IN FULL

Henry Clay at one time in his life owed $10,000 to a bank in Kentucky. A number of friends, knowing that this debt weighed heavily on his mind, secretly raised the money and quietly paid off the debt.

When Mr. Clay later came to the bank to discuss his financial status, the cashier startled him by saying: "Mr. Clay, you don't owe this bank a cent!" "Why, how am I to understand you?" "Well," replied the cashier, "a number of your friends have paid off your debt for you-your account has been paid in full!"

Tears rushed into Mr. Clay's eyes and, unable to speak, he walked away. His heart was overwhelmed by the joy of a great deliverance—deliverance from a debt beyond his ability to pay.

What a striking illustration of the central fact of the Christian faith! "And you, being dead in your sins," says Paul, "hath He quickened . . . having forgiven you all trespasses; blotting out the handwriting . . . that was against us . . . nailing it to His cross." Colossians 2:14.

That handwriting was the debt of unforgiven sin which stood against us in the court of heaven. But that handwriting, says the Bible, is now gone, destroyed, "blotted out." Christ, by His substitutionary death in the place of sinners, has paid the full penalty, suffered the full punishment, and rendered complete satisfaction for every sin of every sinner.

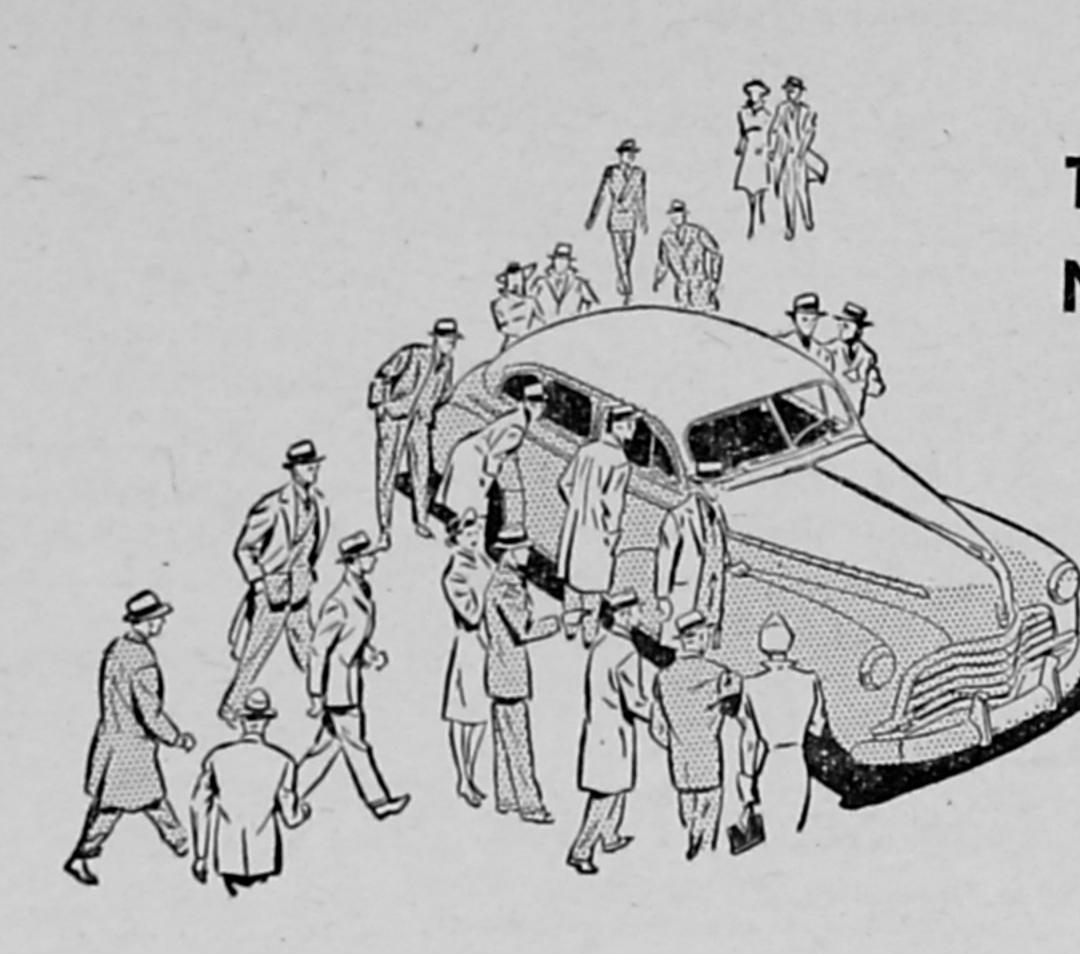

"Paid in full!" That is the essence of the Gospel. "Paid in full! Completely forgiven through the blood of Christ!" That is the divine receipt of heaven which the Christian Church has been commissioned by her Master to proclaim.

Have you rejected that divine receipt? To reject it is to assume the debt. Have you accepted the divine receipt by sincere and trusting faith? Then your debt is gone—paid in full by the blood of Christ and heaven is forever yours!

The opportunity of hearing the Christian Doctrines explained may not be open to you again. We urge you to come! Come before the day of grace pass and it is too late.

THERE SIMPLY ARE NOT ENOUGH NEW CHEVROLETS TO GO AROUND

We are getting our fair share of the current production of new Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks. And as strikes and shortages decrease, as the Chevrolet plants are able to produce more and more new passenger cars and trucks, we'll get more and more of them to deliver to our customers.

Meanwhile, as long as shortages do exist, it is our purpose to apportion our share of the new Chevrolets available fairly and justly among the many customers, new and old, whose continued friendship and patronage are the keystone of our business.

So that you may have no doubt as to our method of distribution of new Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks, we make the following-

DECLARATION

1. PRIORITY OF DELIVERY—New Chevrolet cars and trucks will be apportioned on the basis of: (1) essential public services, (2) veterans' occupational requirements, (3) priority of date in placing orders.

2. PRICES — All new Chevrolet cars and trucks will be sold at the authorized prices current at time of delivery.

3. TRADE-INS—No trade-in will be required from any customer who does not have a car to dispose of at the time of the transaction. Customers who do have cars will be given allowances based on honest appraisal and fair value at the time of delivery.

4. ACCESSORIES—No customer will be asked to purchase accessories as a condition of securing delivery.

5. STATUS OF ORDERS — Customers will be informed, upon request, of the true status of their orders in our files.

6. NEW ORDERS—We welcome your order for a new Chevrolet at any time.

WE THANK YOU FOR YOUR PATIENCE AND LOYALTY IN AWAITING DELIVERY OF YOUR NEW CHEVROLET

Patches that press on may be used for mending weak spots in the feet of hose. Mend before the weak spot wears through to make certain the patch does not show.

Getting the family up 15 minutes earlier in the morning may seem to be a difficult task, but it will pay dividends by avoiding breakfast-time rush and confusion which often result in petty annoyances that start the day off wrong.

Killing Frost

By ELSIE WILLIAMS McClure Syndicate. WNU Features.

LLIE BURNSIDES walked up to his neighbor's when the moon rose. Wanted to find out a thing or two. Jennings Milton was a cattleman and had ought to know about land laws. That winnie field nowif he could just hang on to it for another six months-or was it a Jen was on the porch, smoking his pipe. "Evenin'," he said to Ollie. "Come on in."

be so short with me, Ollie thought. "No, I'll jus' sit here on the edge o' the porch. Tol' Myrt I wouldn't stay but jus' a minute. . . . Pretty night, ain't it?" "Yeah."

Ollie's Adam's apple bobbed up and down before the next words would come out. "Come t' seeknow anythin' 'bout law, Jen?" "Enough t' git by. More'n you can say, I reckon." "You're the man I want t' see, then," Ollie said. "Ain't there a law, Jen, what says does a man farm a piece o' land seven years it's his'n-man what farms it?" "What's on your mind, Ollie?

"That's right, Jen." Ollie drew one knee up against his chest and gripped it with both hands. "Hadn't it ought t' be mine by law in six months? Or is it a winnie bit more'n that? Not long's a year, is Jen laughed. His white teeth gleamed in the moonlight. "You've lost out in your squattin' on the other man's land, Ollie. I done leased all that Abner Langford section for pasture. Means you gotta take down the fence from around your dag-nabbed winnie field!"

Ollie Burnsides' jaw dropped. "But-but, looky here, man-I ain't dug my 'taters. An' I ain't cut my cane off'n that winnie field yit!" Jen sat back in his rocker comfortably. "Well, I'd be within my rights, I reckon, t' order you t' take down the fence now. Just t' show you I got a heart I say leave it ontill you can git your stuff off."

Ollie hedged for time. "Cane ain't sweetened enough yit, Jen. An', man, them 'taters ain't noways

Jen said, "Tol' you I had a heart, didn't I? Well, reckon you can leave them 'taters on till frost kills the Ollie rose from the porch. "Be bad news t' Myrt. She's sot her heart on that winnie field. Grubbed 'meeter roots in there, Myrt did." Ollie owned ten acres of swampland along the creek bank. Water come up every summer and flooded his place. Then when the land was in shape to farm again the creek would drain it dry as a match stick. A man couldn't raise a crop o' stick-tights on it, let alone cane or 'taters.

Pleasant fall weather lasted into December. Jen came to see Ollie. "Ain't dug them 'taters yit?" he

"No, sho' ain't. You said dig 'em when frost killed the vines. Ain't done that yit."

Jen jerked his horse's head up it—dagnab it! Mighty onusual weather. Cuttin' your cane, I see." "That's right. Had jus' enough cold weather t' make good syrup." "An' no killin' frost!" said Jen Milton bitterly. "Them 'taters had ought t' be dug anyway." "Man o' your word, ain't you?" Ollie asked. "Leastways that's the Frost came a few weeks later, but only a few tender leaves were nipped. Then warm weather held until all danger of another freeze was past. Again Jen went to see Ollie. Ollie grinned at him. "Ain't no use you buckin' an' a-rearin' like that, Jen. Won't be frost now until sometime in the fall. That winnie field is mine. I got squatter's claim t' it. Went t' see ol' Judge James-"

"That scoundrel!" Jen broke in "Well, he sent me up oncet, Judge James did, but I thank him for puttin' me wise t' some state laws. O'l Abner Langford slipped up on some o' the taxes on the winnie-field piece years ago. I got them tax certificates now. The judge says was I kicked off last fall- Funny things 'bout law-and weather-eh, Jen?"

Who Gets Off Easiest— Men or Women?

Maybe you saw that poll on who has the easiest life-men or women? Of course, the men voted that the women did, and the women vice versa.

It would be the same in our town -take any family. Thad Phibbs envies his Missus spending the day at home, with no hot office to attend to. And Sue envies Thad his luncheons with the boys; and his evening glass of beer with friends (while she cleans up the dishes in the kitchen).

Of course, none of it goes very deep. Thad knows way deep down that the Missus has plenty of work running a house; and Sue knows Thad's friendly glass of beer is welldeserved relaxation after a long hard day's work.

From where I sit, most husbands and wives may grumble now and then - but they know in their hearts it's a case of live and let live, give and take, that comes out pretty even in the end.

Fishing Developments

New developments in the fishing industry include the first floating plant for the complete processing, freezing and storage of shrimp in small, portable, mechanically refrigerated containers which will enable producers to ship small quantities of perishables by railroad in the same "odd-lot" manner as is used for other merchandise. Such containers, some of them as small as 25 the armed forces to supply fresh or frozen foodstuffs to troops fighting the Japs in almost inaccessible regions. The floating shrimp plant is a 44-ton vessel, the Betty Jean, which "mothers" a fleet of 100 or more small craft. Having complete mechanical refrigeration equipment, it makes possible, within a few hours and sometimes only a few minutes

South Africa Union Rich in Diamond Deposits

The Union of South Africa lies in a zone south of the equator comparable to that between Key West and Charlotte, N. C., in the northern hemisphere. The African zone has a greater variety of climate, however, than its counterpart in North America because most of the South African interior is a plateau rising more than 4,000 feet.

The climate favors a wide range of agricultural products. South Africa also has an extensive livestock industry. Normally, the country every year shipped millions of hides and skins, and many million pounds of wool to the United States; but the most valuable shipments Since the discovery of diamonds a total of more than two billion dollars' worth of diamonds. Shipments 20 million dollars' worth in a year, mostly uncut stones. A large part of the diamond imports was for industrial use. Industrial imports also in-
