Dr. H. H. Dunham, of the state of Kansas was here Monday and informed us that he would locate here about the first of October, if he could find a house. He found a house all right, but learned that it was for sale and that he might have to vacate the same at any time. Hence, he decided not to come to Broadlands.

Broadlands is sorely in need of a doctor, but cannot get one, simply because there are no houses for rent. What a pity.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

JESUS AND COVETOUSNESS

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:17; Proverbs 11:23, 24; Luke 12:13-21.

MEMORY SELECTION—He that trusteth in his riches shall fall; but the righteous shall flourish as a branch.—Proverbs 11:28.

The Ten Commandments, the study of which we conclude today (the remaining lessons of the quarter deal with other laws), have been revealed to us as being characterized by their brevity, their comprehensive touch with all of life, and fidelity to the right. But they are also unique and different from all other laws in that they reach into the inner recesses of a man's heart, a realm where only God can judge and act.

This last commandment (against covetousness) emphasizes that point, for it does not expressly require or forbid any act, but deals with the motive of man's action. Man can judge another man's acts, but he cannot judge his motives, desires or thoughts. God must do that.

But man can, by the grace of God, control his motives; and hence we have this commandment and its interpretation.

I. Covetousness — What It Is (Exod. 20:17).

To covet does not mean just to desire, but to have an unrestrained desire for that which we ought not to have or which by right belongs to another.

It shows itself in our day in a more general way — an inordinate desire for possessions in general. There too man loses himself. It may be a surprise to many to learn that coveting, or desiring what belongs to another, is a sin. It has become one of the "respectable sins" accepted in the best circles and practiced by many church people.

As a matter of fact, this sin underlies all the other sins against which the commandments speak. He who has a love for money and an evil desire to have his neighbor's possessions will hate, lie, steal, cheat, kill. In fact, as Dr. G. Campbell Morgan says, "The whole realm of human interrelations is disorganized and broken up by the dishonoring of the tenth commandment."

II. Covetousness — What It Does (Prov. 11:23, 24; Luke 12:13-21).

1. It Makes a Man Stingy (Prov. 11:23, 24). The righteous man seeks that which is good and he knows nothing of the close-fisted stinginess which withholds from God and man. Sometimes to economize is to lose, and to be liberal is to gain—especially in the things of God. God gives liberally (James 1:5), and the man who knows God scatters not only his money, but his riches of mind and service for God's glory.

In sad contrast is the man who keeps his possessions for himself and reaps only the barrenness of soul and leanness of life.

2. It Makes a Man Envious (Luke 12:13-15). Noting the ability of Jesus in dealing with others, this man thought to divert the Lord from his real ministry to the souls of men to the settling of social problems—all because he was greedy.

Some church leaders think that is our business now — to preach and promote a social gospel. They had better reread verse 14.

3. It Makes a Man Selfish (Luke 12:16, 17). The one who was known to his friends as the "rich man" (v. 16) was known to God as a "fool" (v. 20), because having more than he could use he hoarded it for himself. One wonders what he had to say for himself when that very night he was called into the presence of God to give an account of his stewardship (v. 20). If you are similarly situated and have the same attitude, what will you say in that day?

4. It Makes a Man Proud (Luke 12:18). All around him were the hungry. He needed no barns, for there were the empty hands of the needy; but money had made him hard and proud. He would build bigger barns, perhaps the biggest in that community. People would marvel at his prosperity and he would live long to enjoy it.

But it did not work out that way, for, alas, it is true of covetousness that—

5. It Makes a Man Foolish (Luke 12:19-21). The man who reckons without God is sure to come to grief. Leaving him out of one's thinking and planning invites disaster.

God called, and he who had thought to go on for years in selfish pleasure, found that he must go and leave it all. Worse yet, he had to face the judgment of God upon his eternal soul.

Do not fail to note that there is a way to lay up treasures in heaven — by a "close walk with Christ, coming to appreciate and cultivate the joys of the spirit," and so using one's possessions that they count for the glory of God. Even gold can be so invested for God as to send it on to eternity. What an opportunity!

Sport's Grand Old Men

America's oldest top-flight athletic figure, Amos Alonzo Stagg, is still head football coach of the University of the Pacific, altho he recently observed his 84th birthday. This little college at Stockton, Calif., with less than 1,000 students in past years has acquired considerable gridiron fame since he took over its team at the age of 70.

The veteran athletic director is a native of New Jersey, and as a Yale end he was named to the first All-American team in 1889. Stagg made his great reputation at the University of Chicago, where he was head of the department of athletics and the football coach for more than 40 years retiring in 1932. Stagg Field at the university was named in his honor.

On his recent birthday, an AP reporter wrote: "His mind is keen, his health excellent," and added that he is optimistic about the performance of his team in the coming season, although it has a tough schedule.

Only four months younger than Stagg is that other grand old man of the sport world, Connie Mack, who will be 84 on December 23. Mack, whose real name is Cornelius McGillicuddy, has been manager of the Philadelphia Athletics baseball team since 1901, prior to which he was catcher and manager of several other professional clubs.

Under his management the Athletics won the American League pennant nine times and the World Series five times, but in recent years his team has finished in or near the cellar position, where it is today.

Both Stagg and Mack have contributed immeasurably to the cause of clean sportsmanship, and they are numbered among the immortals of the gridiron and the diamond.

Candidate For 1962

A 17-year-old Georgia boy, W. Barry Phillips of Valdosta, is an avowed candidate for governor of that state in 1962, or maybe 1966, and with the assistance of friends is soliciting support by writing to young people throughout the state.

His novel idea of starting his campaign 16 or 20 years ahead of time has attracted considerable attention, and he was invited to explain his plans on a radio program recently. He admits that some people consider him a "crack-pot," but he gave the impression of being a highly intelligent and serious youngster who knows what he wants and how to go about getting it.

Young Phillips was president of his junior and senior classes in high school, a member of the debating team and a star football tackle. He is enrolled at the University of Georgia and intends to study law as a part of his preparation for the governorship. After that he expects to enter public service in order to gain practical experience in state affairs.

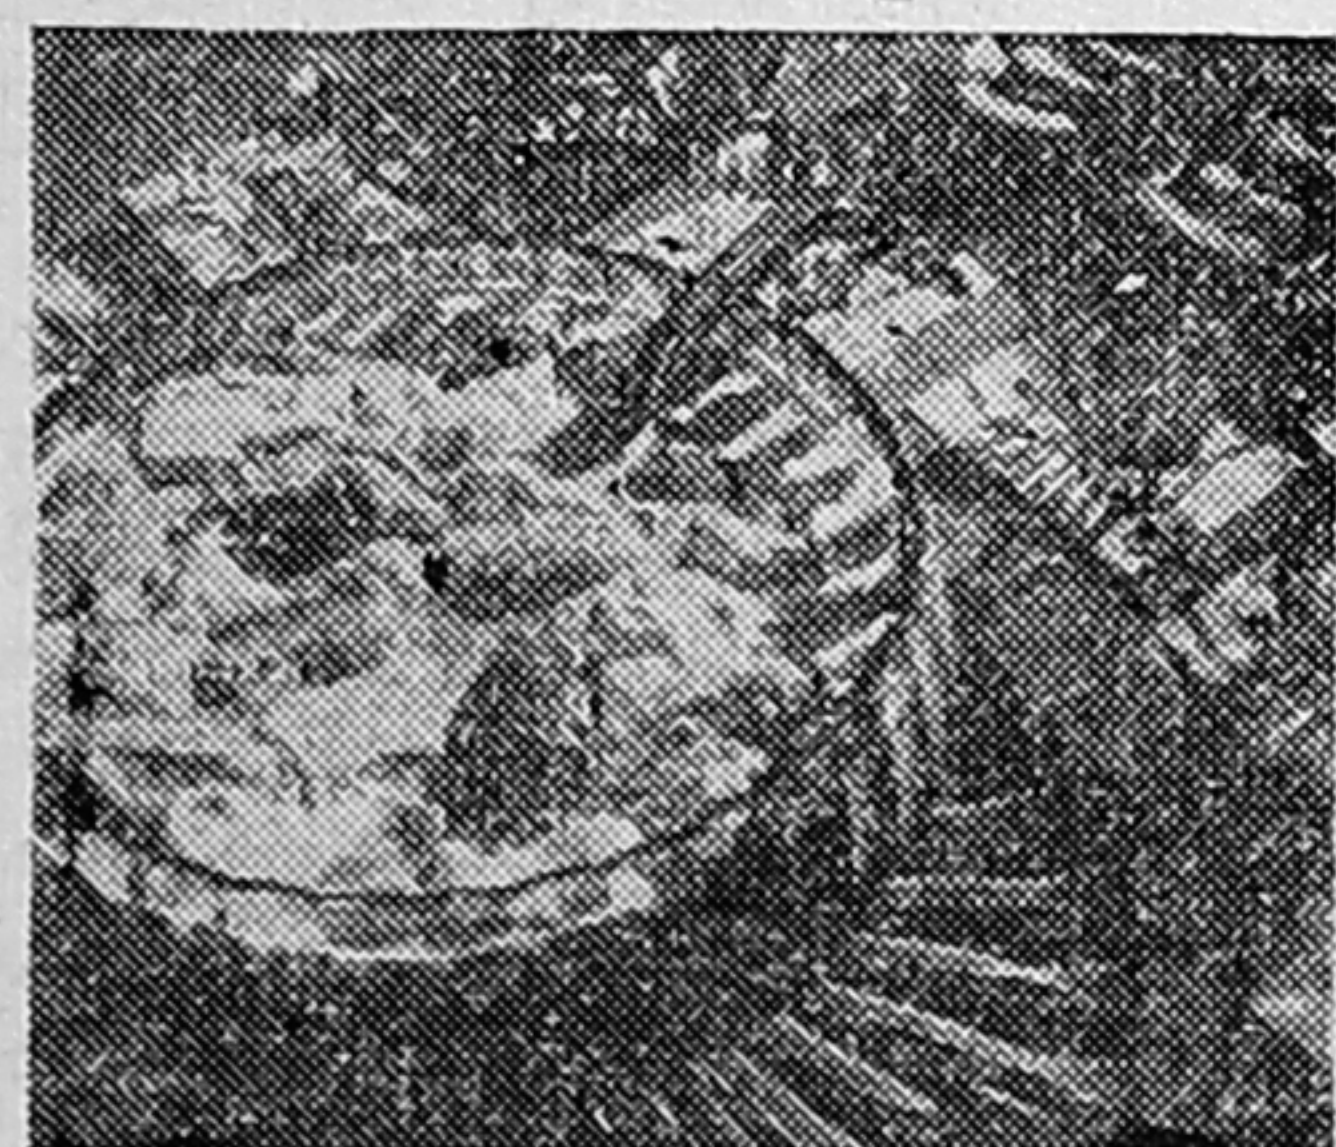

With reasonably good luck in the meantime, he should have a chance to realize his ambition. Gene Talmadge may be through by the time Phillips is ready to run.

Pudding Ice Cream Keeps Family Happy

It's easy to keep the family happy with plenty of ice cream, what with a modern refrigerator and a supply of fruit and cream, honey or sirup on hand, according to the Country Cooking editor of nationally circulated Capper's Farmer.

The recipe for Pudding Ice Cream below, won first prize in the recent Capper's Farmer Refrigerator Desert contest for Mrs. Bertha Olman, Bay County, Michigan.

PUDDING ICE CREAM

- 1 tsp. unflavored gelatin
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1/4 c. milk
- 1 pkg. vanilla pudding mix
- 1/2 c. white corn sirup
- 1/2 c. cream
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 3/4 c. black walnuts

Soften gelatin in the 3/4 cup of milk. Add remaining milk to pudding mix; place over low heat and stir until it boils and thickens. Stir softened gelatin into pudding to dissolve it. Remove at once from heat. Add sirup, cream and vanilla. Pour into refrigerator trays. Freeze until slightly firm. Then scrape from tray into bowl; beat with rotary beater till smooth but not melted. Stir in chopped nuts. Return to tray and freeze. Serves 6

Women IN THE CHURCH by Mary Fowler

Aroused by the recent mass murders in Georgia, members of the Georgia Council of Church Women have passed resolutions urging "every church woman who takes her religion seriously . . . to speak out against all intolerance and injustice, especially when shown toward members of any minority group; and both to practice and to advocate in her community, positive and constructive good will where ever there is misunderstanding, suspicion and the resulting hatreds and fears between groups, and to demand that fair play and equal justice be assured to every citizen no matter how obscure or helpless. To claim the name of Christian without positive Christian action at a time like this is sacrilege." Representatives of the Methodist, Lutheran, Presbyterian, Baptist, Episcopal, Christian and Congregational Churches invited participation of "all like-minded women, either individually or in groups." Those interested were asked to communicate with the Council, 409 Henry Grady Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Between 80 and 90 per cent of all industrial accidents are caused by unsafe practices, while unsafe conditions are responsible for only 10 to 20 per cent. Estimates show that 16,000 to 19,000 persons are killed each year as a result of occupational accidents.

Interesting Notes

A child's sprinkling can is convenient for watering of house plants.

Rub tin and iron utensils with unsalted fat and they're rust-proof for a long period of rest.

It is easier to iron dresses and blouses in this order: sleeves, back, front and collar.

Tip on painting: Don't overload brush, dip in one-third its length, and keep the can about half full.

To help restore the original lustre of gilt picture frames rub with a sponge moistened with turpentine.

Don't overcrowd the dishpan. Wash one pan at a time and you will spare knobs and handles from useless dents and breakage.

Late fall is regarded as the best time to do house painting, for by then the long summer sun has removed all moisture from the wood.

When you line dresser drawers or cupboard shelves, cut at least three layers of paper. Place them all at once. Then when the top is soiled, slip one paper off.

Way to locate a tiny leak in a roof is to go into the attic on a bright sunny day, then no matter how small the hole, the light will show through.

Before reputting seal the wood with a coat of paint so that the oil in the putty will not be absorbed. Putty, if used over plain wood, may become dry and fall off.

Food specialists recommend starting all vegetables in salted water. Salt improves the flavor, and when you add salt at the beginning, it helps green vegetables keep their color.

When painting doors or furniture cover the knobs and hardware with a coating of petroleum jelly. After painting has been finished wipe it off. Paint spots are removed at the same time.

Christmas Giving Simplified— You "Plan When You CAN!"

It may be a long time till Christmas but didn't you vow last year that never again would you spend so much for so little now wait until the eleventh hour to do that spending? And didn't you worry a wrinkle in your pretty brow because you couldn't think of the right gift for the friends who "have everything"? Nobody has everything and the very thing one person may consider too everydayish to rate gift wrapping may be all but priceless in the eyes of another. So, why not for a change do most of your Christmas shopping right in your own fruit pantry? Now is the time to start!

Use Home Canning Jars

If you live in or near the country, a package of native greens—pine, cedar, mistletoe, red berries, bitter sweet, holly, or what have you—along with two or three pint or half-pint jars of your best home canned relish or preserves or chicken will mean far more to the friends who went to the big city to make good than anything you could buy for them. But here is a word of warning. Be sure not to trespass on some other person's property when you go greens hunting (you might land in jail). And be sure that the canned offerings are in regular home canning jars, otherwise you may not get credit for stirring good wishes into that wild blackberry jam, spiced figs, citron preserves, quince jelly, chutney, rummage pickle or whatever is your specialty.

Wrap Jars Safely

We have the word of Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director for Ball Brothers Company, manufacturer of fruit jars, that home canned products are good travelers when they can go in comfort, but are finicky when it comes to roughing it. In fact, they demand well padded berths. For Christmas packing, Miss Kimbrough suggests that each jar be washed, polished, labeled, and wrapped in thick, shock-absorbing layers of cotton batting, then fitted snugly into a box. The box is gift wrapped and placed in a larger one for shipping. The outside box should be marked "fragile."

Rummage Pickle

- 1 quart chopped ripe tomatoes
- 2 quarts chopped green tomatoes
- 3 large onions
- 1 large cucumber

- 3 cups chopped celery
- 3 green peppers
- 3 red peppers
- 1 pod hot red pepper
- 1 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1 tablespoon ground cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
- 2 quarts vinegar

Chop and measure vegetables. Mix with salt. Let stand overnight. Drain. Add other ingredients. Simmer until there is no excess liquid. Pack into hot jars; seal at once.

Peach Chutney

- 2 onions
- 1 clove garlic
- 1 cup seeded raisins
- 1/4 cup white mustard seed
- 2 tablespoons ground ginger
- 1 pod hot red pepper
- 1 cup brown sugar

Smile Awhile

Seaman—Was that your best girl I saw you with last night?
Second Seaman—Nope, necks best.

Mother—Son, I don't want to see you with that wild girl any more.
Son—Aw heck, mom, she ain't wild; anybody can pet her.

Teacher—What inspired the pioneers to set forth in their covered wagons?

Bright Pupil—Well, maybe they didn't want to wait 30 years for a train.

Officer (to colored driver)—Don't whip your horse man; talk to him.

Driver (to horse)—Ah comes from New Awleams, wheah does you-all come from.

And so, concluded the Sunday School teacher, Adam and Eve were driven from the Garden of Eden.

Couldn't Adam drive his own car? asked the pupil whose dad ran a garage.

Dad, how old is grandpa?

I don't know exactly, son, unless I looked it up in the family Bible.

Gee Whiz! I thought he was old, but I didn't know he was old enough to be in the Bible.

Pat and Mike stood before a store window, where trunks were placed on sale.

Mike, why don't you buy a trunk?

What for?
To put your clothes in.
What! And me go naked!

Son—Daddy, what is an actor?
Dad—My son, an actor is a man who can walk to the side of a stage, peer into the wings filled with theatrical props, dirt and dust, other actors, stage hands, old clothes and other clap trap, and say: What a lovely view there is from this window.

Salmon-Tomato Pie Has Taste Appeal

There's true flavor teamwork when salmon and tomatoes are combined in a pie shell, writes Marjorie Griffin, Rural Home editor of nationally-circulated Capper's Farmer.

"If you are short on time, dispense with the crust," she advises homemakers in the magazine read by 1,300,000 farm families. "Just have a fish and vegetable casserole. Grated cheese is a delightful topping."

 - 3/4 c. chopped green pepper
 - 1/4 c. margarine
 - 2 1/2 c. canned tomatoes
 - 3 tbsp. flour

 - 2 tsp. sugar
 - 1 1/2 lb. can salmon
 - grated cheese
 - 1 unbaked pie crust
- Saute onion and green pepper in margarine. Add the tomatoes, flour, seasonings and sugar. Cook about 15 minutes. Fit pie crust into baking dish; spread salmon over top of it. Cover with the tomato sauce. Bake at 400° F. for 20 to 25 minutes.

State Finances Improve

While the Federal government has been piling up a huge debt, the financial condition of States has improved until State finances generally are in better shape than they have been in for many years.

Overall State debt has been reduced more than 25 per cent.

State and local governments have accumulated and invested, mostly in government bonds, more than $5,000,000,000 in surplus funds.

Unemployment compensation reserves by the end of the war totaled more than $6,000,000,000.

The improvement of State finances, however, affords only minor relief for taxpayers compared with the overshadowing size of the Federal debt and prospect Federal tax rates will be maintained at high levels in an effort to balance the national budget.

GREATER THAN THE ATOMIC BOMB

It was the great Sir James Simpson, world-famous scientist, who when he was asked, "What do you consider your greatest discovery?" replied: "That I am a sinner and that Christ is my Savior."

To a world, still dizzy with excitement over the invention of the atomic bomb, this "greatest discovery" of Sir Simpson may not seem to be of much importance.

And yet his was the greatest discovery any man can ever make. Within the reach of every one of us God has placed a power which can spell the difference between heaven and hell. 1 Cor. 1:18-24; 1 Peter 2:6-9.

That power was demonstrated in all its fullness on a little hill outside the City of Jerusalem 1900 years ago. There the powers of heaven met with the powers of hell, and the powers of hell were vanquished. Gen. 3:15; Col. 2:13-15; 1 Cor. 15:55-57; Heb. 2:14, 15.

When Christ died in the place of sinners and the noonday sun became as black as night, when the earth quaked and the graves were opened (Matt. 26:45-53), the power of hell had been forever broken. The sins of all mankind had been atoned!

Throughout the centuries this message of personal redemption through the blood of Christ, which the Bible calls the "power of God," has brought its light and healing influence into the hearts and lives of millions.

The Gospel of Christ has proved to be the only power which can cleanse the guilty conscience, which can bring peace to the troubled soul, and which can change the savage heart of man into the dwelling of the Master!

The world has known no greater "discovery", nor can it ever hope to find one greater.

If you would like to know more about the teachings of the Christian religion, we shall be happy to help you.
