Sermon: "Sons of Hagar and of Sarah."

One of the best arguments in the world for Christ and Christianity is the man or woman who honestly walks in the light, a true imitator of Christ.

No skeptic can refute this argument. The motive power for such a life is born, "not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God."

Rites For R. T. Duckworth Held at Fairfield Wednesday

R. T. Duckworth, 88, passed away at the hospital in Urbana at 10 p. m. Monday, March 25, 1946. Mr. Duckworth had recently suffered a paralytic stroke and had been in the hospital two weeks. The body was brought to the Dicks Bros. funeral home Monday night.

Mr. Duckworth was born at Hodginsville, Ky., June 11, 1857, a son of Felix and Elizabeth Duckworth. He farmed near Newman for a number of years. For the past two years he had made his home with the Clinton Ray family at Broadlands. He was the father of twelve children, seven of whom survive, together with a number of grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at Fairfield Presbyterian Church, south of Broadlands on Wednesday at 1:00 p. m., conducted by Rev. Richard E. Atherton, pastor of the Newman Methodist Church. Louise Branch and Robert Hance of Newman sang, with Miss Madge Sutton accompanying. Burial was in Fairfield cemetery.

Choir rehearsal on Friday night at the parsonage.

Thought for the week:

Count yourself as a partner with Christ. You can expect great things from God when Christ is your partner. But as a partner of His you are to face your share of the responsibilities. Then you are a worker together with Him. Let Him use you with all the gifts with which he has equipped you. And don't try to do somebody else's job.

Belgian 'Mom' Brought to U. S. by 'Her Boys'—G. I.'s

(Christian Science Monitor) Hoisington, Kan.—Every day seems like "Mother's Day" now to Miss Reta Nulens—she's come to live among the scores of G. I.'s who called her "mom" and her Belgian cottage "home" in their drive into Germany.

Miss Nulens used to run a pharmacy in her native village of Hasselt, Belgium. That was before the Nazis came and confiscated her supplies.

Then the Americans came and she opened her home to them. Sometimes as many as 30 were there at one time. As they moved on others came. They talked of home; of Kansas and wheat fields; of the South and cotton, of corner drug stores.

When the war was ended she dreaded to see them go. Her "boys" decided she was going, too.

Sergeant Frank Tharp of Hoisington—he was the first to call her Mom—took charge of the campaign. Through an advertisement in his home-town newspaper at Little Rock, Ark., Private Nicholas J. Sebastian got W. A. Delaney, Ada, Okla., oil man, to sponsor "Mom" as an immigrant in exchange for tutoring his daughter in foreign languages.

Her "boys" completed details for the trip; wrote their families along the route from Mobile, Ala., where she docked, to Hoisington, where she wanted to visit Sergeant Tharp's home.

It worked that way. Families of her G. I.'s put her on a train at Mobile for Fort Worth, Texas, where more G. I. families helped her aboard another train for Kansas.

Now she's visiting Sergeant Tharp's wife and three-year-old son. Sergeant Tharp, who put her aboard her ship, hasn't arrived yet. He's still trying to get home, but "Mom" is here with Sergeant Tharp's letter saying:

"Please accept this as an introduction to the finest lady in Belgium. Any help you can give her will be small compared to the assistance she has given American troops. Regardless of who you are, treat this lady as your mother."

Illinois State Capitol News

Automobile accidents on Illinois highways during February caused the death of 131. The total highway death toll for the first two months of this year stands at 326, an increase of 49 per cent over the number of such deaths during January and February, 1945.

Coal production of the shipping mines of Illinois during February was 5,754,945 tons.

The February output came from 21 strip mines employing 3,172 men and turning out 1,283,725 tons, and from 84 shaft mines employing 22,229 men and hoisting 4,471,220 tons.

Important economic benefits will come to southern Illinois from the planned development of lakes and hunting, fishing and recreational grounds in that part of the state, according to Livingston E. Osborne, state director of conservation. He declares that thousands of sportsmen who now travel to lakes and rivers in other states will find as good or better facilities in southern Illinois when the improvements are completed. Preliminary engineering studies for the program, for which Governor Green has released required funds are nearing completion, Osborne said.

Increases in the amounts of money expended during February for old age pensions and aid to dependent children are shown in the latest report of the Illinois Public Aid commission.

Old age pensions averaging $34.15 were paid to 124,203 persons during the month, at a total cost of $4,241,646. The number of names on the rolls increased 935, as compared to January, and the total cost of payments was $53,309 higher.

Aid to children allowances averaged $27.32 per child for February and were paid to 50,747 children.

Applications for examinations for the position of junior stenographer in the 101 downstate county departments of public assistance are now being received by the Illinois Merit System council, Springfield. The examinations will give applicants an opportunity to become eligible for employment in their home counties. The positions will be permanent, with vacations and sick leave privilege, and will include participation in the state employees' retirement system.

Application blanks may be obtained at any county department of public assistance or downstate U. S. employment office. The closing date for receiving applications is April 22.

Mrs. Walter Seider and Mrs. John Bahlow were Champaign visitors Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Griffith and children of Fairland were visitors here Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eckerty, Bill and Anita, visited in the Joe King home near Hume, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Smith have purchased a 97-acre farm near Mattoon and will move to the same next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harvey and son Noel of Indianapolis visited in the Arch Walker home, Sunday.

Eddie Meredith Sings at Fellowship Meeting Here

The Men's Fellowship meeting at the local Methodist church, on Friday night of last week was well attended and was one of the most interesting gatherings yet held by the organization. Rev. Loyd, pastor of the church was toastmaster and introduced the singer and speaker of the evening in his usual pleasing manner.

Following the sumptuous dinner served by the Wesleyan Guild class, came the treat of the evening, the songs by Eddie Meredith, of Sidell. Mr. Meredith sang several songs, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Meredith. In the opinion of many of those present, Mr. Meredith is one of the finest singers in the U. S. They compare him with Bing Crosby, Nelson Eddy and others, and say his voice is "heavenly." And why he is not making a fortune singing, instead of clerking in a store, is the question many are asking.

State's Attorney John Bresee, Champaign, was the speaker of the evening. He explained the new tax law which was interesting and instructive.

Local and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Fluck of Sterling visited their daughter, Mrs. Wilfred Robinson and family, the past week.

Mrs. Charles Hood of Champaign was a weekend guest in the home of her brother, Forrest Walker, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kassouf of Chicago were weekend guests in the Emil Schumacher home. Mr. Kassouf and Ralph Schumacher were buddies in World war II.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bahlow and Mrs. Walter Seider attended the funeral of Mr. Bahlow's aunt, Mrs. George Klitzing at Altamont, on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Smith of Danville were guests in the home of the former's brother, Harold L. Smith, and family, Sunday evening.

Mrs. Frank Golle and children and Miss Helen Shephard of Niles, Mich., spent the past week with Mrs. Golle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Brewer and son of Homer, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Brewer of Danville visited in the D. P. Brewer home, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Gore and children of Newman were supper guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Gore, Sunday evening.

Rev. and Mrs. Robert Frey visited friends here the past week. Rev. Frey, a former pastor of the local St. John's Ev. Church, and who served as a chaplain in World war II, received his discharge from the army in February. Rev. and Mrs. Frey plan to locate in the state of Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dicks entertained a number of relatives at dinner, Sunday, the occasion celebrating the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Forrest Dicks and Carl Dicks. Those present were Mrs. Eva Collom of Champaign; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dicks, sons, Wallace, Noel and Darrell, of Arthur; Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Dicks, Sara Sue and Tom; and Mrs. Hattie Dicks.

O. H. Hedrick Succumbs to Injuries

O. H. Hedrick, local farmer and seed corn agent, fell down the stairway in a restaurant at 11:30 a. m. Sunday at Shelbyville, where he had eaten dinner. The fall rendered him unconscious and he remained in that condition until his death which occurred at about 3 p. m. Wednesday in the Shelby County Memorial hospital at Shelbyville.

His many friends here were greatly shocked and grieved at his untimely demise. He was 53 years old. Mr. and Mrs. Hedrick had gone to Shelbyville to attend the funeral of a relative.

Funeral services will be held from the United Brethren church in Longview, this Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with Rev. W. M. Robinson officiating. Interment will be in the local St. John's cemetery, with Dicks Bros. in charge.

Full particulars will be given in this paper next week.

American Food Waste

We Americans are notorious for wastefulness in the matter of food. Enough nourishing food goes into the garbage cans of this country to save millions of starving people in Europe and the Far East. Every scrap of meat, every half-eaten potato or slice of bread left after our meals would be seized upon eagerly by these unfortunates if they could get it.

Of course, there is no way whereby these leavings can be used to relieve hunger abroad, but better planning of meals could result in conserving the general food supply, thus making more available for agencies engaged in famine relief.

The most urgent need is for bread (wheat) and edible fats. An appeal has been made for cutting down the consumption of these basic foods, which are the easiest to transport abroad. President Truman's famine emergency committee, of which former President Hoover is honorary chairman, makes a number of suggestions, including the following:

Substitute more potatoes for bread; use less cake and pastry; use more oat cereals and fruits; use buckwheat cakes instead of wheat cakes; economize on lard and edible oils.

Restaurants are asked to serve only one slice of bread or one roll with each meal, to call attention to the need for saving flour. Serve corn bread or muffins more often.

Mr. Hoover suggested that every family should think of an imaginary guest at the table—a starving person—with whom they would willingly share food.

It is estimated that at least 500,000,000 people in the world are desperatels undernourished, many of whom are doomed to die of hunger.

Famine conditions in Europe and Asia are the worst in modern times, not only as a result of the war, but also because most countries suffered from severe drouth last summer, which reduced food production to the lowest level in years.

Relief for the starving must be furnished principally from the United States, although some food will be supplied by other countries in the Western Hemisphere. Surely the American people will make a determined effort to curb their usual waste of food in this world emergency.

U. S. Has Only 7% of World's Population

Only seven per cent of the world's population lives in the United States, yet that seven per cent is sumpin'. We own half of the world's telephones, a third of the world's railway mileage, a third of the improved highways, 60 per cent of the life insurance, 83 per cent of the automobiles; we own a radio set for every three persons, have more money invested in educational plants than the entire world. We have one motor car for every four persons; Russia has one for every 252, and this list could be indefinitely continued.

All these luxuries and conveniences are the result of free enterprise under a capitalistic system, which allows every man an opportunity to climb the ladder of success. All this prosperity would doubtless astonish Karl Marx, who we hope looks down (or up) and views with wonder the progress of America.

Minnesota Is Only State Having Fact-Finding Law

Minnesota is the only state in the nation with a fact-finding law, used in settling labor disputes and has had practically no strikes. The law which was put on the books before Gov. Harold E. Stassen entered the Navy in 1942, defines unfair labor practices on the part of employees as well as employers, and the fact that the labor unions have recognized it as workable is reason enough for other states to look it over.

Sidelights

Four months ago Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Smith, Hollywood, California, bought a "twin insurance" policy and planked down $50 as a premium. Now Mr. and Mrs. Smith are $950 to the good as twin boys were born to Mrs. Smith recently at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

The use of make-up by fashionable ladies is as old as the hills. But it seems that the Egyptian ladies of the days of Cleopatra went to extremes. They painted their lower eyelids green; the upper lids, lashes and eyebrows black; and the palms of their hands and the soles of their feet with henna, to say nothing of the rose red lips and cheeks. And we thought Technicolor was a recent invention.

The "village smithy" is almost a thing of the past and now, we learn, the blacksmith has gone modern. Travelling blacksmith shops, complete in every detail, are making their rounds through the rural sections in many states taking their services directly to the doors of their customers. The new service is very beneficial to the farmers and profitable to the blacksmiths. We are wondering if some enterprising blacksmith has arranged to take along a "spreading chestnut tree."

Guy Standerfer, of Harris-town, Ill., finds civilian life entirely too rugged. After two years in the Army, Pfc. Standerfer has been trying since last October to make a living for his wife and seven children and $40 per week has been his top pay. Recently he reenlisted for overseas duty in order to make a living for his family. He reported to Fort Jackson, S. C., for duty on foreign soil and started drawing his $238 a month. "I'm in for 20 years with retirement then at half pay," were his parting words.

The farmers of Illinois are planning to plant more corn and oats this year than last, according to the Illinois and U. S. departments of agriculture.

The current tight feed situation, increased numbers of hogs, decreased farm stocks of corn and prospective higher prices are listed as accounting for the larger acreage of corn this season.

FOR SHERIFF BERT S. WALKER

My Pledge... Many of my friends have urged me to again become a candidate for Sheriff and I have consented fully realizing the responsibility that is connected therewith.

History has always revealed an increase in crime following the conclusion of a war and this will throw additional Law Enforcement responsibility on the office of sheriff. I am willing to accept that responsibility and I pledge to you an honest and conscientious administration of that high office.

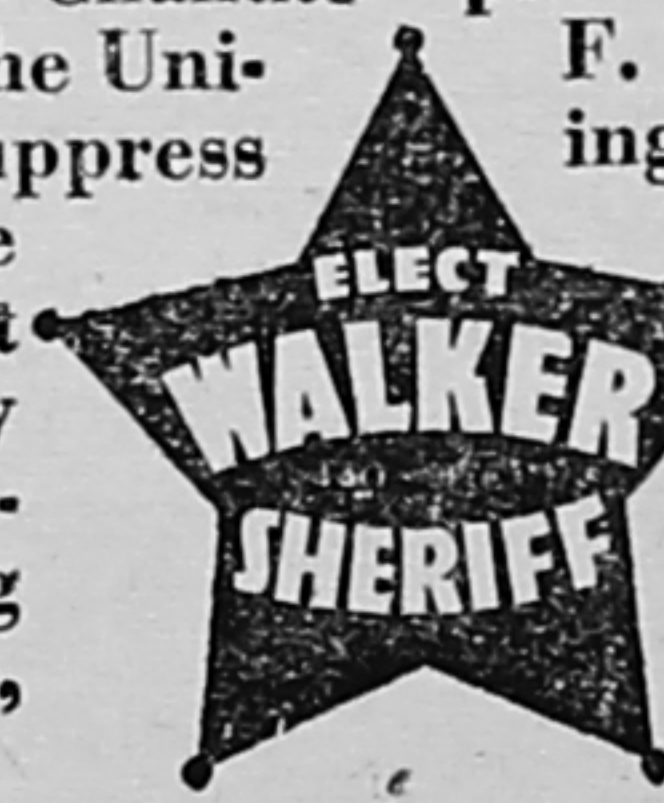

Bert Walker

An Outstanding Record of Service to the People

As sheriff of your county from December, 1938, to December, 1942, I desire to call your attention to some of my accomplishments for that period.

CURTAINING GAMBLING AND PROSTITUTION—In less than one year after I took office all organized gambling places and houses of prostitution were closed and their operators were convicted and sentenced by our courts. This menace to our community life was abolished for the first time in 25 years in this county.

COOPERATING WITH ARMED SERVICES—Having served in World War I for almost two years I realized that close cooperation with the authorities at Chanute Field and the Training Schools at the University was necessary in order to suppress all influences detrimental to these training programs. The fact that there was not a town in this county "off limits" for any man in uniform, while many in surrounding counties were not so fortunate, speaks for itself.

HELPING BUILD A GREAT UNIVERSITY—The University of Illinois is very important to our community and it was always the policy of my office to give it the closest cooperation and assistance possible.

WORKING WITH CITY GOVERNMENTS—The mayors of Champaign, Urbana and Rantoul and the heads of other villages in our county, their police forces and other governmental departments, all can testify to my cooperation with them to secure proper law enforcement.

PERFECTING METHODS OF FIGHTING CRIME—Shortly after taking office, I started a complete set of records with an alphabetical card index, finger prints and F. B. I. envelopes for each person entering the jail. A photographic machine also was installed and all prisoners were photographed and numbered. These have been valuable for reference by many government officials and have been instrumental in apprehending and identifying many criminals.

HONESTY AND EFFICIENCY

During my four-year term in office I turned back to the County Treasurer the sum of $31,959.14 after the salaries of three deputies and myself were paid. These were excess earnings during my term only. This is more than 2½ times the amount any sheriff has ever turned back in this county. The following are comments from local newspapers: (Champaign News-Gazette, Monday, Jan.

27, 1941.) "Washington, Jan. 27—Champaign County jail rates among the 16% of all jails in the country which are considered fit for general use in housing Federal prisoners, the U. S. Bureau of Prisoners reported today." (Urbana Evening Courier, Thursday, June 30, 1942.) "Washington, D. C.—War Department records show Champaign County almost perfect in control of vice."

My pledge eight years ago was Law Enforcement. That is my pledge today. I believe my record speaks for itself and I hope the people of Champaign County will show their desire for good, honest, efficient government at the primaries Tuesday, April 9, by voting for Bert Walker for Sheriff.

Sergeant on the rifle range: "And remember the new bullet will penetrate two feet of solid wood, so remember to keep your heads down!"

And what is a synonym, Willie? asked the teacher. A synonym, said Willie, is a word that you use when you can't spell the other one.

Do you have fits of giddiness? a doctor asked a middle-aged stern-looking woman. No, I don't, came the snappy retort, "I'm a respectable married woman."

Old Rastus settled himself in his chair and addressed his wife: "Yes, sah, gal, dat boss done cut wages half in two again. Some ob de boys is kickin' mighty pow'ful 'bout it. But I ain't goin' to kick none. Way I figgers it—half of sumpin is better'n all of nuffin'."

A German was being led to execution by a squad of Russian soldiers one rainy morning. What brutes you Russians are, grunted the doomed one, to march me through the rain like this. What are you complaining about? retorted one of the squad. We have to march back.

Lizzie came in great distress of mind to discuss the question of conscience and her mistress described the still small voice which prompts to right conduct. It's sho 'nuff dat way, Miss Dixie, Lizzie admitted. De Lawd he speaks to me 'bout mah goin's on. But sometimes I talks right back to him and he lets me have mah own way.

The young husband wrote home from his new job, saying: "Made foreman—feather in my cap." A few weeks later he wrote again, saying: "Made manager—another feather in my cap." After some weeks he wrote again, saying: "Fired—send money for train fare." His wife unfeelingly telegraphed back: "Use feathers and fly home."

The Colonel had insisted that the Thanksgiving turkey be a domestic, corn-fed bird, no wild fowl. Came the day and the Colonel cut into a beautiful, done to perfection turkey, frowned, cut again, then sent for Sam, his negro cook. Didn't I tell you I wanted a domestic bird? he thundered. Yah, sub, dat's a domestic corn-fed fowl. Well, what about this shot I'm finding? Sam shuffled from one foot to the other. Dat shot, Colonel sub, were meant fo' me.

He was undersized, meek, diffident, subdued, and he had applied for a job as night watchman.

Yes, said the boss, dubiously, but the fact is we want someone who is restless and uneasy, especially at night. Someone who sleeps with one eye open. Someone with remarkable hearing who starts at the slightest sound. Someone who is always listening, thinking there are bad characters around. We want a large, aggressive, intrepid and dangerous person, bad tempered and revengeful. In short, the kind of person who, when roused is a fiend.

All right, said the little man as he walked away, "I'll send the wife."

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

GEORGE: "Yes, I certainly would like to hear why you call that an old fashioned idea, Judge."

OLD JUDGE: "Glad to tell you, George. Until recently, a person known as an alcoholic was generally treated as a social outcast. Little if anything was done to understand him or help him. But, during the past few years, medical research and study has developed that alcoholics are really sick people... that there is usually a deep-rooted physical, social or emotional reason behind their behavior. That's why today so much is being done to help them by finding out and correcting the condition that leads them to excess."

GEORGE: "How many folks are there like that, Judge?"

OLD JUDGE: "Well, according to scientific research, 95% of the people who drink, drink sensibly. 5% do so unwisely, at times. Included in that 5% is the small percentage of the sick people I'm talking about."

GEORGE: "That certainly gives me a clearer picture. It's the most sensible approach I've ever heard on the subject."

Household Hints

An old tennis racket makes a good carpet beater.

Wrap gold and silver evening bags and slippers in dark-colored cloth to prevent tarnish.

For sweeter music, give your phonograph records a bath now and then, using warm water and mild soap.

Grease glass baking dishes before putting food in them to bake and they will be much easier to wash.

When laundering woollens be sure to use plenty of soapsuds. It minimizes the rubbing, and preserves the garment longer.

Book shelves should be cleaned and books frequently dusted to prevent the breeding of moths, silverfish and other book devouring insects.

Immediate patching of worn spots may add years to the life of a roof if it is still in good condition. It is, however, usually poor economy to do a patchwork job on a roof that is well worn.

When washing men's overalls lay them on the washboard or any flat surface and scrub with a scrubbing brush and lots of good suds. It makes washing easier.
