Riverside's Bells

The largest carillon in the world is in the tower of the four million dollar Riverside Church in New York. It has 72 bells with a range of six octaves, the largest bell weighing 20 tons.

The carillon tower is 360 feet high, into which the bells were hoisted by electricity, using steel cables.

Three bells in the world are the carillon, but it has the deepas much as the Liberty Bellabout a ton.

Riverside Church, with its great carillon, is a notable addition to the many fine religious edifices of the nation's metropolis.

Railway Safety

In contrast with the ever increasing number of automobile deaths, fatal accidents to passengers on railways of the country have dwindled almost to the vanishing point, due to better equipment and the greater exercise of safety precautions.

Based on the experience of a leading transcontinental railroad, a passenger could travel around the world 2,400 times without an accident, and many times that far without being killed.

Safety measures have achieved even greater comparative results with respect to railroad employees. A reduction of 27 per cent in the number of casualties to railroad workers was attained in a recent year. It is figured that on an average one of these would be able to work 120 years for each accident that would happen to him.

At present, it is pointed out by a recent writer, railroading is safer than banking or any other he would be sitting in his own home or attending the movies.

BEANS Are Busy These Cold Days

TO you know beans? Do you I know, for instance, that there are two general types of canned pork and beans? One type is baked in ovens and called baked beans. In the other type the baking is omitted, and the beans are cooked in the can after it is sealed.

There are also two or three different types of sauce. Some beans are packed plain. Others with tomate sauce. Some are packed without pork as a so-called "vegetarian" product. Look at the labels and select the kind you like best.

Then there are canned lima beans. Podding raw limas is a hard, time-consuming job. Housewives want to avoid it. Even right in the raw lima bean season, many of them buy canned limas to save this labor.

For Winter Warmth

At this season of the year, this good nourishing vegetable is in great demand because it helps those who eat it to resist the cold. Of course if you know beans, you know how to prepare them for the table, but here's a recent recipe for lima beans that you may learned.

Stringless Cheese Sauce: Drain the contents of a No. 2 can stringless beans and spread out in a shallow baking dish. Make a white sauce of three tablespoons butter, two and a fourth tablespoons flour, twothirds cup liquor from the beans, two-thirds cup water and twothirds cup evaporated milk. Season to taste with salt and pepper, add two-thirds cup grated cheese and stir until melted. Pour over beans. Cover with buttered crumbs and brown in hot oven. Serves

Johnny Pullis a Fast One

By MATTIE RAMSON C McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

TOM HAMPTON was a derelict. He hadn't always been one. Time horses running on any track

"Hurry-up" Johnny Bender met him at New Orleans. Hurry-up used to jock for Tom and did a good job. They got to be great pals and then the friendship ripened into something akin to brotherhood. It was no wonder that a pang of remorse hit Hurryup when he met Tom in the midst of retrogression.

Tom's financial or social status had no bearing on Johnny's feelings. Tom was his friend first, last and always. They met and talked over old times; ran over the races of yesterday and towards the end Hurry-up gave vent to his feelings. "Listen, Tom, you can't go on like this. You're drinkin' yourself to the grave, old man. Pull yourself to-

"No use, kid. The game's played out 's far as I'm concerned."

"Don't talk like that," pleaded Hurry-up. "Why, it ain't like you to fold up, Tom. You ain't a quitter. Listen to me, will ya, Tom-"

"No use, Pal. I'm washed up, I tell ya. Why, even Phyllis give me the Phyllis was Tom's fiancee at one time. He thought the world of her, Hurry-up knew. No wonder Tom was going to the dogs.

"Where is she, Tom?" asked Johnny quietly.

"Don't know, kld. Last I heard she was runnin' around with Regan's gang. Nice outfit to be runnin' with."

"Aw, forget it, Tom. I got a hot one for the day. A hundred to one shot, Tom." Johnny was pleading with tears in his eyes. "Let's get together on it, Tom. It'll mean a lot to us." "Ya say it's good, kid. I got fifteen bucks left." "Gimme twelve and a half, Tom. I'll stick another twelve and a half on it. We'll go for the twenty-five." "O. K., Kid, sink it."

And that was all. Hurry-up bet the twenty-five on Gunshot's nose at a hundred to one. A hot tip right from his trainer, and a good one. After the race he came back to Tom with twentyfive hundrd good American iron men.

"Swell goin', Kid," was all the comment Tom made. "I'll be able to live a long time on twelve hundred and fifty bucks." "Tom," the Kid was getting harsh, "ya ain't goin' to live on this dough. Ya ain't goin' to get it to live on. This means a new start for you an' me, Old Man Crowley is got Stardust up for sale. A good three-year-old but about ten pounds overweight. He's asking two grand for 'im, Tom. Let's get 'im. I'll train 'im, I'll ride 'im, I'll sleep with 'im. It's a new deal for us. Whaddya say, Tom?" Only a moment did Tom hesitate. Then, sticking out his hand he said, "It's a go, Kid, a new deal and you're the dealer. Shuffle the deck and let's

So Stardust had a new owner, a new trainer and a new jockey. Day after day, Hurry-up worked him out, rubbed him, slept with him, and two days before the Mardigras Handicap reported to Tom that the horse could do a mile in faster time than anything in New Orleans.

That afternoon Tom dropped the name of the horse in the entry box for the big handicap. And that evening Hurry-up ran into Phyllis in front of the Traveler's hotel. "Hello, Hurry-up. Been tryin' to get in touch with ya." "Whaddya want with me? If it's Tom, leave 'im alone. He's gettin' along and don't need ya."

"Listen, Kid, I love Tom, whether ya believe it or not. But that don't matter. We'll talk about that later. Listen. Regan's figurin' on draggin' Stardust out and givin' 'im a two or three-mile run with a couple hundredpound sacks on his back. I wanted to warn ya not to leave the horse alone, that's all."

"Thanks, Phyl, but there ain't nothin' can do about it. So long."

The day of the big race Tom and Hurry-up had their last two hundred on Stardust to win. The horse was in at twenty to one.

Tom met Regan just before the race. Regan looked at him with a crooked smile, saying, "Ya got a good horse there, Hampton, ya oughta get down on 'im for plenty." But Tom made no reply. Maybe to Regan the horse looked fagged out, but Tom knew nothing of it, as Hurry-up didn't mention

When the Kid said that Stardust was the best miler at the track, he didn't exaggerate. At the mile pole the horse was way out in front, and though he didn't keep the same lead, he was too far ahead to be overtaken by Regan's entry, which ran second to Stardust. After the race was over and Tom and Hurry-up were congratulating themselves, Phyllis ran over to Tom with: "Tom, you old fool, you know darn well I never loved anyone but you. I was runnin' with Regan's crowd to try an' get the goods on them. But tell me," turning to Hurry-up, "Stardust didn't look like she was run around with two hundred-pound sacks. What did ya do to him?" "Didn't do nuthin' to 'im. Starlust wasn't there when Regan sent his man to sneak 'Im outta the stable. He took Oll Man Crowley's Sapphire who's a dead ringer for Stardust. I switched them two after Stardust's workout that afternoon."

BANKING SYSTEM SHOWS PROGRESS

State Bank Resources Grow More Than Three Billion Dollars in a Year

NATIONAL BANKS GAIN

American Bankers Association Gives Details of Banking Institutions and Notes Stronger Condition

NEW YORK .- Continued improvement in the condition of state chartered banking institutions, with an increase of more than three billion dollars in a year in total resources, is shown in a report just issued by the State Bank Division of the American Bankers Association.

The report was prepared by the division's Committee on State Bank Research from data furnished by state banking departments and parallels data issued by the Comptroller of the Currency for national banks which show similar improvements.

"The combined resources of 10,473 state supervised banks were $35,724. 723,000 as of December 31, 1935," the state bank report says. "Total deposits amounted to $30,526,920,000. Total loans and discounts stood at $12,430, 404,000 and total investments were $14,170.421,000."

A year previous, tables in the report show, there were 10,644 state supervised banks, with combined resources of $32,680,203,000, total deposits $27,297,959,000, loans and discounts $13,060,033,000 and investments $12,-582,325,000.

Classes of Institutions

Of the reporting state banking institutions on December 31, 1935, 82% were commercial banks, the report states, 9% trust companies, almost 9% stock and mutual savings banks and less than 1% were private banks. The report adds:

"The parallel upward movements of deposits and total invested funds of total state supervised banks during the years 1934 and 1935, after declines in these items in 1932 and 1933, are indications of definite steps toward recovery in banking.

"Based on figures assembled for total state supervised banks on resources and liabilities as of December 31, 1931 to 1935, it is noted: (1) that deposits in 1935 rose approximately 12 per cent over the previous year, as compared with an increase of about 9 per cent in 1934 over the year 1933, and declines of 7 per cent and 12 per cent in 1933 and 1932, respectively, from the pre ceding years of 1932 and 1931; and (2) that total invested funds increased by approximately 2 per cent in 1935 and also in 1934, while they had decreased by 9 per cent in 1933 and by 11 per cent

Analysis Shows Stronger Positions

In a survey and analysis of earnings and expenses of state banks doing a commercial business, it is brought out that in a majority of states they have increased their earning ability during 1935. On the basis of data covering 7,928 banks in 42 states, the report

"The most significant fact to be pointed out is that new profits of state banks-after deducting charge-offs on loans, investments, etc., and adding recoveries-were shown in 37 of the 42 states which reported in 1935, in comparison with net profits in only 11 of the 35 states reporting in 1934. Measured in terms of dollars per each $100 of invested funds, net profits in 1935 ranged between $2.40 and $.10 per $100. with 19 states showing profits of $1.00. or over, per $100; while in 1934 net profits did not exceed $1.20 per $100 and only three states showed profits of $1.00, or over." The report contains voluminous tables showing the resources and liabilities of all classes of state chartered institutions and detailed analyses of earnings and expenses by states and of insured commercial state banks grouped by size of banks.

Bankers Help Farmers

The conviction that 4-H Club work lays the foundation for sound citizenship and intelligent farming influenced a New York City bank executive to contribute $500 to the Agricultural Committee of the State Bankers Association, to further 4-H Club activities in the state. "I am convinced that the work is so worthy, and is being so well handled that it should interest those who believe in building sound citizenship, as well as intelligent farming for the future," he said.

Unusual prominence was given this past year to agricultural work by the Tennessee Bankers Association. The Agricultural Committee report reveals hearty cooperation between bankers and extension workers. "Key bankers and county agents have been in closer contact than ever before," it says. Georgia bankers have given both moral and financial backing to a Marketing Project sponsored by the Extension Service of the College of Agriculture, and activities the past year showed significant results. The phases of the Marketing program emphasized in the year's work are: The retail curb market; roadside marketing; miscel laneous marketing (suited to the lo cality); bartering (exchange of com modities or services with neighbors); standardized canned products for sale prepared in homes or canning centers
