Murder Charges Placed Against Two Youths in Orville Reed Slaying

Hays, Kan.—First degree murder charges have been filed against Richard Bahl, 16, and Ben Jacobs, 18, in connection with the fatal shooting early Friday morning, Dec. 29th, at the Blue Lantern cafe of Orville M. Reed, manager of the cafe, A. J. Wiles, county attorney, said.

Wiles and Peter EeBoer, sheriff, returned from Price, Utah, bringing with them the two Hays youths, and evidence which they are convinced has cleared up the mystery which for several days surrounded the slaying of Reed, who the officers say, was killed in an attempted hold-up at the cafe of which he was in charge.

The county attorney has confirmed a report received from S. M. Bliss, sheriff at Price, Utah, that Jacobs had signed a confession regarding the affair. Jacobs, however, according to Wiles, says the shots were fired by Bahl. Wiles declined to make public the contents of the statement.

Jacobs and Bahl were taken into custody in Price in possession of a Buick sedan belonging to A. D. Hemphill, of Hays, stolen Thursday night. S. M. Bliss, sheriff at Price, became suspicious when it came to his notice that two boys so young were in possession of the large car and he took them into custody to investigate. He found in the car two revolvers, one a .38 calibre and the other a .32 calibre weapon. According to Wiles, the boys told fellow prisoners in the jail they had shot a man. Bliss then communicated with the Hays officers.

Reed was shot with a .38 calibre revolver, the county attorney said, and he is satisfied one of the weapons found in possession of the Hays youths is the one with which the shooting was done.

A revolver which Reed borrowed to keep with him as he watched the cafe for burglars, and which was missing after his slaying, was sold by Bahl to a man named B. W. Fuller in Salida, Colo., for $2, the county attorney said.

Wiles said today he believes Reed attempted to reach for the gun he had borrowed and was shot in the side first, and then in the head as he fell to his hands and knees near the counter of the cafe.

Young Bahl is the son of Joseph Bahl of Hays and has been a student at St. Joseph's College here. Jacobs is the son of Frank P. Jacobs, Hays, and has attended the William Picken school. Neither boy, as far as can be learned, has ever been in trouble before.

Eleven Kinds of Money

When we are fortunate enough to get hold of some of Uncle Sam's coin of the realm we seldom scrutinize it closely, because we know that for practical purposes one dollar is as good as another.

In fact, the average citizen is probably unaware that there are 11 distinct kinds of United States money, but such is the case. These include federal reserve notes, national bank notes, silver certificates, gold coin, United States notes, subsidiary silver, gold certificates, federal reserve bank notes, minor coin, silver dollars and treasury notes.

At present the total amount of United States money in circulation is approximately $5,743,000,000, of which more than one-half is in federal reserve notes. Silver coins constitute a relatively small portion of the money in circulation, but this will be considerably increased under the recent proclamation of President Roosevelt, which provides for the coinage of a limited additional amount.

About Boy Babies

Researchers and statisticians are digging into everything imaginable nowadays, figuring out the possibilities of this and that. Dr. A. J. Lotka, a specialist in life insurance statistics, has been studying the prevalence of boy babies, and these are some of his conclusions:

When a boy baby is born he has two chances out of three to grow up and become a father. He has even chances to become the father of a son, but only one chance in four to become the father of two sons.

Many other more or less interesting conclusions with respect to the perpetuation of a family name are set forth by Dr. Lotka, who finally estimates that in about nine cases out of ten the name will eventually die out.

He fails, however, to state whether he thinks this is a fortunate thing for the human race. We venture the suggestion that in most cases it probably is.

Silver as Money

The Administration's recent re-coinization of silver is a definite step toward solving problems that have been talked about for generations. It means immediate benefits to workers, investors and the public. This is especially true of the west, where American silver mines are located. The mining depression in many states has been more severe than the general depression. Thousands of jobs have been lost, a vast amount of purchasing power has disappeared, and one of the most important sources of governmental revenue has dried up. Revival of silver will help this condition.

As for the economic side of the move and its influence on monetary matters, only experience can supply the answer. But it has long been the opinion of many able economists and industrial leaders that, in this complicated modern world, gold is not enough. Proof of this is in the fact that cheap silver has destroyed the purchasing power of half the world's population, and has come close to destroying foreign trade.

The move, it is believed, will be followed by action in other countries.

Starting a Business

Business failures are due to many causes, including lack of experience, bad management, insufficient capital, ineptitude for business and others.

The most common reason for failure, however, is the starting of a business in a field that can not reasonably be expected to support it, or in one that is largely overcrowded.

In a pamphlet issued by the Department of Commerce this fact is pointed out and a thorough survey of the prospective field is recommended before embarking upon a new enterprise. It says: "In planning to enter a new field, the retailer may find by careful analysis, that his prospective market does not reflect such favorable circumstances as a cursory examination appeared to reveal. He may be saved from embarking upon the enterprise, thus preventing subsequent failure and much loss to society of wasted effort and capital."

The time when anybody could start any kind of a business and make it a success is past, if, in fact such time ever was. Modern business is highly competitive and requires better training than ever before. While optimism in moderation is a desirable trait, carried to the extreme it has perhaps wrecked more business ventures than any other one mistake.

A Japanese Prince

Great rejoicing throughout Japan followed the birth of a son to the emperor and empress a few days ago, which gave the island empire an heir to the throne for which the country had prayed.

The new prince is the fifth child of the young royal couple, the four others, of whom three are living, being girls. In Japan succession to the throne is confined to the male line, and in the absence of a crown prince the heir-apparent has been the emperor's brother.

If the baby prince lives to succeed his father he will be the 124th emperor of the present dynasty, which claims continuous succession for 2,000 years. He may have to wait quite a while however, for his father, the present Emperor Hirohito, is only 32 years old.

Hirohito, born April 29, 1901, became regent in 1921 because of his father's ill health, and succeeded to the throne upon the latter's death in 1926. His coronation ceremonies, held in Kyoto during a five-day period in November, 1923, were most brilliant and attended by dignitaries from all over the world.

Because of Japan's aggressive policies in the far east, the empire is morally in bad repute among the nations just now. Many believe the Japanese attitude may bring on another major war. The little crown prince, happily for him, does not know what a turbulent world he has been born into.

The First Congress

The first United States Congress was to open on March 4, 1789, but on that day only 21 members, eight Senators and 13 Representatives, not a quorum for either house.

Day after day, week after week the members present met in Federal hall, which had been fitted up for their accommodation. But it was not until the first day of April that any business could be transacted, because a quorum was lacking. On that day, 30 members of the House having answered to their names, the body was organized and General Frederick Muhlenberg was chosen as speaker.

The senate did not get down to business until April 6, when a quorum was finally mustered. A temporary presiding officer, whose sole duty it was to open and count the electoral votes, was elected. George Washington had the vote of every elector, which was generally known before hand, for President. John Adams was elected Vice-President, although he did not get a majority of the whole number of electors appointed. It was two weeks before General Washington could be apprised of his election and reach the seat of government.

It is difficult to realize in this day, when Senators and Representatives arrive by airplane, train and motor, what an achievement a journey to the capital was in the days of the first United States Congress.

Religion of Students

Religious belief of the University of Illinois students are expressed by their affiliation with 36 different denominations, figures released by Registrar G. P. Tuttle, reveal.

The Methodist church leads the preference of Illini students as expressed by 1,929. The Presbyterian faith comes second with 1,155; the Catholics with 1,037; Jews, 890; Christians, 460; Lutheran, 444; Baptist, 415; Congregational, 368; Episcopal, 286; Christian Science, 187 and Evangelical, 130.

Among other religious affiliations of students, expressed by them are: United Brethren, Unitarian, Universalist, Community, Greek Orthodox, Quaker, Disciples of Christ, Reformed Union, African Methodist, Free Methodist, Nazarene, Latter Day Saints, Swedish Mission, Church of the Brethren and Church of God.

Illinois Sales Tax

Returns 13 Millions

Springfield.—The Illinois state tax of 2 per cent on gross receipts of retail sales has netted the state approximately 13 million dollars for the first five months with heavy holiday retail sales in December expected to bring the total to close to 17 million dollars.

The tax was placed in operation last July 1 and expires July 1, 1935. Collections for the first six months of its operation was to aid unemployed in the state. Collections for this year and the first six months of next year wipes out the state property tax rate.

Will Mount Golden Eagle

Killed Near Villa Grove

Villa Grove, Ill., Jan. 13.—The golden eagle which was shot a few days ago near Bongard by Sam Fields, has been brought to the store of D. E. Overman for mounting. It is an enormous bird with a wing spread of seven feet. It stands three feet high and its talons have a spread of eight inches. Its color is a tawny brown with a lighter shade on the head and a golden tinge on the tail feathers.

The natural habitat of the golden eagle is in the Rocky Mountains or other mountainous regions. They are said to mate for life and if one of the pair is killed the other often wanders away. Also a scarcity of food will cause them to leave their natural abode, which may account for the bird's presence in this locality.

Include more electric equipment in your plans for 1934—reduce household expenses and see what modern living really is!

WHILE the cost of living is steadily advancing, the price of this service is going down. The cost of your service per kilowatt hour is now about 50 per cent of that paid in 1913, and most of the reduction has been made since 1923. Make every possible use of this modern servant to save time, energy and money. Remember, Electricity does the most—and costs the very least!

Aunt Nellie—Well, Bobby, did you see Santa Claus on Christmas?
Bobby—No, it was too dark to see him, but I heard what he said when he knocked his toe against the bedpost.

Judge—The police tell me that you and your wife had some words.
Prisoner—I had some but I didn't get a chance to use them.

Beauty*
OF YOUR SKIN

HAVE you looked at your complexion lately? Really looked at it? . . . Is it soft, smooth and clear? Or is it a little coarse, a little rough?

Winter days play havoc with your skin. Dry air and harsh winds exhaust its natural oils. Cause your face to become lined and old-looking.

Begin today to use OUTDOOR GIRL Face Powder. Its unique Olive Oil base gives the skin the moisture it needs to remain soft, firm and youthful. Yet OUTDOOR GIRL is fluffy-dry. It doesn't clog the pores.

In 7 smart shades to blend with any complexion. In large economy-sizes at leading drug and department stores—50c, 25c. Mail coupon for generous free samples.

U. S. Demands Rum Tax From Big Companies

Washington, January 13.—The government was in full cry for liquor revenues tonight under the policy that tax liability rests not only on "the little fellow, but on very large and powerful corporations as well."

The first points of attack were against the United States Industrial Alcohol Company and the United States Industrial Chemical Company, which the government contended owe taxes of $8,140,514.88 on 1,271,955 proof gallons of distilled spirits it claims were diverted for beverage purposes between Jan. 1, 1929, and Jan. 15, 1930.

Commenting on the case which was filed in the Federal Court for the District of Maryland at Baltimore, Attorney-General Cummings said there would be similar suits brought against others for large amounts in the near future.

Coincidentally, there came word from Guy T. Helvering of the Bureau of Internal Revenue that all persons holding distilled spirits, including alcohol, rectified spirits, or wine, must take inventories of such stocks and file them with revenue collectors within 30 days.

Pick 5,000 Farm Leaders in Corn-Hog Adjustment

Five thousand farm leaders representing virtually every rural community in Illinois have been selected and trained to take part in the corn-hog adjustment drive, the College of Agriculture of the University of Illinois announced Saturday.

These leaders will assist corn and hog growers to compile the data necessary for drawing contracts with the Federal Government, which will be designed to reduce the 1934 corn acreage 20 percent and hog production 25 percent from the 1932-33 average.

In return for the reductions, the farmers will share proportionately in the $350,000,000 in benefit payments to be made by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to cooperating farmers.
