loyal to Christ.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus Interprets His Messiahship.

I. Peter's Confession of Christ (vv. 27-30).
Two questions of Jesus provoked this confession. 1. "Who do men say that I am?" (vv. 27, 28). This question referred to the opinions of the people regarding Jesus. Some believed Him to be John, the Baptist, some Elijah, and some, one of the prophets. They all recognized Him to be a teacher or prophet with more than human authority and power. Jesus was not content with this acknowledgment. Had He been satisfied with this He would not have been molested in Jerusalem, for the Jews willingly acknowledged Him as much more than a human teacher. 2. "Who say ye that I am?" (vv. 29, 30). Jesus persistently claimed to be the God man, the very Son of God incarnate. He wanted the personal opinion of the disciples concerning Himself.

II. Jesus' Teaching Concerning the Cross (vv. 31-33).
He charged the disciples not to make public His Messiahship as that would precipitate the crisis. The disciples had much need of instruction yet, to prepare them for the crucial hour of the cross.

1. What He taught (v. 31).
(1) "The Son of Man must suffer many things." He suffered physical weariness and hunger, ridicule and contempt and even misunderstanding.
(2) "Be rejected of the elders, chief priests and scribes." These were the nation's official representatives, the very ones who should have known and received Christ and recommended His reception on the part of the nation. Truly He came to His own and His own received Him not (John 1:11).
(3) "Be killed." This announcement was startling to the disciples. They had not yet come to realize that redemption was to be accomplished through the passion and the cross.
(4) "Rise again." Though this was utterly incomprehensible to the disciples, He showed them that this would be the glorious issue of His death.

2. How the disciples received His teaching (v. 32).
So unwelcome was His teaching touching the cross that Peter, the spokesman of the disciples, rebuked Him. Peter later saw through this darkness the light of glory on the hilltops beyond (1 Pet. 1:3, 4).

3. Jesus rebukes Peter (v. 33). He told Peter plainly that his attitude was due to his being under the influence of the devil.

III. Jesus Going to Jerusalem to Die (Mark 10:32-34).
Jesus went to Jerusalem with the consciousness of the awful tragedy of the cross before Him; the treachery of Judas, the fiery persecutions of the priests, the unjust judgment, the delivery to Pontius Pilate, the mocking, the scourging, the crown of thorns, the cross between malefactors, the nails and the spear all were spread before Him. He moved on to His goal, not by external necessity but a fixed purpose. He had not only come "to minister but to give His life a ransom for many." The joyous outlook of the victory which was to be accomplished through the shedding of His blood led Him forward (Heb. 12:2).

IV. The Cost of Discipleship (Mark 8:34).
The law of the Christian life is suffering. To follow Christ means to turn one's back upon the world. To repudiate the world means to incur the hatred of the world; to be Christians means to share Christ's suffering.

1. There must be denial of self (v. 34). There is a wide difference between self-denial and denial of self. All people practice self-denial, but only Christians deny self.

2. The cross must be taken up (v. 34). This means the suffering and shame which lie in the pathway of loyalty to God. To live the godly life means suffering (II Tim. 3:12).

3. Christ must be followed (v. 34). This means to have the mind of Christ (Phil. 2:5) and to perform the service of Christ. The blessed issue of following Christ is a life of freedom here and now, and eternal life hereafter.

Must Cry Unto God

It is not enough for the soul to be in need; the soul must also cry unto God. Need alone is the begetter of despair, but need with crying is the birthplace of prayer. The very distresses of the soul is in are the birth-throes of such prayer.—James H. McConkey.

Sin Is No More

Whenever a man gets to the blood of Jesus Christ he is done with the sin question.—B. E. King.

Tax Survey Figures

Are Now Available

The complete figures of the Farm Bureau and Illinois Agricultural Association tax summary have been made available to every farmer in Champaign County through the Farm Bureau members and the 22 Farm Bureau units in the county, according to advice received from the Farm Bureau office. These have been published in their semi-monthly bulletin and mailed each member. Additional copies have been sent each unit for distribution generally.

This was done so that rural residents could study the figures and evidence directly themselves and draw their own conclusions of the exact situation in regard to equalization of taxes in Champaign County.

Two of the outstanding facts in this summary show that sales of farm lands to the amount of $1,002,028, averaging $214.10 an acre, during the fifteen months period included in the summary, were assessed on the tax books at $347,740. Comparable figures for the city of Champaign show that property that actually sold for $480,365 was only assessed for $124,530. In the city of Urbana, properties that sold for $246,245 were assessed for $73,470.

A fact of special interest to the smaller towns and villages in this county shows that all the property in these villages sold for $78,205 and was assessed on the tax-books for $30,695. The Farm Bureau summary shows, therefore, that the villages of the county are assessed at a rate that is absolutely unequal when compared with the level of assessment in the cities of Champaign and Urbana. The villages and the farmers should be absolutely in accord in this reassessment problem.

Leon Struck purchased a registered Percheron mare at the Smoot sale near Fairmount recently.

We would be pleased to receive from the farmers a report on the good gains made on any livestock or poultry.

To the Voters of the Twenty-fourth Senatorial District

I am a candidate for nomination for Representative in the General Assembly on the Republican ticket. In the past I have tried to act in the interest of the district and the State. I have not been affected by partisan or factional influence. I have never had any feeling of personal animosity toward any individual. I have cooperated when I could conscientiously and consistently do so. When I could not agree with the Governor or anyone else I have disagreed and have tried to do so in a dignified way.

I alone am responsible for my acts. I have never been influenced by promises or threats or fear of reprisals. I have retained the right to cast my vote and

Farm Bureau Baseball Season Opens May 29

Baseball was in the air at the meeting of the Illinois Farm Bureau Baseball League at Peoria on March 16. Champaign County will play in one of the seven districts in the state with Logan, DeWitt, McLean, and Piatt as its district competitors.

Farmers Oppose Freight Rate Increase

The farmers of the state are fighting a western freight rate increase through the Legal Department of the I. A. A. The railroads are basing their request for an increase in freight rates on the contention that the farm economic depression has passed. The figures obtained from the farm account work and the cost account work that Champaign County farmers have assembled through the Farm Bureau will be used as evidence in defense of the farmers cause.

If all the dogs in the average village were sold at the price of good lambs, the animals would easily pay the tax. Why not keep a lamb instead of a dog?

The remarkable weather conditions of the past few weeks have given the farmers of this section the earliest start in years on their spring crops.

It will soon be time to spray and trim your trees, and it certainly pays to give your orchard proper attention, as one good apple tree will produce more than the average acre of corn.

Why don't somebody start a cheese factory in this community? We have the milk cows and the feed to feed them. Dairy products are profitable, yet the United States does not produce enough for its own use.

use my influence as my conscience and judgment dictated. I have kept my vote in my own hands, I have never been a rubber stamp. I have always believed that it was this kind of representation that the people of this district wanted. If I am correct and my past record meets your approval I shall be grateful for votes as an expression of your confidence in me. If nominated and re-elected, I shall be glad to give my best effort in your service on the basis outlined in this statement. I can make no other promises or pledges than to serve the district and State according to what I believe to be the will of the people and in their best interest, independent of all outside influences.
