Vol. 18 — No. 51 | Georgetown, Vermilion County, Illinois | Friday, October 1, 1948

A few of our best citizens already have put on their winter flannels, so 'tis rumored.

Why is everybody worrying so much about the possibility of a depression? Didn't we hear it over again and again that there is nothing to fear but fear itself?

The cool weather brings to an end, more or less, the "dog days," which used to be feared because they were supposed to bring various kinds of trouble, including poisoning from the dew in the early morning, hydrophobia and all sorts of trouble with snakes, as snakes were supposed to go blind during the dog days. That was the age when night air also was supposed to be poisonous. Just try and make Junior believe that nowadays!

Hang On!

When into a tight place you get
And everything goes against you,
Till it seems that you have met
Your match, your Waterloo;
Hold on now, "to beat the band,"
Never give up then, but learn:
The time and place are now at hand,
Where for you the tide will turn.
—From an old cow-hand.

We traveled a little south of here the other Saturday afternoon and asked one of the natives of a town, not too far from here, the directions to a certain point. He said, "Go thataway till you come to the first crossroads, and then come thisaway a mile." Tsk! Tsk!

Observations — The Cleveland Indians are gaining support of the local fans by the hundreds these days . . . Jack Ellsworth is taking a brief vacation from his heavy-duty fishing operations; says he's too busy . . . George Chandler, who has completed 42 years of service as a miner, is up before dawn every morning helping in the salvage operations of the last of the electrical work at Bunsenville

Ore Vacketta is both president of the Lions Club and commander of the local Legion post—well-deserved honors; more will come later.

"Let's play store," said the first child. "I'll be the storekeeper and you be my customer."

"No, prices are too high," replied the second little lady. "Let's play radio program and I'll give away a million dollars."

For Fresher Air

When I lay me down to snooze,
I often get the slag-pile blues;
Sulphuric fumes come wafting in
My open window ere I begin
My daily cares to lose;
Zestful zephyrs then, I'd choose.

In World War One, we encountered gas
Mustard, chlorine from shells of brass,
Eau de cologne, e pluribus unum,
Exotic perfumes that would swoon um,
But of all the odors non-odoriferous
What compares to polecat pestiferous?

O, Odious odors, by breezes borne
On a recent early September morn,
Disturbing those in restful slumber,
Why waken sleepers without number?
The sixty-four-dollar question's that
Why's there such a peculiar cat?

The clean pure air which we bespeak,
Oft with garlic and stale beer doth reek;
Rotting garbage nor smoldering punk
Can pollute it like the fetid skunk;
Atmosphere is foulest and infernal
From white-streaked kitty's habits nocturnal.

Ratlyn A. Long.

Our Clean Story Club — The young lady was telling a group of her girl friends about her birthday party.

"You should have seen the cake," she told her companions. "It was marvelous. There were 17 candles on it — one for each year."

There was a disbelieving silence for a moment or two, then her best friend smiled.

"Seventeen candles, eh?" she purred. "What did you do—burn them at both ends?"

Illinois Veterans' Bonus Law Is Most Liberal in Nation

Payments Are Three-fourths Completed; Average $400

Considerable attention has been called to the fact in the last few weeks that the Illinois veterans' bonus law is the most liberal among the 48 states. More than a quarter of a billion dollars has been paid to veterans as of Sept. 1.

The payments now are about three-fourths completed. Average payments at this time are $400. The bonus pays a veteran $10 a month for his or her service in this country and $15 for each month of overseas service from the start of World War II to V-J Day. The maximum payment is $900 to widow or next of kin of each veteran who died in service.

A special session o fthe legislature was called by Gov. Green in 1946 to provide the bonus. A compensation act of $385 million was passed in June of that year and was approved in a popular referendum at the following Nov. 5 election.

A plan was set up for the issuance of bonds to pay the bonus, and special taxes of 4 per cent of funds in parimutuel pools at Illinois race tracks and one mill each on cigarets sold in the state were levied to pay the major cost of principal and interest.

By Sept. 1, this year, a total of $252,982,991 had been sent to claimants. Administration of the bonus is in the hands of the Service Recognition Board, with Gov. Green as chairman. One unfinished task is to find more than 200,000 men and women believed to be eligible who have not filed bonus claims. The deadline for filing applications is June 30, 1949.

The program for providing for the veterans started in February, 1943, when Gov. Green created, by executive order, a committee on rehabilitation and employment, which in 1945 became an official agency designated by law as the Illinois Veterans Commission. Under this commission, 142 offices have been operating in the state to care for the needs of the veterans and their dependents. These offices are staffed by veterans picked by veterans' organizations in the various counties. In less than three years, the Veterans Commission has aided nearly 800,000 men, women and children in getting benefits provided by the state and federal government. More than 135,000 veterans have been placed in positions suited to their aptitudes.

To many veterans and their families and friends, the record of the state in being alert to the needs of those who served their country in peril is one of the strong features of Gov. Green's platform.

Congregational Church Notes

Rev. C. R. Dieriamm, Minister

There are churches that have little or nothing to do with politics. In fact, since the Bible in part is made up of historical and political records of the Israelites, it shows that there should be more of the good mixture of religiou in politics.

The leaven of the Gospel saves a nation from despair. The Biblical prophets were experts in telling the people of their times to vote for the best things pertaining to their couttry. They were always telling their people that Jehovah would always be with them in proportion to the amount of obedience they rendered to Him. If kings and rulers were dictators, the more religion that the people abided by, the better in the long run would be the political situation of the country.

All of the major and minor prophets were the right sort of politicians. Be sure to vote as a Christian.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Your Most Important Right

Now that the bandstand has been painted, and the park re-landscaped, we have about the nicest village green in the county.

And it's all because, at the last town election, folks got out and voted—85 per cent of them! That way, they passed the amendment calling for park improvements—over those opposing it.

Reminds you again how important the right to vote is in this country. And it's a right we can retain only by exercising it! . . . like all the other individual liberties—from freedom to enjoy a glass of beer or ale, to a woman's right to vote along with men.

Folks can thank themselves that on summer evenings they'll be able to listen to band concerts in a well-kept park . . . enjoying a bottle of beer or soda pop (whichever they prefer). Because from where I sit, that's a freedom they've earned by exercising a still more important freedom: Voting!

Lions' Kid League Boys Relate Thrills

The Westville Lions Club entertained the members of its team in the Vermilion County Kid Bat and Ball Club last Monday evening at dinner in Widman's Cafe. The club sponsored the team, which only lost one game out of 10 played during the season. The team was managed by Joe Foyer. Miss Betty Byron entertained with dinner music on her accordion.

Several of the boys spoke and related their playing thrills of the season. In the championship play-offs in Danville Stadium, the Westville Kid League team lost to the Rotary Club team of Danville, the first loss of the year.

Zone Chairman Joseph Ottino, reported on the recent district gover-nor's cabinet meeting in Mattoon.

President Ore Vacketta of the club suggested a masked Halloween party on the evening of Oct. 30 for club members and their wives, the event to be a Ladies Night party. The club now has 28 members.

There is no class of men so difficult whose intentions are honest, but whose consciences are bewitched.

Plastics Corp. Reopens Thursday

Ray H. Goranson, manager of the Republic Plastics Corp. plant in Georgetown, stated Wednesday that the plant was to be reopened at 8 a. m. Thursday, following the seven weeks' shutdown, after Mr. Goranson and other company officials and the representatives of the union had completed an agreement on wages and other subjects. A contract to extend to July 1, 1949, was made a part of the agreement.

Mr. Goranson stated that the employes will be called to work as soon as the plant can be put into full production, and that there may be openings later for additional employes.

It was stated by Stanley Lester of Rock Island, representative of the United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America (CIO), and Melvin Wimsett, president of the local union, that the agreement was unanimously accepted at a special meeting of the union membership Monday night.

The agreement, it is stated, provides four paid holidays a year, in addition to two previously in effect, a general increase of 8 cents an hour and an automatic increase of 3 cents to be granted Jan. 3. It was added that the contract also provides that an 8-hour day would be made available to all employes and that a $10 return-to-work bonus would be granted, in lieu of retroactive pay. Including the extra holiday time, it was said the increases approximate 15 cents.

The Plastics corporation is the leading industry in Georgetown and has been operating here under the management of Mr. Goranson for the last four years. At the time of the shutdown, about 120 were employed, and the payroll was at the rate of $230,000 to $250,000 a year.

Colors Dedicated For Am-Vets Post

Impressive rites dedicating the colors of Vermilion County Am-Vets Post 146 in the Georgetown Am-Vets Hall Thursday evening, Sept. 23, highlighted the regular meeting.

Roy Gundlock, adjutant of the Department of Illinois, had charge of the dedication ceremony. Speakers were James Johnson, public relations officer, Department of Illinois, and Joe Ogden, state membership chairman.

Following the meeting, about 75 members of the Auxiliary and guests enjoyed a potluck supper while being entertained by John R. Morris and Joe Balskus, with the aid of all the members. A report on the national convention was given by John Morris. The Auxiliary members also conducted several bingo games.

The party was so successful that many requests have been made for future Am-Vets parties.

Farmer Injured in Fall From Tractor in Fainting Spell

Charles Milholland, a farmer living near Vermilion Grove, sustained severe bruises Friday afternoon after he had suffered a fainting spell and had fallen from a moving tractor in a field which he was plowing for Arthur Dillon.

The tractor and plow proceeded onward and swung into a nearby cornfield, where it circled for a brief period.

Regaining consciousness, Mr. Milholland was able to reach the tractor and get it under control. He was given treatment by a physician.

Flasher Lights to Be Placed On New East Pavement

At the regular September meeting of the Vermilion County Board of Supervisors, an appropriation of $3000 was authorized from motor fuel tax receipts as the county's share of installing flasher lights at the railroad crossing east of Georgetown on the new Mill St. road, which is now being improved through McKendree township.

Another Community Sale to Be Held in Georgetown Oct. 9

Another community sale, which will include hay, grain, livestock, a large amount of farm machinery and equipment and household furnishings, will be held in Georgetown Saturday, Oct. 9. The sale, which is to be managed by Col. Todd Roesch, auctioneer, will be held on the lots just west of the H. H. Cravens residence on W. West St.

This will be the third community sale to be held in Georgetown. Mr. Roesch stated that he hopes that these sales may be held at periodic intervals during the winter months.

Much of the preliminary work already has been accomplished and about 20 articles of farm equipment and machinery have been listed, in addition to livestock and other articles. The sale held in August was at a time when some of the farmers were unable to leave their work, but it is indicated that the sale on Oct. 9 should bring a record crowd. A small commission will be charged for selling.

Democratic Candidates Enliven Saturday Night Crowds

Wayne R. Cook and Calvin A. Gordon, Democratic candidates for Congress and the State Senate, held political meetings in Westville, Georgetown and Ridgefarm Saturday night. They enlivened the Saturday night crowds by appearing in their shiny, new convertible Jeepster complete with sound equipment and musical accompaniment.

At Georgetown, Doyle Paxton, Democratic candidate for clerk of the Probate Court, was master of ceremonies. Mayor C. E. Spang introduced the speakers and gave a short talk.

Candidates Cook and Gordon related that their Jeepster was barred from McFerren Park in Hoopeston last Thursday for the National Sweet Corn Festival when Gov. Green was the speaker. They stated that the wires of the Jeepster's sound system were cut and connection plugs were taken when they stopped in front of the Hoopeston police station for permit and "clearance papers." They added that they received their $10 back which they had deposited for a permit.

The Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific railroad (the Walsh road) will match the sum paid by the county and will maintain the lights when installed, the county board is informed .

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS FOR VETERANS

This is another in a series of questions and answers regarding the rights of ex-servicemen and their families, as answered by Howard Bond, Veterans Employment Representative, Illinois State Employment Service, 220 N. Vermilion St., Danville. In this service, theISES attempts to answer questions most frequently asked by ex-servicemen ana women.

Question — What is to be the authorized all-over manpower strength of the armed forces according to the new draft law?

Answer — The authorized all-over manpower strength of the Armed forces is raised to 2,005,882, divided as follows: Army 837,000; Navy and Marine Corps, 666,882; Air Force, 502,000.

Question — What age brackets are required to register?

Answer — All men 18 to 25 must register.

Question — Can men of 18 volunteer for service? How long must they serve?

Answer — Men who are 18 may voolunteer for one year's service, following which they can serve in the Organized Reserve, thus avoiding a 21-month draft when they become 19.

Question — How long will draftees age 19 through 25 serve?

Answer — Men 19 through 25 are subject to draft for 21 months in the armed forces.

Question — Are volunteers or draftees, who have served less than three years in the regular forces, required to join the Organized Reserve?

Answer — All who serve—whether volunteers or draftees—for less than three years in the Regular Forces, must go into the Organized Reserve for five years, but — those who serve 21 months can discharge their reserve obligation by another year of active duty.

The Value of Fresh Talent

Some persons here have been somewhat critical of the plan to bring displaced persons to the United States. The hope is that those who are admitted will be of such a disposition that they may make good citizens. We can always use high-minded citizens, whatever their nationalities may have been.

It has been the custom in past generations for most of the nations of the world with rigid immigration restrictions to permit foreigners to enter and maintain residence if they have the means to support themselves, or if they are enterprisers who plan to invest funds in a business and supply additional employment. Even the countries that have been congested have recognized the importance of the kind of enterprise that creates new worth while activities and developments.

When transportation becomes more generally available and world conditions become more settled, many Americans probably will engage in work in foreign lands. It is unfortunate that the loss of such talent is so casually accepted by our people.

We have a similar situation within our own borders. The migration of able workers and persons of talent from small towns to big towns and from big towns to cities or to the country is viewed with indifference, but when a man of good potentialities moves away he often leaves a void difficult to fill.

We need the kind of enterprise that makes two blades of grass grow where one grew before. Thomas Nixon Carter said some time ago that the statesman who can make two first-rate enterprisers grow where one grew before will do far more for labor and the other groups than all the professional politicians combined.

Some Business Briefs

Here are some briefs of business activity as reported in recent press dispatches:

Charges that the diesel-electric locomotive is one of the chief causes of recent fuel oil shortages are called misleading and dangerous by the electro-motive division of General Motors Corp., which says that the 5000 diesels operated by the railroads burn only one percent of the total oil consumption in the U. S. . . . Continuation of the business boom into 1949 depends more on building construction than any other factor, according to the magazine Business Week; although recent building activity has reached record rates, it has barely touched the overall demand, it is said . . . San Diego, Calif., has contracted with a rainmaker for $30,000 to wring its clouds with dry ice during the arid season . . . The Air Force has just announced another $103 million in aircraft orders . . . Business men generally seem to have two major fears at this time: (1) Rising costs, and (2) fear of the international situation . . . One of the quickest shifts in the postwar supply situation has been in fuels. Talk recently has shifted from shortage to possible oversupply . . . Steelmakers now are producing at the rate of 90 million tons annually, which may enable the industry to reach an actual output of 87 million tons for 1948 . . . The ECA has authorized new relief allocations, including $17 million for bacon and cheese for Britain.

Large Religious Rev. Kolbuch Leads Assembly in Poland

Word has been received here that the Very Rev. Michael Kolbuch, superior provincial of the LaSalette Congregation and a former resident of Olivet, celebrated High Mass on Sept. 21 before an assembly of 100,000 Catholics in Poland. The Mass, which was one of the largest Polish religious displays since the war, was held at the Shrine of Our Lady of LaSalette at Dembowiec, Poland.

Rev. Father Kolbuch has been in Poland for about two years, where he has served also as superior provincial for the LaSalette order in that country. He is expected to return here in about a month.

Rev. Father Kolbuch is well known here, having adressed numerous meetings in this vicinity. He addressed a meeting of the Lions Club several years ago, relating his experiences at the outbreak of World War II in Poland.

The recipe for beauty is to have less illusion and more Soul, to retreat from the belief of pain or pleasure in the body into the unchanging calm and glorious freedom of spiritual harmony.

Though a good motive cannot sanctify a bad action, a bad motive will always vitiate a good action.

World War II Fatality-Return Plan Nears Close

(Special)

CHICAGO — All temporary military cemeteries overseas, in which have been buried World War II Armed Forces dead, will be evacuated by the end of November, the American Graves Registration Service of the Department of the Army announces.

Caskets containing the remains of military personnel, whose next of kin have directed their return to the United States for final burial, will be held under military guard awaiting homeward bound shipping facilities. There will be also the casketed remains of 16,087 armed forces deceased whose next of kin have failed to return the final burial forms addressed to them by the Quartermaster General.

Brig. Gen. Kester L. Hastings, newly appointed chief of the memorial division, office of the Quartermaster General, announced today that by Sept. 30, the Army will have returned to the United States at the request of next of kin the remains of 81,500 individuals who died overseas in World War II. This figure will increase to approximately 113,000 by Dec. 31. Only an additional 37,000, or a total of 150,000, are expected to be brought home at the request of next of kin, Gen. Hastings estimated.

War Deaths 358,967

The progress made in the final burial program, which Congress expected might take five years, will enable the Army to effect important eoonomies by reducing the number of distribution centers through which caskets have been forwarded to next of kin. The present 12 distribution centers will be reduced to six.

The final combined estimate of overseas deaths for Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard during World War II is 358,967. Of this number 275,762 were buried in temporary cemeteries. The difference, 83,205, represents remains of those lost at sea or under circumstances that made recovery impossible, such as mid-air plane explosions, ammunition dump explosions and other such disasters. Search for recoverable remains continues.

The number of unknowns of World War II is at present 18,832. General Hastings said this figure wiuld be reduced as the result of improved and painstaking identification procedures being carried on in overseas laboratories.

There will be 14 permanent American military cemeteries overseas and two national cemeteries to serve as resting places of the armed forces dead when the program is completed. All will be beautified similar to the eight World War I cemeteries where rest 30,907 dead of that war.

Military cemeteries overseas will be under the supervision of the American Battle Monuments Commission. Burials have begun in eight of the military cemeteries. These are Cambridge, England; Henri Chapelle, Belgium; St. Laurent, Epinal, St. Avold, St. James and Draguignan, France; Nettuno, Italy and Carthage, Tunisia.

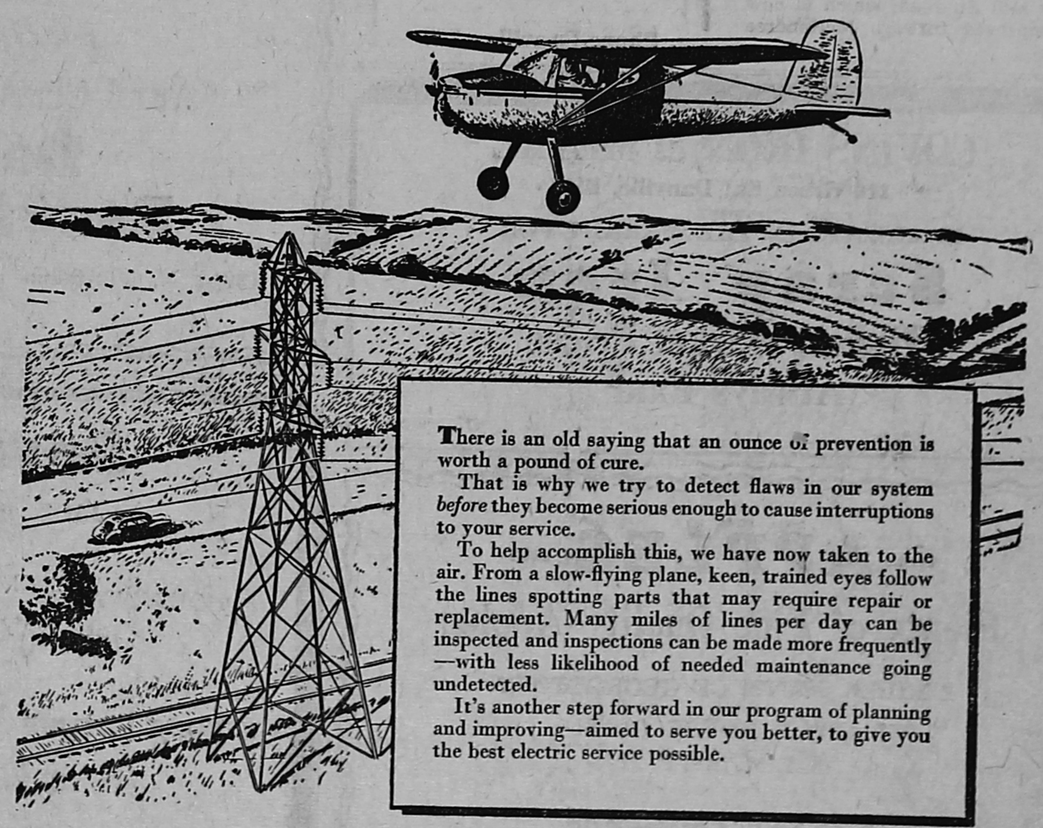
Eye in the Sky!



There is an old saying that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

That is why we try to detect flaws in our system before they become serious enough to cause interruptions to your service.

To help accomplish this, we have now taken to the air. From a slow-flying plane, keen, trained eyes follow the lines spotting parts that may require repair or replacement. Many miles of lines per day can be inspected and inspections can be made more frequently —with less likelihood of needed maintenance going undetected.

It's another step forward in our program of planning and improving—aimed to serve you better, to give you the best electric service possible.
