Vol. 18 — No. 27 | Georgetown, Vermilion County, Illinois | Friday, April 16, 1948

No matter how green the grass gets it still has to be cut.

Early spring is beginning to get a bad name in these parts. But after the first few boisterous blasts, there follows the soothing melody. Early spring has its bad moments hereabouts, but it's like seeing the old comic opera — you can't afford to miss any of the show. April is the month when color first comes back to a waiting countryside. The old barrenness and brownness have gone. Bright and cheerful green and gold are the outstanding colors. But so many of the early spring weeks in recent years have brought grief to the farmers. It seems we haven't been getting our rain and wind in the right doses. The farmer may dream rosy dreams of his barn bursting with the harvest of his acres and he may work from daybreak to the sun's going down, hammer and tongs, tooth and nails, but he cannot furnish enough rain with his perspiration nor push back the floods as he does his tractor up and down the rows. But if rain it must be, then rain's our choice.

It seems just no time at all
Since we attached them in the fall;
A grim reminder are the storm sashes
That time does not march on — it dashes.

Dear Watson:

No. Let her go and she'll fool herself.

Primary election day passed off quietly in the old home town. The day was chilly, with a sticky, misty rain seeping down almost constantly. Some of the voters, garbed in raincoats, mackinaws, slacks and even rubber boots, fortified themselves with steaming coffee and looked around cautiously as if expecting someone to urge them, with something persuasive, to vote. Once in awhile some argumentative number would start a mild discussion, but nothing of a loud nature occurred and about all that could be heard aside from the usual traffic noises, was the rain dripping from the eaves.

Often heard here and there—"Not that I want to be catty, but did you see . . .?"

Our Clean Story Club — "Is this the speedometer?" asked the pretty girl, tapping the glass with her finger.

"Yes, dear," he replied.

"And that's the clutch?"

"That's the clutch, darling," he said, jamming on his brakes to avoid a fast-approaching truck.

"But what on earth is this?" she inquired, at the same time giving the accelerator a vigorous push with her foot.

"This, dear," he said, in a soft celestial voice, "is heaven." and picking up a harp he flew away.

Why editors leave town: From the County Bard (N. J.) — She states that she has been writing ever since she was old enough to hold a pen, mostly poetry, with some snort stories . . . From the Georgetown (Ill.) News — The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white slipper satin with high necking and long sleeves.

Courtney, a veteran member who declined to be a candidate for re-election. Dudley received 208 and Gundrum, 195. Mike (Red) Laitas polled 140 votes, Andrew Karushis, 60, and Arthur Balsamello, 29.

William Pierce and Steve Tovey were re-elected as members of the Board of Education of High School District 220. They were unopposed and each polled a surprisingly high vote in view of the lack of competition. Pierce received 158 votes, and Tovey, 154.

Sharp Democratic Contests Feature Light Primary Vote

Congressional Fight Close as Spang Carries County; Cook Is Winner; Balloting about 15 to 20 Per Cent of Total Registration; Precinct Chiefs Named

Tuesday's voting in the primary election was light in this township, estimated at 15 to 20 per cent of the total registration. Several sharp contests developed, however, principally in the Democratic party balloting.

The contest for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 23rd district was uncertain up to late Wednesday night. With returns incomplete from 50 precincts in the district, Wayne R. Cook, Danville attorney, was leading with 4417 votes, while Mayor C. E. Spang of Georgetown was a close second with 3805. Samuel M. McKendree of Danville was in third place with 3222 votes.

With virtually all returns in, it was indicated that Cook was winner by a margin of 725 votes over Spang.

Second Contest

Another contest in the Democratic party was for state central committeeman in the 23rd district, one to be elected, with three candidates in the running. John E. Stipp and E. A. Dalbey of Danville and John R. Asher of Paris were the contenders. Asher appeared to be leading in the district Wednesday evening. Dalbey and Stipp were tied in Georgetown township, each with 214 votes.

Incomplete returns gave Asher 2748, Dalbey 2398 and Stipp 2210. Both Cook and Asher received their heaviest support in the southern counties in the district.

Republican voting was lighter than had been expected, although the lack of contests indicated a quiet primary. The 1st precinct in Georgetown and the 6th in Westville had the largest Republican returns. The Democratic vote led in Georgetown township over the Republican nomination for representative in the state legislature. A heavy vote, 496, was cast for John P. Meyer of Danville, while M. R. Walker, the present representative, with 407 votes, fell behind. Meyer received the largest Republican vote in the township. The vote was ahead of that for Gov. Green, who led the Republican ticket in Danville and in other polling centers in the county. W. O. Edwards led the Democratic field for the legislature, with 864 votes, against 225 for his opponent, Lawrence C. Beebe. Edwards was especially strong in the 3rd and 5th precincts.

Congregational Church Notes

Rev. C. R. Dierlamm, Minister

One of the most difficult things in life is to tell exactly what to think. This is the reason we have newspapers, magazines, radio, road maps, information bureaus and pulpits. In this present era, people are at a loss regarding the way out.

Anyone with common sense will admit that the only cure for this war-hungry world, that seems bent upon possessing the skill to kill the most people, is to be found in the words of Jesus Christ. He who would be the greatest amongst you let him be your servant. When the disciples began to dispute about having the chief seats of power, He told them exactly where they stood and then they got in line and went to places. They started a program of spreading the Gospel to the whole world, and we still believe in missions. The only way to peace in this old world of self-seeking is to humble ourselves before God.

Pfc. James H. Dietz, Sgt. Raymond Montgomery, Pfc. Carter Turner and Sgt. Robert R. Swords were dinner guests of T/Sgt. James A. Knox, all of Chanute Field, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Attan on Monday evening of last week.

CORRECTION

No attempt has ever been made to set prices on tomatoes to growers by the Indiana Canners Association.

The wide variation of prices proves this. Canners tries to conform with prices of his nearest competitor.

Our contracted prices on tomatoes this season are as follows: Thirty, $30.00 per ton for No. 1's. Twenty, $20.00 per ton No. 2's delivered at canner's receiving station.

Four premiums will be paid to growers delivering the largest tonage per acre of No. 1's. On fields of 1 to 5 acres, first premium of $75 (seventy-five dollars); second premium, $25.00. On acreage above 5-acre fields, $100.00 (one hundred dollars) 1st, and $75 (seventy-five dollars) second premium. This is to induce growers to use more fertilizer and deliver better quality.

Due to market conditions, only 200 acres will be contracted this season.

Indiailla Canning Co.

Paris, Ill., now has two police cars, one for patrol duty and the other to be stationed at the police station to answer emergency calls.

Body of Catlin Soldier to Arrive

CHICAGO — The casketed remains of Sgt. Billy E. Carrigan, a World War 11 deceased member of the Army from Catlin, Ill., being returned from overseas for final burial, will arrive in Fairmount some time this month, accompanied by a uniformed Army escort from the Chicago Distribution Center of the American Graves Registration Division, it is announced.

The body of Sergeant Carrigan was interred in the Epinal Temporary Military Cemetery in France but has been returned to this country for final interment at the request of his next of kin, Roy Carrigan, Catlin.

Lt. Col. Carroll J. Grinnell, chief of the Chicago distribution center, stated that a telegram will be sent to the consignee, in most cases the funeral director designated by the next of kin to receive the remains, giving the day and even the hour of arrival as well as the name of the accompanying uniformed escort.

Col. Grinnell pointed out that although the government provides the casket, transportation from overseas, a commemoration flag, a headstone, if desired, reimbursement of up to $75 towards burial expenses and a military escort, the decisions as to the nature and extent of funeral services rest solely with the next of kin. Many veterans groups are voluntarily offering their services for the burial ceremonies.

It is understood the Catlin and Fairmount Posts of the American Legion will conduct military rites.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 18, was:

"DOCTRINE OF ATONEMENT"

The Golden Text was:

"There is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus" (I Tim. 2: 5).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon were the following from the Bible:

"And Jesus walked in the temple in Solomon's porch. Then came the Jews round him, and said unto him, How long dost thou make us to doubt? If thou be the Christ, tell us plainly. Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believed not: the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me . . . I and my Father are one" (John 10: 23-25, 30).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"That saying of our Master, "I and my Father are one, separated him from the scholastic theology of the rabbis. His better understanding of God was a rebuke to them. . . . The scientific unity which exists between God and man must be wrought out in life-practice, and God's will must be universally done. . . . Atonement is the exemplification of man's unity with God, whereby man reflects divine Truth, Life, and Love. Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage" (pp. 315, 202, 18).

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Now It's Neckties Made of Milk!

Fellow in Andy Botkin's Tavern was boasting about a trick necktie he was wearing made out of a by-product of milk. "Took 33 pounds of milk to make this tie," he says.

Bill Webster was unimpressed. "Personally," he says, "I'd rather have the milk to drink. Just as I wouldn't change one glass of good American beer for a necktie made from thirty barrels of it!"

Yes, modern science being what it is — seems like you can make "anything out of anything" these days. But in the case of milk, well I guess drinking it is still a whole lot better than just wearing it.

Of course there are lots of other ways of abusing goods and beverages — like a fellow who doesn't appreciate good beer enough to drink it slowly and in moderation.

But from where I sit, most people who enjoy a wholesome beverage like beer or ale are moderate — because beer itself is a beverage of moderation.

Farm Prices to Get U. S. Backing in New Legislation

A new farm bill has been introduced in the United States Senate. This bill is designed to meet some of the long-range needs of agriculture, and it will be worth while for all of us to examine it closely.

To understand this bill, we should look back a few years at previous farm bills. Before the close of the war, the so-called Steagall amendment was enacted by Congress, pledging the support of prices for a number of farm commodities at 90 per cent of their parity price and for cotton at 92½ per cent. This bill, which was designed to help agriculture make needed adjustments to peacetime conditions, will expire in 1948.

Now, unless new legislation is passed, the old 1938 law will again become effective, supporting farm prices at 52 to 75 per cent of parity. Many persons consider these supports unsatisfactory over a long period. Generally, the price supports in the 1938 Act are regarded as being too low. Also, they do not take into consideration the supply of the product on hand.

Based on Income

So much for past farm bills and the lessons we have learned from them. This new legislation has two important major aspects:

1. It sets up a new method for supporting farm prices and farm income.

2. It sets up a different procedure for administering the long-time agricultural program.

Let's take a look at the first aspect:

The support feature of this new bill is based upon income support rather than merely upon price support of basic farm commodities. That is, the price support will be higher when the supply of the product is below normal, and lower as the supply increases. For example, when the supply of corn or wheat or any basic commodity is equal to the average supply of the past 10 years, the support price would be 75 per cent of the parity price. As the supply increases to 30 per cent or more above this average supply, the support would gradually be reduced to 60 per cent of the parity price, but never below 60 per cent.

On the other hand, as the supply falls to 30 per cent below the average supply, the support would gradually be increased to 90 per cent of the parity price.

This support plan, then, has several advantages:

First, it is adjusted to give a larger income support for a large production. This support is needed because the total cost of producing, harvesting, and storing a large crop is greater than for a small one.

Second, it is to the interest of the consumer to have an adequate supply of a product available. The farmer can be encouraged to grow abundant crops if he is assured a larger income for a large crop than for a small one.

And third, because the support price goes up as the supply goes down, farmers will be encouraged to produce more of the most needed products.

Would Use More Products

A major difficulty in supporting farm prices brings up a fourth advantage of this particular bill. In a depressed period, many people become unemployed, and prices of farm products fall because of reduced consumption, especially of animal products, fruits and vegetables. With this fact in mind, the new bill would set aside the so-called Section 32 funds, representing 30 per cent of the import duties, to encourgae the use of farm products commercially and for new by-products, improved food habits and foreign trade.

Aside from being used especially to support the prices of perishable products currently, Section 32 funds would be allowed to accumulate to a total of $300,000,000 to serve as an emergency fund for periods of low consumption. These funds could then be used, for example, to extend the school lunch plan, to help low-income people obtain a more adequate supply of food in times of depression, and to divert supplies to some eco-

SPRINGFIELDD — Gov. Dwight H. Green has proclaimed April 19 through April 24 as Conservation Week, and Friday, April 23, as Arbor and Bird Day. The Governor's proclamation requested the appropriate observance of these occasions in public schools and colleges, by civic, church, and farm organization, and by the general public.

The State Department of Agriculture opened a veterinary laboratory in Centralia this week, and will open a similar laboratory in Peoria May 1, according to Arnold P. Benson, department director. The Peoria laboratory will serve the farmers of 20 counties by sampling blood and diagnosing infectious diseases affecting cattle, sheep, swine and poultry.

Benson declared that his department, with the help of Illinois veterinarians and the college of veterinary medicine, University of Illinois, intends to eradicate Bang's disease in cattle throughout Illinois.

Newcastle disease is causing losses of baby chicks as high as 75 per cent in some instances, acording to reports the State Department of Agriculture is receiving from Illinois poultry raisers. The mortality in laying flocks afflicted by the disease is said to be usually less than 10 per cent, but egg production frequently is checked for several weeks.

The State Department of Conservation released about 3600 breeder quail last week, putting approximately 120 birds in each of 30 counties.

The department plans to release more than 65,000 quail in various Illinois counties this year and hopes to set more than 100,000 pheasants free in an effort to keep the state's hunting grounds well stocked with game. About 4200 pheasants were released two weeks ago, mostly in counties in Northern Illinois.

A slightly lower daily average production of Illinois oil during March, as compared with February, is shown in the monthly oil and gas report issued by the State Geological Survey. Daily average production for March was 170,000 barrels, with total for month estimated at 5,265,000 barrels. For February, daily flow was 174,000 barrels; total for month, 5,049,000 barrels.

Two new oil pools were discovered during March, one in Jefferson county, the other in Wayne county.

The Illinois Merit System Council announces that an examination will be held for the position of junior stenographer in the 101 downstate county Departments of Public Assistance. Applications will be received up to May 1. This is an opportunity for stenographers to become eligible for employment in their home counties. Application forms may be obtained from county Departments of Public Assistance, county veteran service officers, or the merit system council office, Illinois Building, Springfield.

The curfew ordinance, which requires that children under 16 be off the streets after 9 p. m. unless accompanied by elders, and which was authorized to be put into effect at the last meeting of the Village Commission, is being enforced.

The curfew regulations became effective Thursday, April 1.

The Village Commission also voted to recognize officially daylight saving time for the spring and summer and requests that the citizens generally adopt the fast time. This will be effective at 2 a. m. Sunday, April 25.

Since so many of the local citizens are employed in or near Danville, the community in the last few years has been following the changeover of Danville to daylight time each year.

Everything but the squeal? ...Not quite

Utilization of livestock by-products is important to all farmers and ranchers. Of the total dollars received by Swift & Company for lambs, 15% to 25% comes from by-products. Cattle by-products amount to 10% to 20%. With hogs it is 2% to 5%. When bidding on live animals, Swift & Company's buyers estimate the yield and grade of edible meat. In their estimate they figure, too, the value of all by-products, including hides and wool.

Livestock by-products have greatly increased the value of your meat animals. Since earliest times, man has used hides and wool to make clothing. But only in the past half-century has research found the present great variety of uses for by-products. Fats, and lanolin from wool, are the base of many cosmetics, healing creams and beauty aids. Photographic film is coated with a gelatin compound. Other uses of gelatin and glues are almost endless. Animal fats are the main raw material of toilet soaps.

Life has been lengthened for people with diabetes; anemia and other diseases. They are helped by drugs such as insulin, liver extract, pepsin, adrenalin. These are all made from the glands of livestock. But for the painstaking care of meat packers, these glands would go to waste. This happened during the wartime "black market" in meats, and the supply of insulin ran low.

With the growth of meat-packing plants, the war on waste began in earnest. Science found new ways to use by-products of your animals. Bristles make brushes. Bones make knife handles. Hair makes upholstery padding. Bones, blood and scraps go into animal and poultry feeds. Yes, we find use for every valuable part of cattle, hogs, and lambs.

Each new use for by-products adds value to livestock . . . and directly benefits producers.

Speaking of By-Products . . . Here's a movie about 'em—just the film to complete your community or school program: a 16mm. sound, color cartoon, "BY-PRODUCTS." It runs 10 minutes—and tells the story of livestock by-products and their uses. You may also want to show "MEAT BUYING CUSTOMS," another 10-minute cartoon. For a history of the livestock-meat-packing industry, you'll like "LIVESTOCK AND MEAT"—49 minutes, black and white. "A NATION'S MEAT" is a shorter version—30 minutes—full of information on the American meat supply. Then there is "COWS AND CHICKENS . . . USA," a story of diversified farming—the dairy and poultry business in a nutshell. Please give us at least a month's advance notice to handle bookings. We can ship by express or parcel post. Only cost to you is payment of express or postage one way. A 16mm. sound projector is required. Order from Agricultural Research Dept., Swift & Company, Chicago 9, Illinois.

We All Want the Top Dollar

You, as a producer of livestock, want to get the best price for your animals—"the top dollar." As a salesman for Swift & Company, selling the products which result from these animals, I, too, want to get the top dollar.

The meat packer's buyer has to judge the grade of the animals and estimate how they will yield. He then makes his bids in competition with buyers for many meat packers and other commercial slaughterers. To get the animals, he has to offer going prices. Otherwise he just won't get them; somebody else will. And that "going price" which he musi pay depends on the number of animals on the market and the demand for them.

After Swift & Company has made the animals which it has purchased into meat and by-products, we must sell them, again in stiff competition. If we don't offer meat at the going price, retail meat dealers will buy from somebody else who does. This competition in both buying and selling is so keen that we have to operate on a margin of profit which averages but a fraction of a cent per pound of product handled.

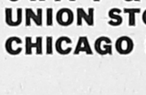

In our business, as in yours, it takes hard work and good management to come out with money ahead on a year's operation. Our efficiency in selling meat and by-products results in important economies and savings. Only through such savings can we earn our profit—and help increase the value of your livestock.

O. E. Jones
Vice-President, Swift & Company

* * *

Mr. Jones, "guest editor" this month, is Vice-President of Swift & Company in charge of sales and advertising.

A Steer is NOT all Beef

Let's take a look at this steer. It weighs 1,000 lbs. It's not all steak. In fact, only a little more than half is salable beef. Hanging in Swift's cooling room, our steer has become two sides of beef. Together they weigh 543 lbs. What happened to the rest?

Modern meat packers save everything of value from the steer—heart, tongue, liver, sweetbreads and other fancy meats. Hides for leather; bones, blood and scraps for animal feeds. Glands for medicines. All told, 161 lbs. of the steer is saved in by-products.

But 296 lbs. is shrinkage and material of no value. Only the meat and by-products can be sold.

What happens to the money the meat packer receives? It is used to buy livestock and other raw materials. It meets the expenses of slaughtering, dressing, refrigerating, transporting and selling. It pays rent, insurance, taxes—all the costs of doing business. The amount remaining after all of these expenses are paid is the meat packer's profit. Over a period of years, Swift & Company's profit has averaged a fraction of a cent a pound on the products we sell.

That's the explanation of the "spread" between livestock prices and wholesale meat prices.

Martha Logan's Recipe for FRIED CHICKEN WITH GOLDEN GRAVY

(Yield: 5-6 servings)

1 frying chicken (2½-3 lb.)
½ cup yellow corn meal
¼ cup flour
1½ tablespoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
6 tablespoons bland lard
About ¾ cup water
3 cups milk

Clean, wash and cut up chicken into serving pieces. Dry. Combine corn meal, flour, salt and pepper in paper bag. Put chicken pieces into bag, close top and shake bag until pieces are well coated. Reserve excess corn meal-flour mixture for gravy. Brown chicken well in hot bland lard in heavy skillet. Add ¼ cup water. Cover tightly and simmer slowly for 1 hour or until chicken is tender. Add remaining water as needed. Remove chicken and keep it warm while preparing gravy. Combine corn meal-flour mixture with the drippings in skillet. Brown lightly. Stir in the milk and cook until corn meal is cooked and gravy thickened. Serve gravy with chicken.

Gage Rate of Planting Corn by the Yield Expected

by George H. Dungan
University of Illinois

G. H. Dungan

Proper balance between the number of plants per acre and the ability of your land to produce, is needed for maximum corn yield. On the average, corn yields are highest when the ears weigh approximately ½ pound each.

Use of the average size ear, as a good measure of whether or not the number of plants is great enough for maximum yield, is a result of many field trials. These tests have been made at the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station and other Corn Belt stations.

On this same basis, if your average ear last fall weighed over ½ pound, you probably did not get maximum yield. With more plants in your fields, producing more and smaller ears, your cribs might have been fuller.

To put these results to work, you should know that 7,000 half-pound ears per acre are needed for a 50-bushel yield. Seventy-five bushels require 10,500 such ears; one hundred bushels, 14,000 ears; and one hundred twenty-five bushels, 17,500 half-pound ears.

At planting time, yield of your land should be estimated. Keep in mind that not every kernel will produce a plant. Expect 90 plants from each 100 kernels, under favorable conditions.

If you estimate your land can produce 50 bushels per acre, you should end the season with 7,000 plants. This calls for planting two kernels per hill in rows 40 inches apart each way. With this same spacing, if one estimates yield at 75 bushels, he should plant three kernels per hill; 100 bushels, four kernels; and 125 bushels, five kernels.

Our big job never stops.
SERVING YOU TO THE VERY BEST OF OUR ABILITY!

Established customers—industrial, commercial and residential—are using more and more electric power these days. And power needs for enlarged industry and new housing are growing steadily.

Shortages of material, and lack of enough manpower has prevented us from keeping entirely apace with this increased demand. The result is that in many cases we have not been able to maintain the high standard of service we think our customers are entitled to expect.

So—we have developed a definite program for the improvement and extension of our facilities. Construction of these new and better facilities is now under way. Our own engineers, aided by two of the nation's largest engineering firms, are constantly at work supervising the installation of equipment already received and laying out additional plans to provide the best possible service as soon as conditions permit.

Our one great aim is serving you to the very best of our ability.

'Peeping Tom' Arrested in Georgetown; Gets Heavy Fine

A man giving his name as Leroy H. Scott, 28, Montezuma, Ind., an alleged sex offender, was arrested on S. Walnut St., Georgetown, about 1:30 a. m. Sunday by Night Capt. Dick Holmes, assisted by deputies of the sheriff's office. The arrest was made when Scott was said to have been attempting to peer into a window.

Georgetown police had been attempting for more than a year to apprehend a man, believed to be this person, on "peeping Tom" charges and alleged sex offenses. It had been his custom to knock on doors at early hours in the morning and ask directions to certain streets or highways. When caught, the rear license plate of his car was covered with a cloth.

Scott was taken to the county jail and arraigned Monday in County Court where he was fined by Judge Harlin M. Steely on charges of disorderly conduct and defacing of an automobile license plate. The fines and costs on both charges amounted to about $75. He was ordered to remain out of Vermilion county after nightfall.

Georgetown police had received charges against a person with conduct of similar description operating in Olivet and Ridgefarm. Several from Georgetown and Olivet were asked to pass on the identity of Scott at the county jail.
