Waltz Estate Damage Suits Are Settled

Danville, Feb. 17th—Damage suits for $45,000 against the Wabash railroad in the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Waltz and infant son of Newman, were settled in a brief hearing in federal court here Monday.

Alfred L. Durnill, administrator of the estates of Mrs. Zelma Mae Waltz and son, Joseph, four months old, dropped his complaints, seeking $15,000 for each death following an out of court settlement for nominal amounts. The railroad gave $200 to the boy's estate in Douglas county and $800 to Mrs. Waltz' estate.

Judge Walter C. Lindley ruled in favor of the railroad in the suit for $15,000 in the death of Philip Waltz, filed by Kent Morrow, administrator of the estate. Mr. Waltz was driver of the car.

The three members of the Waltz family were killed on April 19, 1947, when their car was struck by a Wabash train at a crossing east of Sidney.

 SCRIPTURE: Acts 2:37-47; Ephesians 4:1-6
 DEVOTIONAL READING: Ephesians 4:1-6, 11-13.

Christian Fellowship

Lesson for February 22, 1948

GEORGE WASHINGTON was a splendid example of Christian fellowship. If you will travel through the older portion of the United States, particularly in Virginia, you will come upon numerous instances of church pews marked as follows, "George Washington worshipped in this pew on blank date." Evidently, it was his custom to attend public worship in whatever community he spent the Lord's day.

Thus he entered into Christian fellowship, gaining a blessing and rendering a blessing.

The lesson passage for Sunday is found in Acts 2:37-47 and Ephesians 4:1-6, with several other passages which will be quoted before we finish the column for this week.

A HAPPY TIME IN CHURCH

READ Acts 2:41-47, and you will find a picture of a group of very happy people. Think of it, three thousand people professing faith in Jesus and receiving baptism in one day! But read on—they were not only happy at church, but they were happy because they were in the church. They continued steadfastly in the apostles' teachings and fellowship and breaking of bread and prayer.

They praised God and had favor with all the people. By their daily living they were convincing the world that fellowship in Christ is not only good on Sunday while we are at the meeting house, but good every day.

The happy homes are the homes where Christian fellowship abounds, and it is equally true in every area of life.

AT CHURCH WITH FRIENDS

"I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go unto the house of the Lord," Psalm 122:1.

THAT is poetry, you will agree, but it is also actual testimony not only of the Psalmist, but of countless junior boys and girls throughout our land who eagerly await the sound of the church bells. Boys and girls delight to go to Sunday school and worship when the life of the church is pervaded with Christian fellowship. There they meet the finest boys and girls in the community.

BELONGING TO THE CHURCH
 THE passage in Acts 2:37-47 tells us how certain people, after hearing the great sermon by Peter, asked how they might be saved. He told them:

"Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit."

When we invite intermediate friends to attend Sunday school and worship services with us, and they come to know of the love of God, they, too, will want to be saved. It is then the high privilege of Christian boys and girls to lead their friends to accept Jesus Christ as Saviour, and come into the church.

In Ephesians 4:4-6, we read these words: "There is one body and one Spirit, just as you were called to the one hope that belongs to your call, one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of us all, who is above all and through all and in all."

ALL ONE IN CHRIST

THE above passage from Ephesians teaches clearly that there is a brotherhood of man, real and abiding, when we accept the Fatherhood of God, through Jesus Christ. This is the meaning of the church. No amount of man-made creeds can save us. No amount of ritual and ceremony can save us. We are saved by grace through faith, and that is the gift of God. When we repent of our sins and believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, we are saved, and not until then.

The one adequate solvent for the crying needs of this frightened world is the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ. Just as thousands were saved on Pentecost and again on the Lord's Day when Peter preached in Solomon's porch, so today many may be saved where the Gospel is proclaimed in its simplicity and power.

We are one in Christ, of every race and every tongue. The fellowship of Christian faith transcends every barrier—racial, economic, geographic, political, religious. We have but to proclaim the universality of this good news—proclaim it in our words and proclaim it in our daily lives. The world waits wistfully for the encompassing fellowship that is in Christ and in Christ alone.

Judging Others

It is trite to say that in judging the character and motives of another person we should try to imagine ourselves in his place. But how many of us do it? How many of us make a conscious and determined effort to be fair in our estimate of the other fellow? An unknown author has set forth some thoughts in this connection which are worth repeating:

When the other fellow acts that way, he is ugly; when you do it, it is nerves.

When the other fellow is set in his way, he's obstinate; when you are, it's firmness.

When the other fellow treats someone especially well, he is toadying; when you do it, it's tact.

When the other fellow takes his time, he is dead slow; when you do, you are deliberate.

When the other fellow picks a flaw, he's cranky; when you do, you are discriminating.

When the other fellow says what he thinks, he is spiteful; when you do, you are frank, and so on.

It is really hard to apply to ourselves the same yardstick which we use in measuring our neighbors. But we ought to try it.

Old Arms Obsolete

Weapons which were used so effectively in World War II are mostly obsolete already, according to Gen. George C. Kenney, U.

S. Strategic Air Force commander, who discussed armaments in a recent issue of the Ordnance Magazine.

"In the armed forces, we cannot afford to live on the reputations we made from 1941 to 1945," he wrote. "We must think in terms of modern war. World War II is not modern—it is out of date."

He pointed out that the greater speed of present airplanes has brought many new problems. Metals used in former reciprocating engines are useless in the greater heat produced in the jet power plant, and simple riveting jobs won't do in the modern fighter or bomber, whose surfaces must be as smooth as glass.

"Our bombs are obsolete for new, high-speed aircraft," he said. "The present shapes are so poor that no one knows what they would hit if released at modern speeds. They would tumble all over the sky, shedding fins and possibly detonating themselves in the violence of their own gyrations, if dropped from a bomb bay at a speed of 600 miles an hour."

General Kenney added that air-craft machine guns and cannon used in World War II would be only little better in the future than the cannon used by the English at the Battle of Crecy 500 years ago.

While the general's comparison may be somewhat exaggerated, it emphasizes the fact that continued research and development of armaments is necessary to keep the United States in the forefront in modern war machines.

The chief industries of the state of Oregon include fruit growing, fishing and agriculture. Its lumber industry is important; its salmon industry is very large. It also produces hops in large quantities.

Old Arms Obsolete

The state of Maine produces a large potato crop, with hay in second place in its agricultural list. The state's main manufacturing is cotton and wool textiles and boots and shoes.

Smile Awhile

A man should work eight hours and sleep eight hours, but not the same eight hours.

People who live in glass houses might as well answer the door bell.

Middle age has been defined as that period when looking backward makes one sad and looking forward makes one miserable.

A colored divine was once asked to explain the doctrine of election. Said he: Brethren, it is this way. The Lord he is always voting for a man, and the Devil he is always voting against him. Then the man himself votes, and that breaks the tie!

Doc, I get awful pains when I bend over, put my hands below my knees, straighten up and bring them above my waist.

Well, why make such silly movements, then?

Silly, my eye! How else do you think I can get my pants on?

Probably nowhere in the world do women have sharper claws or sharper tongues than in Movieville. Witness the remark of two filmites overheard as they discussed a mutual "friend."

Said the first: She certainly has developed a big head.

Said the other: She needs it to support her two faces!

Two trucks met on a country road just wide enough for one. Truck driver No. 1, a scrawny, frail little man, leaned out of his cab.

Turn out, you, he shouted. If ya don't, I'll do to you what I did to the last guy who wouldn't turn out for me.

Two hundred pound, muscular driver No. 2, not caring to have trouble, pulled out. But as the other truck rumbled by, he yelled: What'd ya do to that other guy?

Turned out for him, said No. 1.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Free Ride For You—on the Freedom Train!

We had a real thrill in Our Town just the other day—when the Freedom Train stopped by!

You've heard about it, of course—an actual train that's touring the country to remind us again what true Democracy means. It carries such Americana as the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights, and other immortal documents that guarantee every citizen his liberty.

A great idea! And from where I sit, we're all riding along with that Freedom Train—right now—by living in a country that protects our individual liberties—whether they apply to our right to vote, to choose our church, to speak our minds, or enjoy a glass of beer with friends.

Only thing is—we've got to prove ourselves worthy of the ride... by guarding zealously against whatever forces of intolerance encroach upon our American concepts of live-and-let-live, in a free and strong Democracy!
