CHRIST IN THE HOME

LESSON TEXT-Matthew 19:4-6; Luke 10:38-42; II Timothy 1:3-6. GOLDEN TEXT-These things I command you, that ye may love one another .- John

The American home faces many enemies and powerful destructive influences in our day. At times one wonders whether this most important of all institutions has not so far departed from what God intended it to be that it has lost its place and power.

In such a time, it is important that the Christian church keep before the people, and especially our ing about the home. We need to revive the old-fashioned home, with its piety, purity and high purpose in the plan of God. We begin right when we note:

I. The Plan of God for the Home (Matt. 19:4-6).

the Pharisees, who claimed that a man had a right to divorce his wife, He appealed to Scripture. That is the sure foundation for right think-

He referred them to the story of the creation of man and woman in Genesis 2:18-24. There it is revealed that in all the animal kingdom there was no creature suited is just not up to normal.

for him, that is, one suited by personality and gifts to be his companion. God made woman for that He established the home and ordained that all through man's history there should be the coming together of one man and one woman in that indissoluble union of love (v. 6) which makes the home.

We have forgotten God's law, or have deliberately violated it, and have broken down the home in its very foundation. We had better begin to think seriously about the divorce problem if we are not to go the way of other nations.

II. The Presence of Christ in the Home (Luke 10:38-42).

Christ repeatedly honored the home by His blessed presence. He came to the wedding feast at Cana of Galilee, and there He performed His first miracle (John 2). He should be the unseen guest at every Christian marriage. Invite Him, expect Him, honor Him, and He will bless place of rest and refuge for our Lord when He was here on earth, that of His friends, Lazarus, Martha and Mary, in Bethany. He was a welcome guest, always at home in that household. Shall we do less in our households? We see mottoes in homes, "Christ is the unseen guest in this home." How appropriate!

But note that His presence in the home gives Him opportunity to teach and to direct the life of the home. Mary and Martha had both barriers. been busy about the work of the household, but Mary knew when it was time to stop being busy and sit at Jesus' feet to learn and to be blessed by His presence. She not only worked, but "also sat at the Lord's feet" (v. 39). Martha went our bright dreams disappear, our right on working until she was distracted, and came to censure her sister.

cant. He did not rebuke Martha, rive at any common postwar pur-He only told her to get her life into balance. There must be work in a home, but those who make home must be our resolve to see that only a workshop miss its greatest blessing. Home should be a place of sweet fellowship between the members of the family, and especially between them and the Lord.

III. The Power of Faith in the Home (II Tim. 1:3-6).

Family religion really pays. The home with the family altar, where God's Word is read as a natural and proper part of daily living, where prayer is made, and God's goodness is remembered in thanksgiving and praise, that home will send forth children who know the grace of God, and are prepared to heed His call for service.

Timothy had a grandmother and a mother (one wonders where papa and grandpa were) with unfeigned faith. What a precious heritage! That was far more valuable than silver or gold, or farms or corner | tion." lots. What heritage are you giving your children?

Note the reference to Timothy's work as a minister of God in verse 6. It was by the Holy Spirit's call, and was recognized by the church in - ordination, the "laying on of hands." with that which is spoken of in the verse before-the faith of his home a boy forth to valiant service for God and to keep him faithful in the Western Front. Gun Shy

By CLYDE B. HOUGH McClure Syndicate-WNU Features.

WHEN Hyder fumbled his rifle and dropped it, that first morning at drill, most of us recruits and some of the older heads snickered. 'Silence in the ranks," thundered Sergeant Kane.

Hyder made no move to recover his rifle—just stood staring down at it in trancelike horror. "Don't be afraid of it, guy," Kane said. "It won't bite anybody but them Axis

But Hyder was afraid of a gun; all guns, as we learned later. His hands would tremble every time he touched one. So, naturally, he drew a low rating in rank-and-file judgment. His only champion was Barry, another rookie. "I know the guy. You fellows don't," Barry told us in the squad room.

"We know he's afraid of guns. He must be yellow," came the answer.

"You're wrong, all of you," Barry argued. "Hyder and I were raised in the same town, on the same block. He's no coward—just gun shy. Born that way, same as some people are born with blue eyes, others brown." Someone said, "Bah, he's . . ."

and cut the speech short. Another glanced toward the door but immediately looked away.

Hyder seemed rooted on the threshold, towhead thrust forward, eyes squinting, his squatty body taut,

For a moment, he held his belligerent pose and then, eyes straight ahead, he walked slowly and deliberately down the aisle between the two rows of cots. He stopped before his friend. "Thanks, Barry," he said, and turned and left the

Back in 1907, in response to an appeal from a small group of doctors, Miss Emily P. Bissell (above), of Wilmington, Del., started a Christmas Seal Sale to help tuberculosis patients. Every year since then the Seals have been sold in this country to aid the fight against the White Plague.
