Star Dust

- ★ Siren Again as Escape
 - ★ Picture Valentino's Life
 - ★ On the Screen Map
- By Virginia Vale

FOR the first time in a lifetime during which she has shown deep interest in motion pictures, the Dowager Queen Mary of Great Britain recently visited a motion picture studio. She was shown around his studios by Alexander Korda, and watched a group recording war songs for the picture, "Four Feathers." She also saw two reels of the picture.

Some years ago Myrna Loy rebelled against playing siren roles. She showed what she could do in the part of a delightful wife in "The Thin Man," and since then she's been playing delightful wives until she's sick unto death of them, too. So now she'll turn siren again, as "Lady Esketh," in "The Rains Came," the picture version of that very good book that everybody was reading a year or so ago. After that she'll play another young woman who is something less than perfect when she is co-starred with Spencer Tracy in "Sea of Grass," in a role that will have to be considerably rewritten if the censors are to approve of it.

A picture based on the life of Rudolph Valentino is to reach the screen at last. It is one of the five productions to be released through United Artists in 1939-40 by Edward Small Productions, Inc. And various old newspaper men are waiting for it with considerable interest, wondering how certain parts of that biography will be fixed up so that they are fit for the screen.

Two Texas cities, Fort Worth and San Antonio, took particular interest when two recent R. K. O. pictures were released. One was Douglas Corrigan's "The Flying Irishman," because it was in San Antonio that Corrigan worked as a newsboy to support his mother after his father deserted the family. Fort Worth wanted to see "The Story of Vernon Castle," with Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire, because it was at Benbrook field, Fort Worth, that Castle crashed his plane to avoid colliding in mid-air with another.

Incidentally, Mrs. Castle, who acted as technical director for the picture, is very much pleased with Astaire's portrayal of her famous husband. She wasn't so well satisfied with the agile Ginger's performance as his wife, because, as she said, she couldn't imagine herself as a blonde.

Casting Henry Fonda in a leading role in "The Story of Alexander Graham Bell" was what's known as a natural. Fonda himself was delighted. For when he was in high school he decided that his career in life would have something to do with the telephone business, if he had anything to say about it.

During his last two years in high school he worked as a "trouble shooter," and when he got his degree from the University of Minnesota his thesis was on communication systems, especially the telephone and telegraph. It was just by accident that he worked with a Little Theater group and finally landed in the movies.

The first radio program to arrange for an exhibit at the New York World's fair is Dave Elman's "Hobby Lobby." A special building is being erected, and thousands of specimens of hobbies will be on display. In addition, Elman has arranged for hobbyists who have been on his programs to appear at the exhibit and explain their hobbies.

More Than Million Persons Served Last Year by University

That the University of Illinois is a service institution to the entire state, as well as one of the nation's leading teaching institutions, is indicated with the announcement that more than a million persons were directly contacted during the past year.

"In its broadest sense, the university is a public service as well as a teaching institution. Directly and indirectly it serves the entire state in many capacities," President Arthur Cutts Willard said.

Direct services during the year were rendered to: students, 18,000; services on the campus, 175,000; services off the campus, 603,000; the issuance of bulletins and publications to total mailing lists comprising 300,000 persons. Radio Station W-I-L-L reaches thousands of others.

Enrollment figures include fall, spring, and summer terms at Urbana and in the Colleges of Medicine, Pharmacy, and Dentistry, located at Chicago, as well as extramural and correspondence courses.

Campus services included some 65 meetings and conventions, tours, visits, conferences, clinics, etc., on both campuses. Away from the campus, university specialists participated in some 25,000 meetings and conferences throughout the state.

Practically every farm received at least one publication of the Agricultural Experiment station and most of them several. Other publications are those of the Engineering Experiment station, of the business, education and community planning bureaus, university catalogs, special circulars, monographs, doctoral dissertations, and the like.

Not included in the figures were some 176,000 persons who came to the university last year to attend collegiate and state high school athletic events.

Free Shows at New York Fair For Millions

NEW YORK—Millions of "average" Americans, from Maine to California, will close their cottages, bungalows and apartments for brief periods this year and start out for the New York World's Fair 1939. They will arrive by plane, car, bus and some, perhaps, on foot.

About the wonders of the Fair they will have read much. They will expect the utmost of this $155,000,000 exposition. But the question they are asking now is "what will it cost?"

The answer: They may enjoy virtually all the wonders of the Main Exhibition Area without cost, except what they may spend for food which ranges from 10-cent frankfurters to de luxe swank meals in the cafes.

Every night they will be treated to the greatest free spectacle in exposition history: the $1,000,000 fireworks and fountain displays which will bathe the 1,216½ acres of the Fair in brilliant colors.

Free Shows Galore

Hundreds of free shows on the grounds will include such varied entertainment as a rocket ship which carries passengers through both space and time to remote planets; thrilling head-on crashes at the automobile proving ground, a model dairy where 150 prized cows will be milked daily. Industry, science and the nations of the world will offer their wonders and art treasures to the free view of all Fair visitors.

Admission to the grounds will cost 75 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. One day each week children will be admitted for 10 cents.

One of the most elaborate spectacles in theatrical history, Billy Rose's stage and water ballet at the 10,000 seat Marine Amphitheatre, starring Eleanor Holm and 300 dancing and swimming girls, will cost only 40 cents.

The World on Display

Sixty-two foreign countries whose magnificent pavilions face the Lagoon of Nations and the Court of Peace will be open throughout the Fair for free inspection. Here the treasures of Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia and South America will be shown.

A list of the free wonders of the Exhibit Area would fill columns. Some of the highlights are:

The Railroad Building, center of a 6-acre exhibit, containing the most complete miniature railroad ever constructed; a thriving American homestead, complete with cattle, sheep, and chickens, with a singing fountain at the entrance; the most valuable wheat field in the world; a 135-foot schooner in New England's exhibit; the model Town of Tomorrow containing completely furnished homes; The Children's World, a fantastic miniature fair by itself; the House of Jewels where more than $5,000,000 worth of gems will sparkle.

All this and vastly more, may be seen—free of charge.

Fish Story From the Clouds

On May 17, 1896, an unusual storm broke over a portion of Macon County, say the research workers of the Illinois Federal Writers' Project, WPA, compiling annals of the state. The Quincy Daily Journal, reporting the phenomenon, described it thus: "During a heavy hail and rain storm yesterday hundreds of small fish fell in the streets from the clouds. They are small perch, from one-half to three inches long."

Gus Johnson, an insurance agent of Baldwin Park, Calif., argued with Dave Phillips in an effort to sell him a policy. "An accident may happen any minute," declared Johnson. Immediately Phillips fell to the ground, wounded by a bullet which ricocheted when a neighbor shot at a gopher.
