Good Bank Credit

Credit is one of the most valuable things in business if properly used. Few people realize its value until they lose it. There are many things you can do to keep your credit good. Spend less than you earn. Do not make investments which cause you to go too heavily in debt. Keep a reasonable cash balance in the bank. Pay notes promptly when due or make arrangements for renewal before hand. Pay your interest promptly. Furnish your banker with regular financial statements showing just where you stand.

Power Maintained by Force-Feed Lubrication

Force-feed lubrication, an exclusive Hart-Parr feature, is one big reason why these famous tractors perform better and last longer. Fresh oil, constantly pumped under heavy pressure to every part of the motor enables this tractor to maintain an amazing surge of power, and also accounts for the long life of every Hart-Parr, for force-feed lubrication means wearless parts. We are now showing the improved 1928 line equipped with 3 forward speeds, from 2 1/4 to 4 1/4 miles per hour. Hart-Parr tractors are built for small, medium, and large farms. Ask us for a demonstration.

Penfield Sleep Walker Injured Sunday Night

Penfield, Ill., Aug. 15.—The old theory that sleep walkers will not injure themselves if they are not disturbed has been exploded.

Last Sunday night at the home of Shelby Gritten, in this village Kenneth Starns walked in his sleep and as a result is carrying one of his arms in a sling and nursing a number of bruises. Starns' room was on the second floor of the Gritten residence. He walked thru an open window onto a porch roof and then walked off the roof, falling to the concrete sidewalk below. His arm was fractured and he suffered a number of severe bruises.

Barn And Contents Destroyed Near Newman

Newman, Ill., Aug. 14.—A large barn on the A. C. McIntyre farm near here was almost completely destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon while threshing operations were underway at the farm.

It is believed that straw blown into the barn became ignited when the separator on the threshing machine became overheated.

Mr. McIntyre was painfully burned about the arms in attempting to put out the blaze.

A quantity of oats, baled hay and baled straw was also destroyed. There was no live stock in the building.

Card of Appreciation

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to the Broadlands Fire Department for the quick and effective work they did at our fire last Tuesday afternoon.

Daughter of John Garrett Drowns In Lake Michigan

Grace Garrett, 19, of Chicago, a daughter of John Garrett of Broadlands, was drowned in Lake Michigan on Thursday evening of last week. The body was taken from the lake at the foot of Leland avenue, Sunday morning. Miss Garrett had gone to the beach on Thursday evening with John McMahon, 18. When Mc Mahon prepared to leave he missed her but believed she had returned home before him.

The body was brought to Villa Grove, former home of the deceased, on Tuesday for burial.

Besides the father she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Edgar McKenzie of Chicago, with whom she had been making her home; and two brothers, Kelly of Chicago and Paul of Champaign.

Siamese Twins May Be Severed

New York, Aug. 10.—On a wide bed in West Park hospital today Mary and Margaret Gibb, the 17-year-old "Siamese twins" awaited the report of a scientific observation which may result in an operation to free them from each other.

Dr. Francis P. Weston, the surgeon who has undertaken this unusual case, declined to confirm reports from the twins' hometown, Holyoke, Mass., that they were seeking to be cut apart so that one of them, Margaret, might marry.

"I do not care to comment extensively," Dr. Weston said. "It is a delicate matter and does not concern the public. The girls are joined together and it may be possible to separate them. That is all I can say."

The Gibb twins received wide publicity about a year ago when one of them developed a severe cold, thus endangering the life of her sister. At that time it was said that Mary and Margaret had the same blood system, that their emotions were parallel and that when both were hungry food for one would destroy the other's appetite. Save for the union at the base of the spine, however, they have separate and normal organs.

Physicians regard an operation to separate them as extremely dangerous in view of the fact that they have a common circulatory system.

'Shooting Stars' Are Seen Sunday

Vigilance of careful observers were rewarded early Sunday morning by an interesting display of 'shooting stars' as the earth passed through the meteoric fragments of a 'lost comet.' The sky was remarkably clear and brilliant.

At no time was there a shower of stars but individual fragments were seen in large numbers, at intervals ranging from 10 seconds to two or three minutes. Most of them were in the north and directly overhead. They were visible only for a second and unless one watched very carefully, he scarcely would have noticed the show in the sky. It was by no means as striking as the recent display of northern lights. The display was at its best about 2 a. m.

Sept. 8 is day of calf show.

M. E. Sunday School Basket Dinner Sunday

Please let the Superintendent know at once, that he may complete arrangements for the trip.

Makes Good Showing

Falling Meteor Just Misses Auto In Street

Newark, N. J., Aug. 14.—A falling meteor missed a moving auto by a few feet today and made a noise like booming cannon as it crashed into the pavement of Main street here.

Patrolman William Artlin said he had watched the flaming star dropping from the west, twisting and turning. The driver of the imperilled automobile apparently was aware of his danger, the officer said, for he put on speed to escape the meteor.

Health Grams

Every other person that you meet has some sort of physical defect or ailment that is serious enough to warrant medical attention. This at least was found to be the case with a half million people examined during fifteen years by the Life Extension Institute in New York. Most of these people had the idea that they were in good health and had no need of a doctor's advice.

Only fifteen per cent of the whole half million people had what is ordinarily regarded as serious disorders. All the rest had defects usually looked upon as minor.

The fifteen per cent found with serious disorders are more apt to get the necessary corrective work done than the 35 per cent who were less seriously defective. At the same time the little defect is more insidious than the big one and is likely to cause trouble later on.

Small physical defects make no perceptible difference in a day's work or a short period of strenuous exercise. But the little defect at 30 or 35 is likely to be a slice of a decade or so off the life span.

Diseased tonsils in a six year old won't ordinarily result in death and the glow of health at 20 or 25 may belie the assertion of permanent damage. Just the same a pair of diseased tonsils leave permanent scars that may manifest themselves in heart trouble at 40 or 50.

A young fellow can abuse his body with an unbalanced diet and apparently get away with it but he has to pay later on with bad teeth, gland disorders, digestive disturbances and even with such serious ailments as tuberculosis and possibly cancer.

Army aviators are required to pass a rigid physical examination twice a year. If this requirement is necessary to the safety of air travel it cannot help being beneficial to comfort and happy living on the earth. Correcting a little defect in childhood or youth may mean the addition of ten or twenty years to the evening side of life.

VARIOUS PLANS TO STEAL TIME AND MONEY FROM THE UNWARY

Bankers Association Official Tells How Young People Are Fleeced in "Hokum Pokum" Movie Schemes—The Investor Loses Savings by Listening to Messrs. Slick and Smooth.

By W. R. MOREHOUSE
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association

THE fabulous salaries paid stars of the first magnitude, and the publicity of the "movies" naturally create longing in the breasts of thousands of our young Americans to get into motion pictures. Because so many are ready to leave home, and risk everything on a fling at motion pictures, unscrupulous persons have devised ways of fleecing these ambitious young people out of their savings. "Hokum-pokum" schemes of various kinds are used with great success. Fake courses in the art of acting before the camera, fake courses on how to make-up, fake registration gags and screen tests, are among the schemes used to separate these thousands of young people from their cash.

W. R. MOREHOUSE

The pilgrimage to the motion pictures centers by thousands of novices usually ends disastrously for the pilgrims. Naturally a few are successful, but only a very, very few, the ninety and nine meeting with disappointment. The truth is, the number of persons who seek to "break into" the movies exceed the number of available positions by one hundred to one, while in the realm of popular stars it is thousands to one.

Don't be misled by the promises of promoters of hokum-pokum schemes that there is room for all, because this last year over 100,000 young people knocked at the door for admission and were turned away because there was no room on the inside for them. Consult your banker or address the National Better Business Bureau, New York City, for information or advice regarding any enterprise that seeks to gain possession of your money. They will give disinterested counsel before it is too late.

Also let every investor approached by either Mr. Slick or Mr. Smooth with a proposition yielding big dividends remember that such assurances always spell financial danger ahead. To every investor who is inexperienced in making investments, in other words perhaps just a little green and perhaps a little too easy, any offer coming from this source should be like a red flag warning to come to a complete stop.

Such investments as Mr. Slick or Mr. Smooth offer are too good to be true and therefore they are not true. Slick, Smooth and Company are not miracle workers although from their sales talk you would infer that they could make you rich as if by magic. No, they are not miracle workers—just slick and smooth.

The Estate Gag

Twenty-four "estates" representing 5 1/2 billions of dollars have been used as bait to interest a lot of savers and finally bleed them of their savings. The scheme is built around a supposed search for the heirs to certain phantom estates. At all costs these heirs must be found. Every person who can by any hook or crook, figure it out that he is in anyway related to the deceased are urged by some shyster lawyer or genealogist to send in their names and their life history.

Soon they receive glad tidings telling them that their family tree can be traced back to the deceased, in fact, they are a direct descendant and an heir at law.

Like fake raffles everybody who responds to the search is found to be a winner—in other words an "heir." Here is where the rainbow chaser gets trimmed. Before his claim to the mythical thousands can be pressed so as to insure success a demand is made on him to advance attorney's fees and pay the expense of tracing through his genealogy.

Not surmising that he is being trapped and seeing only the big inheritance which he is led to believe he will soon receive, he draws the amount necessary from his savings account and sends it on, not knowing he is actually throwing it away. But as is, for like thousands and thousands of other rainbow chasers, he parts with it for the last time.

So-called estate schemes which have produced thousands of "heirs" and at a heavy loss to them have been worked under the following names:

A Long Way Off

A group of visitors were going through the county jail, and a negro trusty was called to open doors for them.

How do you like it here, one of the women asked.

Papa Always Fails

A certain Sunday school class in a church in Indianapolis was studying the story of Jesus turning water into wine.

After considerable discussion on the subject, a child who appeared to be very interested remarked, Why, every time my daddy makes wine it turns to vinegar.

Sour Notes

The young married couple were having a disagreement while awaiting lunch at a modest eating house. The woman was grumbling because they were unable to afford the luxurious restaurants which had been a feature of their honeymoon.

You can't have a brass band everywhere you go, said the man crossly.

Oh, yes, I can, snapped his wife I've got it with me now—on my finger.

World Travel Made Easy for Scholars

Round the world in five minutes! Across oceans, rivers, prairies, mountains; on the way, cities, temples and cathedrals to be visited. All can be done in the grounds of the Chateau de Bures, a school near Paris. The "world" occupies sixteen acres and its essential parts are of real earth and the oceans and rivers of real water. The Atlantic ocean is three feet deep.

A crossing from Paris to New York can be made in a few seconds on a tiny steamship. Once aboard the ship the schoolboy becomes explorer. From New York he sails to the West Indies, down the coast of South America, round Cape Horn and across the Pacific. A journey eastwards from Paris takes him overland through Europe. Like Gulliver in Lilliput, he can stride over mountain ranges and rivers, pay a passing visit to Australia, and, by a series of hops, skips and jumps over the South Sea Islands, reach Siberia, China or India. A flying leap over the Alps, a visit to Leningrad or Cannes and in a minute or two he is back again on the shores of the Atlantic.

In addition to models of cities and temples, an attempt has been made to create the atmosphere of the East. A tree marks the entrance to a sunken garden "way down east." A flight of steps leads to temples, statues, and symbols of Buddhism.

Barber Probably Is Still Looking It Up

Shakespeare and Chestina, a colored cook in a North side home, had one thing in common, a wide scope of language. The difference was that when the English bard used one of the thousands of words in his vocabulary he had a slight knowledge of its denotation; when Chestina used a word she did so because it sounded well, and impressed both herself and others with her learning.

One day she overheard the "missus" talking with a friend. At one point in the conversation, one of them used the term "indecorous," giving it the preferred pronunciation with the accent on the third syllable. Chestina promptly appropriated it to her own use.

The next day she was telling the "missus" about her previous night's engagement with the new barber around the corner, who, it seems, had tried to entertain her with a story slightly "off color."

"Well, what did you say to him? Did you get angry?" the amused employer asked.

"What I mean, I got mad! And what's more, I told him he sure was indechoir," she answered.—Indianapolis News.

VOICE AND PICTURES NOW SYNCHRONIZE

New Apparatus Made Available for Schools, Churches and Motion Picture Theatres.

Engineers are now at work on a simplified photophone device suitable for use in the home, which will make it possible, if it is stated, to reproduce "talking movies" in the home very much as the ordinary radio broadcast programs are now being received in more than eight million homes. This announcement was made by General James G. Harbord, President of the Gen. J. G. Harbord Radio Corporation of America, at the formation of a new company to be known as "R. C. A. Photophone, Incorporated."

In discussing the formation of the new company, General Harbord pointed out that although the Radio Corporation, General Electric and Westinghouse had been preparing for several years to market apparatus synchronizing voice and music with motion pictures, public introduction of the apparatus had been delayed until the engineers had achieved "complete practicability" so that it would be as simple to operate as a radio set, and, at the same time, highly perfected.

"The Photophone," said General Harbord "is both simple and practical. The essential principle is the recording of pictures and sound on one film. While various methods have been devised for 'talking movies,' experience has shown that the most practical is that of recording pictures and sound on the same film. This is the method employed by the Photophone. It is now possible to photograph the President of the United States—voice as well as action—and to distribute films reproducing the event throughout the country.

Uses and Operation
"Easily operated reproducing apparatus for use in theatres, schools and churches will be nationally available. An entire opera, musical comedy or drama can be electrically recorded on the film, just as it is seen and heard, and then reproduced from the same film. Whatever can be seen or heard, whether it is a nightingale singing or an army in battle, can now be recorded and reproduced for both the eye and the ear. Moving picture dramas with complete orchestral accompaniment, or with music and speech, will be available for nation-wide use.

"Standard films without the sound can be used without any change in the machine. The only thing the operator has to do is to close one switch when he is projecting pictures with sound, and open it when he does not want the sound. Any type of 'talking film' can be used in the machine. The type of sound reproducer to be used will vary with the size of the room in which the pictures are to be shown. The reproducer embodies some remarkable new developments in acoustics.

"Sight and hearing have been the two avenues of approach to the human mind for education, religion and entertainment. Now one medium combines the appeal to sight and hearing simultaneously, with universal accessibility and availability. The complete practicability of the new art has already been demonstrated, and there remained only the need for an intelligent and serviceable system of manufacture and distribution.

"One can only guess at the many varied uses of this invention as an instrument for the spread of knowledge, for bringing the people of the world closer together, and for the advancement of civilization."
