Sermon: "The Dawning of a New Day."

The first Sunday in Advent. Advent means coming. It is one of the seasons in which the church uniquely expresses her life.

The Church is conscious of a past coming, his coming in the flesh; of a present coming, his coming in the word and sacraments; and of a future coming, his coming to judge the quick and the dead.

The fact underlying Advent is one of the most stupendous facts of all history, one of the central facts around which all Christian truth revolves.

Our War With Japan

The Sixth War Loan marks a new turn in the war both on the fighting and the home fronts. It points our tremendous war effort definitely in the direction of the Pacific. During the first five war loans Americans were primarily thinking in terms of beating Hitler.

Now our government asks us for a loan of 14 billion more dollars of which five billion dollars must come from individuals. Why? Haven't we nearly finished off our so-called Number 1 Enemy? Can Japan hold up our powerful war machine very long? Your son, brother and friend in his Pacific foxhole wouldn't raise such questions because they are up against realities, not day dreams. They kill or are killed. They pray every waking moment for a sky-darkening cover of friendly planes. They thank America for giving them the finest medical care in the world when their rendezvous with destiny in a Pacific jungle is at hand. They know the war with the Japs is just beginning.

Here are some other Pacific realities so that you will understand why there must be a Sixth War Loan and why it is absolutely necessary that it be a success:

The Allied Military Command has estimated that it will take years, not months, to lick Japan.

Japan's present army numbers about 4,000,000 with 2,000,000 more men available and fit for military service who haven't been called up to date. Another 1,500,000, between the ages of 17 and 20, are not yet subject to the draft.

The Jap Air Force is growing.

In addition to millions of native workers, Japan has a potential slave force of 400,000,000 conquered people. 50% of Japan's labor force is made up of women. Another 25% boys and girls under 20, the balance men. The Jap workday is twelve to sixteen hours with two days off a month. The Jap cannot leave his job, change it, or strike. The highest daily wage equals about three American dollars—30% to 75% of which goes to taxes and compulsory savings.

The Jap, as our men in the Pacific know, will fight to the death. As far as the Jap is concerned, the outer Empire—and the men who defend it—are the expendables. The Jap will fight the Battle from inside the inner Empire.

The Jap believes that we shall weary of war too easily and too early.

In the invasion of France, supply ships had an overnight run to make. In the coming Battle of Japan, ships in the Pacific will have long-reached round trips that often take five months to make.

These realities are worth thinking about before you keep your home front rendezvous with a Victory Volunteer. Perhaps you will feel that the national personal Sixth War Loan objective—purchase of at least one extra $100 War Bond—is entirely too small for you. The better we face the realities confronting our forces in the Pacific the quicker the whole bloody business will be over and the sooner we will welcome home our fighting men. That's an American reality to work for with all our dollars and our sweat.

Clyde M. Bowman, 44, Dies at Camden, N. J.

Homer—Clyde Millard Bowman, 44, former resident of Homer, died suddenly at Camden, N. J., Sunday. He had been employed in the shipyards there for the past three years.

The body is being brought to Homer, where funeral services will be held either Saturday or Sunday at the Moorhouse funeral home. Rev. P. M. Petty will officiate and burial will be in the GAR cemetery.

Mr. Bowman was born October 14, 1900, at Broadlands, son of Henry and Delia Teel Bowman. At the age of 14 he enlisted in the navy and served six years. He was never married.

Surviving are his mother, who lives in Homer; a sister, Mrs. Harley Wagner, of Homer; and two half brothers, Lee of Philadelphia, Pa., and Arthur, of Brocton, Ill.

Baby Killed by Tractor at Rantoul on Nov. 18

Apple Crop Goes to Market

The larger part of the Illinois commercial apple crop has been marketed, with only a small tonnage going into storage. The crop is estimated at 2,418,000 bushels by the Illinois and U. S. departments of agriculture. This is the smallest apple crop since 1938. Worm damage was severe reducing the October prospective yields by about eleven per cent. Ideal fall weather favored orchard owners who were handicapped by a shortage of hired help.

Mary Louise Thode Bride R. B. Thompson

In a beautiful candlelight ceremony solemnized at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, in the Sidney Methodist church, Miss Mary Louise Thode, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Thode jr., of Sidney, became the bride of Ralph B. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Thompson, of Monticello.

The pastor, Rev. Gordon Waggoner, officiated at the single ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

The altar was beautifully decorated with palms and two candelabras, each holding seven white candles.

Mrs. A. O. Struck of Broadlands, a friend of the family, presided at the electric organ. Preceding the ceremony she played "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms." She played the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin as the bridal party took its place before the altar. During the ceremony, she softly played "I Love You Truly."

Miss Norma Wilson of Sidney attended the bride as maid of honor, and the bride's brother, Lt. E. W. Thode of Ft. Bragg, N. C., was best man.

The bride wore a street length dress of soldier blue crepe, with black accessories, and a corsage of clipped carnations with red rose-buds. The maid of honor was attired in aqua blue with black accessories. Her corsage was of talisman roses with matching pomps.

A reception was held following the ceremony, and a wedding dinner was served at 7 p. m. to the immediate families.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left after dinner for Champaign, and began housekeeping at once in an apartment where the bride had been living the past three months.

Mrs. Thompson graduated from the Sidney community high school with the class of 1942. She was employed for almost two years as assistant cashier at the Winston State bank in Sidney, and for the past three months she has been employed as a bookkeeper in the office of the Eisner Grocery company, in Champaign.

Mr. Thompson graduated from the Monticello high school in 1941, and is now employed in the Military department at the University of Illinois.

Receives Word of Death of Mrs. Charles Miller

Harlan W. Six received a telegram Friday of last week, informing him of the death of Mrs. Charles Miller, of Liberal, Kan. Mrs. Miller was the former Annie Telling and was raised on the Telling farm south of Broadlands. She was a sister of the late Mrs. Harlan W. Six of Broadlands.

Water Situation Serious

The water situation in the village is getting serious. Not only the town pump is out of commission but a number of residents residing close to the business section have dry wells. This certainly makes it inconvenient for local business firms and it begins to look like they will be compelled to carry water from their homes for use in their places of business.

Now, let us hope and pray that the village dads will resurrect the village pump and get it working.

Miss Hazel Boyd Weds Missouri Man

Private First Class Paul H. Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Gordon of Stockton, Mo., and Miss Hazel Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boyd of 2411 College avenue, Alton, were married Saturday Nov. 18, at 4 o'clock at the Central Christian Church, Kansas City, Mo., by the Rev. Emmett Hass. Private Gordon's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Legan attended the couple.

The bride wore a suit of brown wool with brown accessories and a corsage of talisman roses. Mrs. Legan wore a suit of red wool and a corsage of white rosebuds.

Following the ceremony the wedding party had dinner at a hotel in Kansas City.

Private First Class Gordon, who spent the past year in the Aleutian Islands, is stationed at Fort Warren, Wyo., where Mrs. Gordon will join him the first of the year. Private Gordon is co-owner of the Nevada Implement Company, Nevada, Mo.

Brother of Local Woman Killed on Leyte Island

Mrs. Lemiul Gillenwater received word Saturday of the death of her brother, Pvt. First Class LeRoy Crowe, of Arcola. Pvt. Crowe was killed Oct. 29 on Leyte Island. He was 23 years of age and had been in service two years last June. He went overseas last July.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Crowe of Arcola; two brothers, Lester, of Wauconda, Ill.; and Winfred of Vinton, Iowa; and five sisters, Mrs. Frank Bennett, Tuscola; Mrs. Lemiul Gillenwater, Broadlands; Mrs. Oliver Williams, Mrs. Paul McNarry and Mrs. Ralph Grant, of Arcola.

To the People of this Community

The best way to observe the defeat of Hitler is to buy an extra War Bond. In thousands upon thousands of American homes today there is pride and sadness. From these homes have come fighting men who died to bring us this far on the road to decisive victory over all our enemies. It will take more sweat, more tears, more toil, more and greater individual War Bond buying before we see Japan in the ruins these barbarians of the Pacific planned for us. How much more blood and tears depends on every individual American war worker and Bond buyer.

The Sixth War Loan symbol—a bomb hurling down on the Rising Sun—can only come to reality with your individual help. Buy at least an extra $100 War Bond above your normal payroll savings. That's the least you can do to back up your fighting men.

WORLD-WIDE CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

LESSON TEXT—John 17:18-23; I Corinthians 1:1-3; 12:4-7, 12, 13.
GOLDEN TEXT—Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word; that they all may be one.—John 17:20, 21.

Unity among the believers in Christ is much talked about and desired by many in the church. They seek a single Christian communion in the world, or at least a gathering of all Protestant churches in one body. Such outward unity may be impossible to attain, and in fact might be quite undesirable if it did not express a unity of spirit and of true faith.

That fact, however, should not hinder us from seeking a world-wide fellowship of all believers of every race and creed in the unity of the Holy Spirit. The true church, the invisible body of Christ, is not divided, even though its members are scattered in many denominations.

We are reminded in our lesson that whatever else may be true about us, we (that is, all believers) are united in Christ. We are:

I. In the World—but in Christ
(John 17:18-23).

Even as Christ was sent of the Father into the world to be the Light of the World, so we are here in the darkness of sin and sorrow to shine as lights for Him (Matt. 5:14-16). He did not pray that His disciples (and that includes us, v. 20) should be taken out of the world (v. 15) but that they should be kept from sin in the world.

So we are in the world. But let us never for a moment forget that though we are in the world we are also in Christ. He will give us—in fact He has given us—grace and glory so that we may represent Him in the world.

There is to be a oneness about believers (v. 21), not alone because of their good (blessed as that may be!), but in order that the world may know and believe in Christ (vv. 21, 23). The obvious corollary to that truth is that every evidence of division and friction between God's children is an opportunity and an excuse for the world to deny the truth of the gospel.

"Behold how these Christians love one another" was the baffled testimony of the pagan world in the early days of the Christian church. They could argue with their philosophy, and question their theology, but they had to admit that something had happened to these people which made them really love one another.

II. In the Church—but in Christ
(I Cor. 1:1-3).

The church, even in its outward form of local assemblies and denominations, has a place of great importance in the world. One could certainly not find a more wonderful body of people nor more satisfying opportunity for service than that afforded by the church.

The ones to whom Paul addressed this letter were members of "the church of God which is at Corinth," but they were what is of infinitely greater importance, "saints"—those who had been sanctified, or set apart from this wicked world, in Christ Jesus.

This glorious distinction was not theirs alone, but belonged to "all that call upon the name of the Lord Jesus in every place" (v. 2). Here again we have that fellowship and unity in the love of Christ which transcends all other relationships and which ignores the boundaries of race, color, social position—yes, even of church membership.

No matter who or where another believer may be, Jesus Christ is "their Lord and ours" (v. 2). One could shout, "Hallelujah—Praise the Lord!" for such a delightful communion of all those who love Him.

III. In Service—but in Christ
(I Cor. 12:4-7, 12, 13).

God has work to be done in the world. To accomplish that work, He gives diverse gifts to men. How wonderfully He endows and calls men and blesses them in His service! We can think of nothing more satisfying than to serve Him.

But even here we must keep in mind that the important thing is that we are not individual stars to shine in our solitary glory. No indeed, we are only a part of a great plan and purpose being carved out by "the same Lord" (v. 5). We are called, commissioned and sent by the one Holy Spirit (v. 7). We are "one body" (v. 12), baptized by the Holy Spirit into that blessed relationship, and it is that body of Christ which is at work in the world to do His will.

Nor does that in any way minimize the glory or the value of what we are called to do. On the contrary, it enhances our calling and encourages us to greater endeavor. We are not alone. We are in the Lord's service, yes; but first of all we are in Christ, and that means that we move forward with a great world-wide fellowship of those who have like precious faith.

We want your news items.

Rumors From Germany

Reports and rumors coming out of Germany lately are more conflicting and bewildering than ever, as the Nazis probably intend them to be. One of the most fantastic stories published recently quotes a supposed Nazi military order which authorizes any officer or soldier to shoot any other officer or soldier who shows an inclination to surrender.

This order is said to have been published in the official paper Scorpion, which is distributed to German troops, and is reputedly issued by authority of Heinrich Himmler, Gestapo chief and commander of armed forces inside Germany. Incredible as it appears on its face, the story may be true, as it is known that Nazi party leaders will stop at nothing which they believe may keep the army and people in line for a fight to the death.

Another flood of rumors concerns the status of Hitler, who is variously reported as (a) seriously wounded or sick, (b) a prisoner of the Gestapo, (c) insane, or (d) dead. The fact that he has made no public appearance since the alleged attempt on his life last July gives color to the supposition that one of these things may have happened to him.

Last week it was rumored that Reichmarshal Goering, who has not been heard from for some time, had been shorn of his former authority; also that he, too had gone crazy.

It is significant that a recent proclamation, purporting to have been written by Hitler, was read to the German people by Himmler, who many believe was his real author. In any event, Himmler appears to be exercising supreme power in Germany, with Goebbels still functioning as chief propagandist.

Germany is undoubtedly in a bad way, but this has not yet prevented her from continuing the most desperate resistance to the Allies on all fronts.

War Supplies Short

American forces on the fighting fronts are handicapped by a shortage of supplies to an extent which may prolong the war against both Germany and Japan. This shortage has arisen from two causes—actual lack of production and lack of transportation.

Our armies in France are short of artillery and mortar ammunition, and have been drawing on their reserve supplies, which is a dangerous proceeding that might mean a severe set-back at a crucial stage of the campaign.

Tank losses by the Allies have been greater than expected, and a call for greater production of these weapons has been made. There is a lack of numerous other vital supplies, including heavy trucks.

In a recent speech Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes told of efforts being made to meet the supply situation, saying:

"The armed forces need heavy artillery and mortar ammunition especially, and Gen. Eisenhower's troops are currently drawing upon their reserve supplies. Gen. MacArthur's forces will use as much 105-millimeter ammunition this month as they did in all of last year.

"To meet these demands from the front, hot shells are being loaded into freight cars at factories in this country as soon as the TNT inside them solidifies. Special trains of 30 or more cars are used and these trains have the right of way over everything else on the rails. Destroyers have been used to move top priority items across the ocean. Air transport is frequently used for the shipment of rockets and mortar ammunition."

Sidelights

We wonder how many others have the same urge that prompted a Long Beach, Calif., man, who willed $250 to a church, to insert thereafter in his last will and testament, the following: "St. Peter, take note."

The honeymoon is really over for the Los Angeles woman who placed the following advertisement in the Los Angeles Times a few days ago: "Will swap wedding gown, size 14, for portable noiseless typewriter." The only thing that puzzles us is why the typewriter must be noiseless.

Most of us have read Dale Carnegie's book on the best methods of winning friends and influencing people and while being absorbed in the simple methods prescribed, we gave thought to what a whiz Carnegie must be in his contacts with others. Our exalted opinion of his ability now has been blasted as we learn that, at his wedding a few days ago in Tulsa, Okla., he confided that: "It took me eight years to influence a woman to marry me."

A Marine on Peleliu was complaining about the terrific heat when a buddy remarked: "I've always heard it was possible to fry an egg on the steps of the Capitol in Washington at noon on most any day in the summertime." Whereupon the Marine said: "Come over and I'll show you a spot where you can roast or fry the hen that lays those eggs. It really gets hot in the Palau Islands—120 in the shade, if there was any shade."

There are two types of people, we are told. Those who, when faced with a problem, will attempt to solve it without resort to the advice of others; who will dig and dig until they see the light that will bring about the solution, and then, as the result, have the satisfaction of having solved it without having divulged any secrets. Then there is the other group who, when faced with a problem, will rush to a Dorothy Dix or a Mr. Anthony and risk all on the advice given. Most folks are funny people.

A few nights ago a Chilean radio producer reproduced in Spanish, of course, Orson Welles' famous "men from Mars" broadcast with exactly the same results that greeted the stunt six years ago. Citizens of Chile were thrown into panic, ran into the streets in their night clothes screaming, just as in New York, New Jersey and other sections of this country. All of which appears to prove, according to a contemporary, that people will believe in a Martian invasion, but when you tell them a Nazi invasion is possible, they poo-poo the idea. Why is it?

Advice costs nothing and is usually worth just what it costs.

The lucky individual is usually one who doesn't trust in luck.

We may look down on our neighbors but that doesn't make them look up to us.

Adam and Eve fell for an apple and most of their descendants fall for apple sauce.

We read of a girl who penciled her name and address on a good egg and thereby got a rotten husband.

Fifteen hundred public, parochial and Lutheran schools in Illinois and Indiana have received a certificate such as this for commendable safety records. The certificate was presented by the Chicago Motor Club. In those schools no child was killed or injured in traffic accidents while crossing at an intersection protected by the school safety patrol during the year. Charles M. Hayes, president of the club, in presenting certificates, paid tribute to city officials, school authorities, teachers, and to members of the patrol for establishing this record of saving lives.

No Best Dog Breed, State The Experts

There is no such thing as a "best breed" of dog. That breed is best which gives you what you most like in or expect from a dog.

This is the opinion consensus of experts associated with the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York City, who were polled recently on this subject.

There are 111 recognized breeds of dogs in America segregated into six distinctive classifications, sporting breeds, working breeds, hounds, terriers, toys and nonsporting breeds. This is variety enough for anyone to find exactly what he is looking for. According to these experts, all one has to do is to make up his mind what he particularly wants the dog for—as pet or companion, as children's playmate or home guard, as field worker or special duty dog—and the selection becomes relatively simple.

Purebred vs. Mongrel?

The experts also agree on another point, and that is the desirability of the purebred dog as against the mongrel. Blood will tell, they say, whether in man or dog. You wouldn't adopt just "any baby" in your home. Neither is it wise to add "any old dog" to your household. Desirable dog qualities are at their best in the purebred. Contrary to popular belief, too, the purebred is likely to be the more intelligent animal. Because of his breeding and better general care a purebred is also the more likely one to be well formed, have a good constitution, and be in good condition. There is the added pleasure that comes to the owner of a purebred from the realization that automatically he is a member of one of the greatest and one of the most democratic sporting fraternities on earth.

Puppy vs. Grown Dog?

The experts also have interesting and helpful ideas on some of the other problems usually faced by the person about to adopt a dog.

The majority favor starting with a puppy. Aside from the lower cost, a puppy is great fun to watch as it grows and, of course, its future is entirely in your hands to mold to your own liking.

Male vs. Female?

Each sex has its advantages. The male is usually more spirited and aggressive, the female more quiet and retiring. Experts who have had both male and female dogs over a long period of time tend to prefer the female to the male. The female, they say, is easier to housebreak and control, more affectionate, and less inclined to roam. She can also produce a litter of pups if and when the owner wants them either for the fun of watching them mature or for the sake of the money they will bring. If no puppies are desired, special care is taken to keep the female securely indoors during her "season" or special repelling deodorizers used to make her repulsive to the male.

Bonds Over America

COL. BLACK'S STAIRWAY

This winding staircase in the Black mansion at Ellsworth, Maine, was built in 1802. Col. John Black, whose father-in-law was aide-de-camp to General Washington, erected his elegant house in a tiny frontier settlement as a token of his confidence in the future of America. Just as courageous are the designs being approved by our city and town-planners for post-war expansion and improvement. But first the war must be won on all fronts. Continued investment in War Bonds speeds the day of victory and stores up savings for post-war security and expansion. U. S. Treasury Department

This rigging seems naval to a G. I. infantryman. But what can a fellow do when he breaks a leg in a jump and then takes a load of shells from a mortar when he's down? Pvt. John F. Maxon, 22, Buffalo, N. Y., paratrooper, says you just take it, and thank your lucky stars you wind up in a comfortable bed back home. You thank those stars, too, for War Bonds that get you back into circulation.

Michael L. Susan, Aliquippa, Pa., PFC, was an outpost at Anzio Beach, Italy, when hit by a shell. It looks as though the 20-year-old Michael is out of the fighting for good, but he is still able to give strong sales talks for War Bonds.

Staff Sergeant Ira Vaughn took his dose and left the fight at St. Lo, France. The 23-year-old infantry sergeant from San Antonio, Texas, came out with a broken arm but stout heart. A sniper in a hedgerow saw him first. It would have been too bad for the sniper if things had been reversed. And it will be too bad for all the Nazis and Nips if people buy War Bonds the way Sergeant Vaughn says they should.

The ordinary kitchen is too warm for keeping citrus fruit more than a few days or a week, advises Mrs. Esther K. Thor, Home Adviser. Oranges, limes and some grapefruit will keep well in the refrigerator but not lemons; fruit should be covered in the refrigerator to keep from drying out; and no citrus fruit should be exposed to freezing temperature.
