Farm Safety Week July 25 to 31

Governor Dwight H. Green has proclaimed the period from July 25 through July 31 as Farm Safety Week in Illinois. The Illinois Farm Advisers association is sponsoring the observance of the week as a high point in its campaign to prevent accidents on farms. More than 200 Illinois farm people lost their lives in accidents last year.

Arnold P. Benson, state director of agriculture, issued an appeal to residents of agricultural areas to cooperate in a year-around program of accident prevention.

"Anything that can be done to arouse a sense of safety-consciousness among farm folks is a most worthy undertaking," he declared. "Most farm accidents can be prevented by a forethought, but carelessness can make farming one of the most hazardous of all occupations."

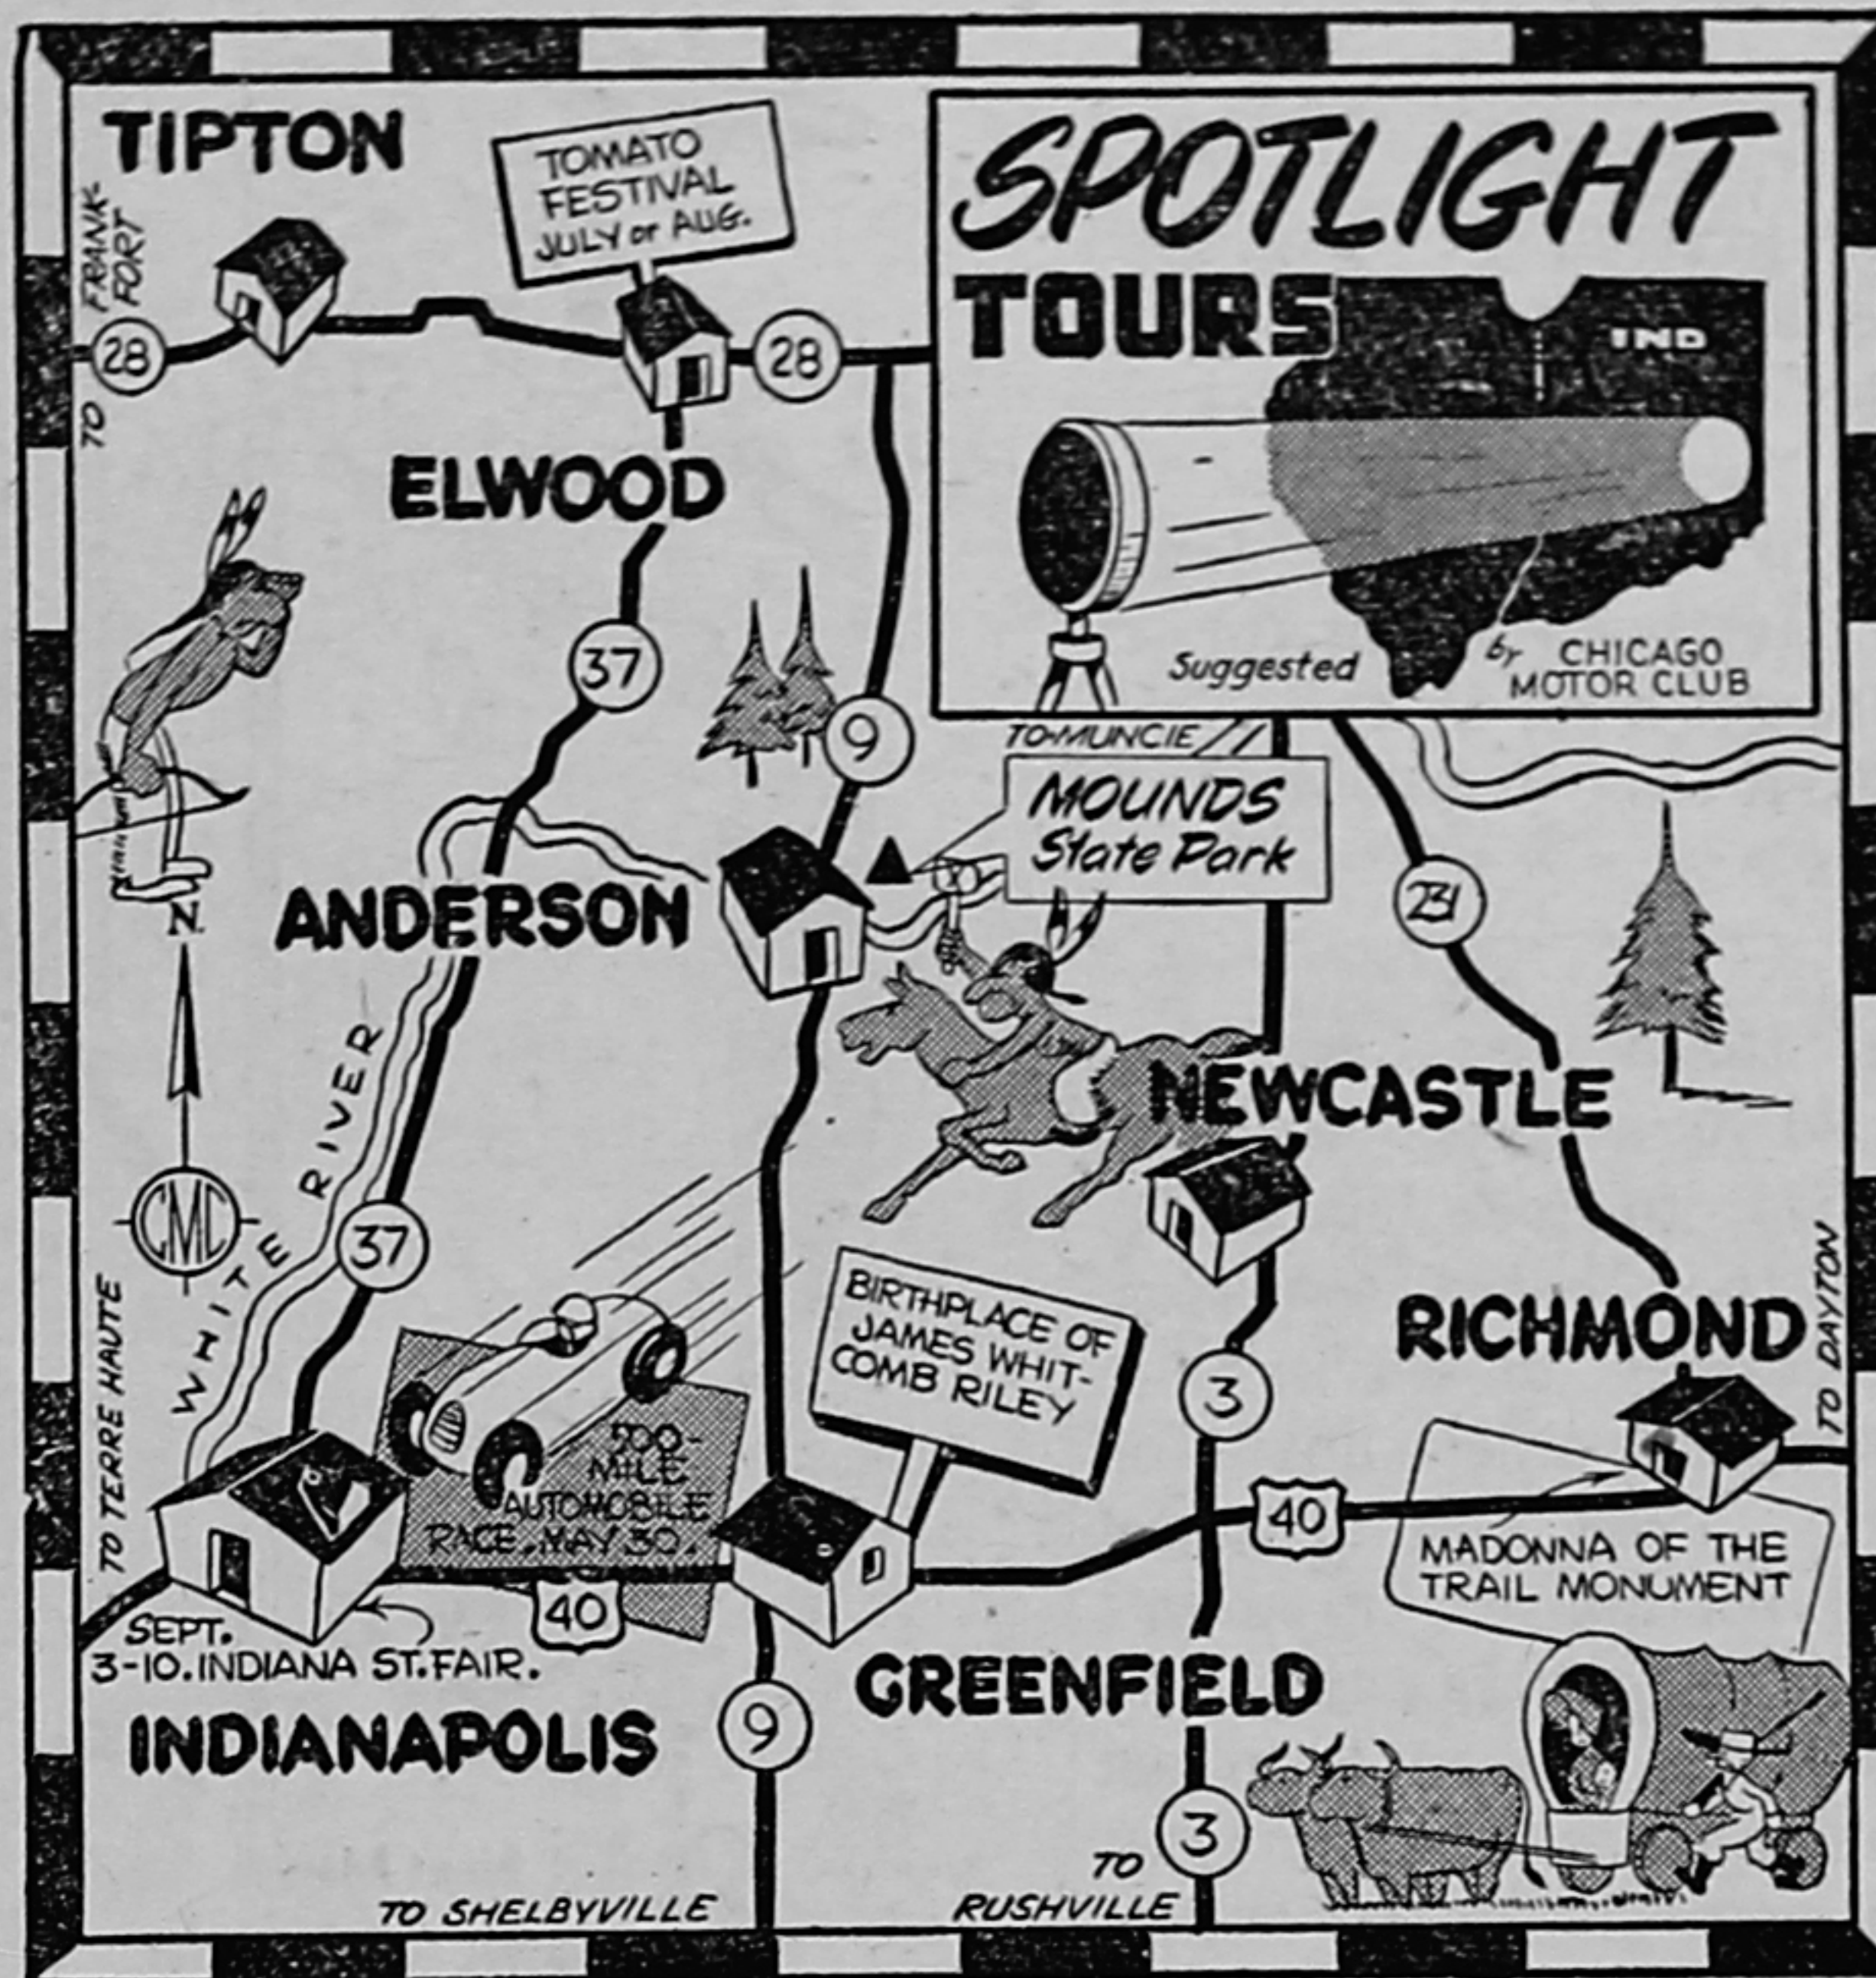

Spotlight Tours

A trip to Santa Claus, Ind., that will be interesting to children, as well as parents, is suggested by the Touring bureau of the Chicago Motor Club.

Mail addressed to Santa Claus is sent to this town at Christmas time to be remailed with the Santa Claus postmark. Miniature castles and towers built by toy and candy manufacturers will be found in the Toy Village near the post office. Santa Claus park contains a wishing well and a granite statue of St. Nick. The statue was dedicated to the children of America, is 22 feet high and weighs over 40 tons.

Also of interest are Little and Big Wyandotte caves at Wyandotte with their unusual varieties of formations in the shape of stalactites, stalagmites, flowers of gypsum, calcite and epsom salt crystals.

Nancy Hanks Lincoln memorial and Lincoln State park are Indiana's tribute to Abraham Lincoln and his mother. Lincoln spent fourteen years as a boy and young man on this land.

Five Narrowly Escape Death at Sidney Crossing

Sidney—Five persons narrowly escaped death at 4:30 p. m. on Friday, July 9, when their automobile was almost struck by a Wabash freight train at a grade crossing at the east edge of Sidney.

Mrs. Neva Robinson, Clay City, driver of the northbound auto, careened the auto into the east ditch just before it crossed in front of the train approaching from the west. The crossing has no flasher signals and vision is obscured.

The car rolled over but was not badly damaged.

The only persons injured were Vanatti, who had cuts and bruises; and Mrs. Robinson, who suffered a severe cut on the right knee.

After being treated by Dr. Bowser at his office in Sidney, they returned to Broadlands.

Other passengers in the auto were Vanatti's sister, Patty; his half-sister, Linda Ronk; and the small son of Mrs. Robinson. Vanatti is the son of Mrs. Kenneth Ronk, southeast of Broadlands.

Women Have Better Record For Farm Safety

Are farm women more safety conscious than their husbands? Illinois farm accident figures indicate that they are, according to W. W. Whitlock, safety director of the Illinois Agricultural Association.

While 217 farm people in Illinois lost their lives in home and work accidents last year, only 12 were women.

Of course, the men folks are exposed to more hazards in field work, but Whitlock says that national statistics show that the home also is the scene of many accidents.

"However, it seems that farm women are doing a better job, so we're going to try to get them to make their husbands safety conscious, during National Farm Safety Week, July 25-31," Whitlock says.

SCRIPTURE: Ruth.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 28:6-9.

Naomi, Woman Of Faith

Lesson for July 18, 1948

IF WE are to understand Ruth, cherished heroine of the book bearing her name, we must know Naomi, her mother-in-law—woman of faith in God and surpassing patience and sacrifice in service to her day and generation.

Dr. Newton

It is the Book of Ruth which we have for Sunday's lessons, with Psalms 28:6-9 as the devotional reading. The golden text, "Thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God," Ruth 1:16.

IN SEARCH OF BREAD

FAMINE in Judah, where Elimelech and his wife, Naomi, and their sons, Mahlon and Chilion, dwelt, drove them to Moab, in search of bread. Elimelech died, and the sons married young women of Moab, Ruth and Orpah. And then the sons died. Naomi, feeling that she must not longer remain in Moab, announced her intention to return to her native land, and bade Ruth and Orpah farewell. In one brief decade Naomi had lost husband and sons, and now she longed for home.

"INTREAT ME NOT TO LEAVE THEE"

ORPAH accepted Naomi's suggestion, and turned away to her own people; but not so with Ruth. She loved Naomi. She could not give her up. Naomi had done something for Ruth in those years of sorrow and loss.

"Intreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee; for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge. Thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God. Where thou diest, I will die, and there will I be buried. The Lord do so to me, and more also, if aught but death part thee and me."

With these sublime words, Ruth lashed herself to Naomi, and together they started on the long trek to Bethlehem.

WHEN FAITH CONQUERS

HERE we witness conquering faith—conquering faith in the hearts of Naomi and Ruth. And they come to Bethlehem. It was the harvest season, and Naomi directed Ruth to glean in the field of Boaz, a wealthy and generous-hearted citizen of Bethlehem. Faith in action! And the world loves the story of Ruth becoming the wife of Boaz, and thus the mother of Obed, the grandfather of David the king in the ancestral line of Jesus Christ, the King of kings.

And Naomi, through her conquering faith, held in her arms the little baby, Obed, and dreamed of God's unfolding purposes to bless the world.

In this unsurpassed romance we witness faith in adversity, faith in association, faith in conduct, faith in claim, faith in confidence, and faith in a glorious climax.

WHEN FAITH CONQUERS

LIFE is always ennobled when faith conquers. It is easy to imagine how history might have missed this beautiful love story, had not Naomi been a woman of conquering faith. She might have given up and over to her great sorrow and pined away in grief and defeat.

But Naomi followed the gleam. And her trust in God shed its gentle glow into the lonely heart of the Moabite widow, Ruth. Ruth clave unto Naomi. She could not do otherwise. "Truth is stranger than fiction."

And all history was enriched. It is ever so when faith conquers. Thus the poet states the case:

"God moves in mysterious ways,
His wonders to perform,
"He plants his footsteps on the sea,
And rides upon the storm."

(Copyright by the International Council of Religious Education on behalf of 40 Protestant denominations. Released by WNU Features.)

Faith

I cannot conceive that God could make such a species as the human merely to live and die on this earth. If I did not believe in a future state, I should believe in no God.

—John Adams.

Where there is no faith, there can be no endeavor.

Believe In Life

To believe in immortality is one thing, but it is first needful to believe in life.—Stevenson.

What is the highest secret of victory and peace? To will what God wills, and strike a league with destiny.—W. R. Alger.

The 80th Congress

President Truman has called the 80th Congress, which adjourned June 20, "the worst in our history." Republicans have retorted that Mr. Truman is the worst President in our history. Henry Wallace says both the President and Congress are the worst in our history.

Neither of these three statements can be definitely proved. They are merely off-hand assertions made for political effect.

But whatever its shortcomings may have been, the 80th Congress was not a "do-nothing" body, as many of its critics have charged. It passed about 895 bills, some of them of the highest importance, which is more than were passed by either of the three previous Congresses.

Two of the most controversial measures enacted were the Taft-Hartley and tax reduction acts, both passed over vetoes by the President.

Veterans and their dependents were given liberal treatment. Terminal leave bonds were made payable; increased payments were provided for veterans in school and in training on the job, and pensions for widows and orphans were increased.

Pay of about 1,330,000 government employees was increased. These included postal workers, for whom better pay was long overdue. Support for prices of farm products was continued.

The administration's plans for foreign relief and rehabilitation received bi-partisan support, and practically all the funds requested were provided.

Unification of the armed services was put into effect and a separate Air Force established. Appropriations for the Army, Navy and Air Force were provided, totalling more than 13 billion dollars for the fiscal year which began July 1.

Provision was made for the admission of 205,000 displaced persons into the United States during the next two years, but under certain restrictions which President Truman denounced, although he signed the bill.

A limited peace-time draft act was passed instead of a universal military training plan originally proposed.

The President's power to reduce tariffs was extended in a modified form. Reciprocal trade agreements already made with foreign nations were not affected.

President Truman's so-called "civil rights" program, which caused the current revolt among Southern Democrats, completely failed, as similar legislation had failed in previous Congresses, in which Democrats held a majority in both houses.

The foregoing covers only the major measures passed or proposed during the two sessions of the 80th Congress. What it did and what it failed to do will furnish the principal political ammunition for the 1948 campaign, as no new issues of importance are likely to arise between now and the November elections.

Sidelights

A broken mirror is certainly no emblem of bad luck for the Fred J. Harrington family of Jamestown, N. Y. The other night a light bulb set fire to a lampshade, the flames spread to a curtain and window sash and then burned through a cord holding a mirror. The mirror fell to the floor and the crash attracted the family in time to avert a serious fire. Who said a broken mirror was bad luck?

Adolph Hitler wouldn't like the way his automobile was received upon its arrival in New York. As the big black 9,500-pound touring car, capable of doing 135 miles an hour, was swung to the pier, a chorus of hisses and boos greeted it. Designed by Hitler and built by Mercedes-Benz, the car is owned by Christopher G. Janus, of Chicago. In speaking of his purchase, Janus said: I have been trying for 18 months to get a car in the United States; it took just 30 days to buy Hitler's.

It was three years ago that the Donald Bassetts moved from Biloxi, Miss., to Rock Island, Ill. Although they hated the idea, it was necessary to leave Skip, their Springer spaniel, down on the Gulf. They didn't forget Skip and certainly Skip didn't forget his playmates, the two young Bassetts, and so Skip set out to find them. Recently after traveling more than 1,000 miles, the 10-year old spaniel reached the Bassetts home and now, gaunt and lean, takes his ease with Buddy Bassetts and his little sister as he recuperates from his wanderings.

Smile Awhile

Among the visitors at the city zoo were a gentleman and his cousin from the mountain country. The grizzled mountaineer stood spellbound, as he viewed the elephants, giraffes and various other animals and birds. It was with reluctance that he left one cage to go to another.

As they came to the monkey cage, however, he paused for only a moment and then hurried away.

What's the hurry? asked his companion, who loved to watch the monkeys.

I don't mind a-lookin' at the el'fants and sech, he explained, but these—wal, they were a-lookin' at me!

A much-married Hollywood actor was confronted by a gay damsel.

Hello, there, she greeted him; don't you remember me? Ten years ago you asked me to marry you.

Really, yawned the actor, and did you?

Tell me what you eat, and I'll tell you what you are, said a lunch counter philosopher.

Whereupon a meek little man sitting a few stools away, called to the waitress: Cancel my order for shrimp salad please.

One rainy afternoon Aunt Sue was explaining the meaning of various words to her young nephew.

For Sale—1½-horse International gas engine. Harold McGarigle, Allerton, Ill.

Now, an heirloom, my dear, means something that has been handed down from father to son, she said.

Well, replied the boy thoughtfully, that's a queer name for my pants.

Pancho and an Irishman named Pat were caught rustling cattle over the border, and after a summary trial were sentenced to be hanged. When the boys strung up Pancho, the rope slipped and he fell into the river below, rapidly swimming around a curve and making his escape.

The posse turned to string up Pat, who cautioned them: Boys, be sure yez tie a better knot this time. It's meself that can't swim a stroke.

RUHM'S PHOSPHATE

How Fine Is "85% Thru 300 Mesh?"

This is a term used to describe the fineness of a phosphate rock ground down to a point where 85% will wash through a copper screen woven so fine there are 300 openings to the inch, 90,000 openings to the square inch. This is so fine that the unaided eye is hardly able to distinguish the weave. This is so fine that to pass through this screen there must be approximately 27,000,000 particles of phosphate rock in one cubic inch of Ruhm's Phosphate Rock. This is finer than flour, finer than cement, finer by far than any other phosphate rock sold on a commercial basis.
