They've started again — those cold air masses from Canada. We're looking forward to the day when Canada will be able to keep its cold air masses to itself, well bottled up and out of the way, and leave us to stir up our own air down thisaway.

Campaign Notes

The Catlin Consolidated Grade School pupils were dismissed last Tuesday so that the children might see President Truman's train pass through on the Wabash. It passed through, but somewhat late, with window shades of the cars drawn, and the train is said to have clipped from the southwest to the northeast corporation limits of the village in exactly 58 seconds. Now Catlin is claiming to be the only whistle stop in the USA that greeted the President by remote control . . . The press representatives who cover the campaign trips of Truman and Dewey report that Truman travels on a 16-car special train while Dewey uses a 17-car special. That sort of thing can't go on. Won't somebody please warn President Truman to get himself another car, or maybe two cars, to add to his special? We can't afford to have any candidate placed at a disadvantage by one little, measly railroad car.

Champaign, . . . Worry is like a rocking chair; it will give you something to do, but it won't get you anywhere . . . It takes a baby about two years to learn to talk and between 60 and 70 years to learn to keep his mouth shut.

Up against the tremendous disadvantage of being required to meet teams outside of what may well be regarded its normal classification, the Georgetown High School football team this year is ebing put to grueling tests. The smaller schools in this area are reluctant to book games with Georgetown squads, whose reputation in recent years have been a bar to making schecules in neighboring territory, and, as a consequence, the athletic director has been forced to go far afield and schedule games outside "the class" of the local institution. This, of course, is a "football town," and the games, especially under the lights this year, are a top piece of drama. These games have been having everything — super-emotion, thrills, speed, anti-climaxes, even some rough stuff. While each of the games this year has been a grand spectacle for the assembled fans, each also tested the nettle of every player to the utmost. It is easy to be on the sidelines and say just what should have been done, but for a youth to make quick decisions in the midst of the strain of the hard playing, it is not simple. It's a hard, tough season this year, and maybe a good thing that it will be a short one.

"No Comment"

Dear Town Crier—Is it true that the Georgetown News and its two affiliate newspapers were unable to make the grade and rate a special feature story in the Com-News during National Newspaper Week? I strained my eyes and almost broke a couple of arms looking thru a week's accumulation of the "paper that does things" to see pictures & read account of the editor & publisher of these three great papers, which are printed at one plant. This accomplishment, probably not duplicated in any other town in the U. S. A., and the close proximity of these towns to Danville, should have given them precedence over towns more distant from the county seat.

44,000 Voters Register in County For Nov. 2 Election

27,000 Outside Danville Eligible for Ballots

Registration figures show that there are about 2000 less eligible voters in the county this year than four years ago. The total registration, including Danville, was about 44,000 in the registration days this month and including those permanently registered. This compares with 46,372 in the last preceding general election.

A considerable interest is being shown in the election, it is said, judging by the number of rtquests for absentee ballots from eligible voters now outside the county or from others who expect to be away on election day.

Registration in the county outside Danville is reported at about 27,000, although there are probably some duplications due to the fact that the precincts have not been canvassed. In Danville, the total registration was 20,182, which shows little change from four years ago and two years ago.

Those indicted were Ray Dunning, Jack Cork, Louis Ohl, Eddie Marvel, Carl Keinsat, Morris Fish, Peter Gallanis, Barney Shydvasko and Mary Eidentas, Dill Bassford, W. J. Graf, Jack Teany and Martin Muchisky, and Charles Leverenz Jr.

An indictment was returned against Roy Dunning, but the license is not in his name, it is stated.

Four indictments also returned Monday charged permitting gambling. Three of these establishments are in Danville and the fourth is the Top Hat, Belgium.

Congregational Church Notes

Rev. C. R. Dierlamm, Minister

To make religion a reality, one must attend a place where it is being tested. The reason a ball game is so interesting is because people like competitive activity. To talk about a game is not as interesting as to see it in actual performance.

Demonstration is the secret of success, whether it is the selling of a vacuum cleaner or giving the public an exciting realism in a movie or at the football field. It is all the same thing. People will pay almost any high price to be entertained. Religion is no entertainment at all if it is merely a theory or a printed book. It must become a great part of one's life to be enjoyable.

Flora Is Named On Oil Committee

George W. Flora of Westville was elected a member of the legislative committee of the Vermilion County Petroleum Industries Committee held in Danville Tuesday night. Other members elected are Jim Henneberry, Howard Kentner, George Nixon, Phil Blair, H. C. Schafer and Frank Macklin, all of Danville.

O. E. Beebe of Danville was elected chairman of the organization. The group went on record, by the adoption of a resolution, stating that "an increase in the Illinois State gasoline tax is unjustifiable and unnecessary." The resolution pointed out that gasoline taxes in Illinois today are equivalent to a sales tax of 22 per cent on the retail price of gasoline, and that this is higher than the federal excise tax on luxuries.

J. H. Higgins, Executive Secretary of the Illinois Petroleum Industries Committe, presented a color film which stressed the vital importance of concerted action for the successful operation of the county petroleum group.

The county group endorsed a six-point program of objectives for 1948-49 as follows: To guard against unfair taxation of motor fuel; to protect road funds by an amendment to the Illinois constitution prohibiting the diversion of automotive tax money to non-highway purpses; to advocate sound, long-range highway planning; to preserve private enterprise on the highways by prohibiting state ownership of service stations; to reduce gasoline and kerosene inspection fees; and to repeal federal taxes on gasoline and lubricating oils.

A Bigger District

Candidates for Congress in this district, the new 23rd District, have a much bigger job on their hands than did the former candidates, since, under the new re-apportionment, as required by the Federal Constitution, the re-districting has made the new 23rd district the most widely scattered congressional district in Illinois.

The district now extends for more than 100 miles along the Indiana border, from Vermilion county south to Wabash county, thence west to within 50 miles of the Mississippi River, comprising seven counties of the old 23rd District and four of the old 18th District. It is a big job to cover that area in a campaign. Candidates are forced to make big jumps if they want to keep up with the various political meetings.

The two candidates, Congressman Edward H. Jenison of Paris, Republican incumbent seeking re-election, and Wayne R. Cook of Danville, the Democratic candidate, are youthful and enthusiastic and seemingly enjoy their enlarged area of operations. Both are World War II veterans with excellent records. Congressman Jenison has the advantage of the experience of a term in Congress, where he demonstarted his capability.

Despite criticism of the apportionment plan, the greatly enlarged area of the district should not be of too much importance. It is possible, of course, to elect a good representative in the National House of Representatives. In these days of fast transportation, the distance between political meetings can be bridged without great difficulty, with the exception, of course, that there is an added burden of expense to the candidates. We now have about 120,000 voters in the district, and everyone of these eligible voters should take enough interest in the campaign to help select a representative in Congress.

'Bread Basket' Area

The highly favorable Illinois outlook for a bumper yield of corn and soybeans has been maintained under ideal weather conditions during the past month, it is reported by the State and Federal Departments of Agriculture. The frost the first of this week was unable to do any material damage to these crops, nor will future frosts this fall result in harm.

Last month's forecast of a record corn crop of 534 million bushels, the largest ever grown, and more than half again as large as last year's harvest, still stands. Soybean production is estimated at 75.6 million bushels, the second largest ever produced.

Fall seeding of wheat is at least two-thirds completed. Soil conditions have been favorable for this work, although subsoil moisture is deficient because of the long late-summer drouth.

Illinois is becoming the leading producing ground of the world in soybeans, and Vermilion county is second in the state in this production. This area is the heart of the Midwestern "bread basket" territory and is one of the important agricultural spots in the world. Not only is the soil good, but the technique of farming as employed by experienced and well-grounded farmers in this area is of superior quality.

The Parking Meters' Case

The results that have been forecast as advantages in the use of parking meters do not seem to materialize. One of the chief advantages, according to those who have promoted the use of parking meters, was to be that of cutting down individual parking time in the business district and to stimulate more of a turnover through which more parked cars might be accommodated.

The opposite is found to be true by Matthew C. Sielski, director of safety and traffic engineering of the Chicago Motor Club, after extensive surveys. He finds that parking meters increase the number of space hours consumed by long-time parkers and effect no appreciable change in the number of parkers occupying spaces for one-half hour or less.

This report is based on Chicago Motor Club surveys of parking effectiveness before and after the installation of meters in 10 representative Illinois and Indiana cities, ranging in population from 5500, Princeton, Ill., to 47,000, Aurora, Ill. A number of other Illinois cities were covered by the survey, as well as Marion and Elkhart, in Indiana.

Seven of the 10 cities surveyed showed an increase in the number of space hours used by long-time parkers after installation of parking meters. Two cities showed a decrease in space hours used by long-time parkers, and one city showed no change. A space-hour is defined as one space used for one hour.

Because of the necessity to create uniform parking stalls adequate for the longest vehicle, parking meters cut down the available space for cars, the report states. It is quite evident that the human element, perhaps the stubbornness of the average motorist, enters into the parking situation whether or not a parking meter is used. More consideration by the motorist is the need, rather than new parking gadgets.

If nobody smiled and nobody cheered
And nobody helped us along,
If each, every minute, looked after himself
And the good things all went to the strong,
If nobody cared just a little for you,
And nobody thought about me,
And we all stood alone in the battle of life
What a dreary old world it would be.
It's giving and doing for somebody else—
On that, all life's splendor depends;
And the joy of the world when it's all added up,
Is found in the making of friends.

Illinois TAX FACTS

By George L. Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

A statistical friend assures the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois that he can pick the 1948 football champion. This outfit, he says, will be at least 92 times as successful as any other club. He's talking dollar success, of course, and his sure-shot bet is a powerhouse squad of Tax Collectors, a T (for Treasury)-formation crowd spearheaded by the Internal Revenue Bureau and supported by some fast state and local men

"On the basis of their '47 take — upwards of $18 million — all other champs are chumps," he says. "Maybe a few big college teams will bank a couple hundred thousand after expenses and taxes. As for the pros, their haul is pitiful by comparison. The Cleveland Browns, top dogs in '46, netted just 10½ grand from a gross gate of better than a million bucks in that season."

Here's roughly how our friend figures it from 1947 data. Some 496 major college contests, averaging about 25,000 spectators each, would draw 12,400,000 fans. At around $3 per ticket, the 20 per cent federal admissions taxes would be $7,450,000.

The two big-time pro leagues played before about 4 million fans last year. Call it another $2 million in admissions taxes.

Then there's minor football — pros like the American Football League (700,000 fans last year), small colleges, high schools and sand-lot pros. Count on 7 million spectators paying a minimum of $3 million in admissions taxes.

Altogether that's 21.4 million paying fans. If, in traveling to the game they average 20 miles a round trip, their mileage would total 49,817 million miles. By air, bus or train the federal transportation tax is 15 per cent. By auto, gasoline taxes would yield as high or higher returns. Figure this at $2 million. Taxes on liquor consumed at the game — at one "fifth" per 20 fans — would yield at least $2 million.

Income taxes in the industry (with gross receipts of $65 million) might be $1½ million — excise taxes on equipment, another $¼ million. That about covers the list of football taxes They add up to $18¼ million.

Our man mentioned one more figure before he was taken away. This tax take of $18¼ million would run the federal government for 1 hour and 27.7 minutes at current rates — about the actual time it takes to play a football game.

Darft to Call 822 Illinois Youths

(Special)

CHICAGO — Paul G. Armstrong, director of selective service for the State of Illinois, announces that Illinois has received a call from Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, for a total of 882 men for delivery during December, 1948.

"It will be necessary for us to examine more than 4000 registrants", said Col. Armstrong, "to accomplish our quota." "We have been advised that the delivery of the 882 inductees must be accomplished within the first 20 days of December. No persons are going to be inducted into the armed services after Dec. 20 because of the holiday season."

Col. Armstrong said it will be necessary to call 4000 men for physical examination in November to meet the December quota. Plans are now being laid to step up the daily quota that will be sent to induction stations between now and December to have the necessary supply of men available.

49th Chicago Stock Show Opens Nov. 27

(Special)

CHICAGO — Work has begun on the 49th edition of the International Livestock Exposition, the nation's leading agricultural event, and early reports indicate that the 1948 show should attract larger classes than in any previous International in the nearly 50 years of its history.

The Exposition, which transforms Chicago into a great focal point of the continent's livestock industry, drawing nearly half a million people from the 48 states, all Canadian provinces and foreign countries, is scheduled for Nov. 27 through Dec. 4 in the huge International Amphitheater of the Chicago Stockyards.

Expect Larger Showings

Livestock shows throughout the continent were generally larger this year, W. E. Ogilvie, manager of the show announces, and this is a good barometer of what may be anticipated at the Chicago exposition. The management predicts entries this year will erceed the 12,000 head of animals exhibited last year.

The International is considered by stockmen and farmers as the high court among all such events, where final decisions in matters of livestock are made. An international winning is regarded as the highest award that exhibitors can attain. Premiums for the show have been increased this year, as breed associations have volunteered more money for International classes, and the prize total of the show will exceed the usual $100,000 for the competitions of four breeds of beef cattle, 11 breeds of sheep, nine of swine and five of draft horses.

The junior livestock feeding contest for boy and girl feeders of fat cattle, swine and sheep again will assume its prominent place on the first day's program.

The 26th International Grain and Hay Show will bring crop samples from 6 Canadian provinces and most of the 48 states to a world-renowned competition where the "royalty" among crop producers are crowned.

The famous International Horse Show, another leading event of its kind, will again provide top entertainment.

Entries for the show close Nov. 1 for all livestock classes, except loads of fat stock which may be made up to Nov 20. Grain Show entries close Nov. 10.

Voters to Ballot On TB Tax Renewal

Voters at the polls on the Nov. 2 election day will have a small ballot presented to them, in addition to the general election ballot. This will be a proposition to authorize a tax levy for operation and maintenance of hte county Tuberculosis Sanitarium, known officially as the Vermilion County Tuberculosis Dispensary and Hospital.

The ballot asks for authority to levy an additional tax in excess of the statutory limit of 25 cents on the $100 of taxable property. This, however, is not an additional tax, but a presentation for renewal of the 10-year tax, not to exceed 1½ mills on the $1, which was approved by the voters in the fall election of 1938. The 10-year period having expired, further approval of the voters is necessary. This will not be an additional tax, except that it may be in excess of the 25-cent levy for general county purposes. It has never been found necessary in the 10-year period, to levy the full amount granted by the voters, it is stated. The maximum amount that could be levied has not been increased.

1½ Billion Dollar Road Block!

RAILROADS MUST OPERATE around the clock every day and night of the year.

Although they know this, leaders of 16 railroad unions are demanding a five-day, Monday through Friday, week for one million railroad employes.

They want 48 hours pay for 40 hours work —in itself a 20% wage increase.

They also demand a minimum of 12 hours pay for any work performed on Saturdays, and 16 hours pay for any work performed on Sundays and holidays.

On top of all this they want an additional increase of 25c an hour for every employe!

You'd Pay the Bill!

Summing up these demands, they mean that these union leaders seek to force the railroads to give one million employes an annual raise which would average $1500 per employe!

The total cost of this would be no less than 1½ billion dollars per year, which is more than twice the expected net income of the railroads this year.

You'd pay the bill, because if these increased costs are forced on the railroads they must have still further rate and fare increases.

Demands Unreasonable

These employes have had substantial raises during and since the war. Their average weekly earnings are higher than the average weekly earnings of workers in manufacturing industries. They have more job security than the average worker in American industry. They also enjoy paid vacations, a retirement system and other advantages more generous than the average worker receives.

In contrast with the demands of these 16 unions, which add up to the equivalent of 48c an hour, the Conductors and Trainmen recently settled their wage request for an increase of 10c an hour.

Railroads Run for Everybody— Not Employes Alone

The railroad industry must serve not one but many groups—producers, businessmen, shippers, passengers and the general public—night and day, every day of the year. These unions are proceeding in utter disregard of this important difference between railroads and other industries. Industrial plants can be shut down over weekends and holidays, but freight, mail, express and passengers must continue to move. Everybody who enters railroad employment knows this.

Strike Threat

On September 18, 1948, the leaders of these 16 unions began taking a strike vote. But the threat of a strike will not alter the opposition of the railroads to such unreasonable demands!

USO of War Days Is With Us Again; Millions Are Needed

(Special)

WASHINGTON — The USO of war days has been given a rebirth.

The shuttered clubs of the wartime entertainment organizations for service men and women are being opened, swept out and redecorated.

The United Service Organizations are again asking for recruits, and preparations are being made for mountains of sandwiches and doughnuts and rivers of hot coffee to be made available. The new crop of service men called out by the draft are hungry for extra food, entertainment and a homey atmosphere, just as were their wartime counterparts, it is stated.

The people of the United States contributed more than $250 million for the wartime USO. The new USO will not be anywhere near as large as the wartime operation, but it is stated that an expanding Army needs its off-duty welfare, recreation and health services as did the service men of the second World War.

The USO was reactivated at the recommendation of James Forrestal, secretary of defense. He followed the recommendation of Lindsley F. Kimball, president of the USO, and a civilian committee which he heads. This comittee reported a great need for USO services.

The USO ceased operating clubs since last December. The signs were taken down from the wartime establishments and assets liquidated. The liquidation was more profitable than had been expected. A total of 4½ million was realized, which will be turned over to the six national agencies which sponsored USO. The various organizations of the old USO have continued 105 separate activities But after Jan. 1, all the lounges, clubs, recreation centers and special entertainments, including dances, sightseeing tours, picnics, boating excursions and the like will be returned to USO control. A total of 38 new clubs will again operate in various parts of the country between now and the end of the year. They are being set up with funds gathered by 1000 local community chests throughout the country.

The 1949 USO budget calls for the expenditure of $6 million. This compares with a top of approximately $56 million for 1945. At its peak, USO maintained some 3000 separate activities. It is hoped to raise $4,650,000 through community chest funds. The old USO will contribute $2 million from its fund for the new USO operations.

The Navy will probably require only some expansion of present facilities. On the other hand, the Army and Air Force together will re-establish and re-open in 1949 about 50 camps requiring substantial USO club services.

Technically, the USO went out of existence on Dec. 31, 1947. But the chief officers and the board of directors were retained for emergencies such as the present — the draft and the seriousness of the international situation.

The following agencies comprise the UCO: The YMCA, YWCA, National Jewish Welfare Board, Salvation Army, Travelers Aid and the National Catholic Community Service.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 17, was:

"DOCTRINE OF ATONEMENT"

The Golden Text was:

"The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many" (Mark 10:45).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon were the following from the Bible:

"For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved" (John 3:16, 17).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Atonement is the exemplification of man's unity with God, whereby man reflects divine Truth, Life and Love. . . . We acknowledge Jesus' atonement as the evidence of divine, efficacious Love, unfolding man's unity with God through Christ Jesus the Way-shower; and we acknowledge that man is saved through Christ, through Truth, Life, and Love as demonstrated by the Galilean Prophet in healing the sick and overcoming sin and death" (pp. 18, 497).

Georgetown business houses contributed about $100 the first of the week for Mr. and Mrs. Keith Neiswinger and three children, who recently moved to the Pearson property just east of the Georgetown cemetery from Terre Haute, Ind., after fire had leveled their five-room residence. All the family's possessions were lost except the clothing they were wearing.

The fire started when a gasoline stove exploded in the kitchen when Mrs. Neiswinger was preparing to bake a cake at about 9 a. m. Monday. The flames spread so quickly that the house and contents were nearly consumed by the time the Georgetown Fire Department arrived. Some delay resulted when a wrong number was dialed in calling the fire department.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

I'm Glad We're "Different!"

There's a lot of difference of opinion in our county on the best kind of pasture. Some say alfalfa mixed with brome grass—others say mixed with oats or barley. But all agree that a mixture's better than a single crop.

I sometimes think people are the same way—and the strength of America is its mixture of so many different strains—some from one country, some from another—right down to little differences: like folks who have a taste for beer and those who prefer cider.

From where I sit, so long as we never become intolerant of one another's different tastes—so long as we live together with our differences, and even supplement them the way brome grass does alfalfa, then we're a mighty good crop!

So neighbor—enjoy your cider while I enjoy my beer! Vote for your candidate—I'll stand by mine! But never let our differences divide us!

Joe Marsh

Wage Increase Costs $7 Million, Reports Phone Co.

With 31,000 of its 37,500 union employees demanding and receiving third round wage increases, E. R. Prosise, manager here for the Illinois Bell Telephone Co., estimated today that approximately $7 million has been added to the company's annual wage and related costs bill. There are another 13,000 employes in the company's commercial, accounting and general offices.

Settlement with 11,000 long distance and local operators represented by Communications Workers of America Division 14 (Independent) was effected last Friday at the deadline of midnight. Increases of $2, $3 and $4 per week were given, depending on length of service, type of job and locality. Union demands had ranged up to $6 per week, and federal and state conciliators assisted in the settlement.

"Settlements were made to match third round increases given by other industries and to pay going wages in the towns where we operate," the manager said. "We can't get and keep good people unless we are even with the wage market and these settlements, of course, make present employes' jobs more attractive. Moreover, in many communities, including Danville, we need more workers, particularly operators."

"The unfortunate result, however, is to impair critically the company's earnings position. Our total 1948 earnings for stockholders had been estimated, before any wage agreements were signed, at about $10,000,000 on gross plant investment of over $500,000,000, which is less than 2 cents on the dollar. Wage awards already made, with another 13,000 employes to go, amount to as much as three-fourths of 1948 previously expected profit."

There is no class of men so difficult whose intentions are honest, but whose consciences are bewitched.

SPRINGFIELD — The campaign of the State of Illinois to control tuberculosis took a notable forward step with the breaking of ground at Mt. Vernon last week for the construction of the state's first tuberculosis sanitarium.

The Mt. Vernon hospital is the first of three such institutions provided for in a bill sponsored by Gov. Green and passed by the 65th General Assembly. Plans are well advanced for a $5,000 000 hospital in Cook county, and the contract is expected to be placed by the end of 1948.

The first annual all-Illinois fishing rodeo, which closed last week, aroused such enthusiastic interest among anglers throughout the state that it will be staged again next year, according to Livingston E. Osborne, director of the Department of Conservation.

In the contest just ended, more than 80 lakes and streams were stocked with some 6000 tagged fish, and anglers competed for $60,000 worth of prizes offered by sporting goods manufacturers and merchants of Illinois.

Gov. Green received a message from Gov. Frank Carlson of Kansas, requesting him to ask the 40,203 native Kansans now living in Illinois to attend the second annual Kansas Manufacturers Show at Wichita Oct. 19-24. The largest plow in the world and many other types of farm equipment will be on display at the show. In his message, Gov. Carlson pointed out that almost 60,000 natives of Illinois reside in Kansas, and are so popular there that four of them — Willis J. Bailey, Ben S. Paulen, Clyde M. Reed, and Payne Ratner — have been elected as governors of that state.

The shipping mines of Illinois produced 4,924,758 tons of coal during September, according to a report by Robert R. Cruse, state director of mines and minerals. This was 292,000 tons less than the August output.

During September, aid to dependent children allowances were paid out to assist 56, 426 children in 22,179 families, according to a report by the Illinois Public Aid Commission. The total cost of such payments was $2, 035,598.

Am-Vets in Drive For New Members

The Illinois Department of the Am-Vets has launched an intensified campaign for new members, and Vermilion County Post 146 of the Am-Vets, with headquarters in Georgetown, plans to organize a team also for a part in the drive.

The local Post already has a membership of 185, and is in Class E in the state, which is the classification of 151 to 200 members. Each classification will compete in its own group.

The total membership in Illinois when the drive started Oct. 1 was 15,394, it is reported by Ray Gundlock, state adjutant. The state membership chairman, Joe Ogden of Champaign, believes the contest will provide a much more interesting competition under the new plan, which will be among the posts in each classification. Certificates will be awarded to the winning post in each classification each month during the drive.

The Vermilion county Post, which covers membership in the communities outside of Danville, was organized last January.

CRAIG - EDMONDS

Miss June Edmonds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Edmonds of Georgetown and a teacher at the Georgetown High School, was united in marriage with Harold Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Craig of Indianola, Friday evening, Oct. 15, at the home of her parents, before a mantle decorated with chrysanthemums, snapdragons and lighted tapers. Rev. Carl F. Hass, pastor of the Methodist Church, performed the single ring ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father. The couple was attended by Miss Madeline McConnell of Bloomington and Robert Knight of Indianola.

Preceding the ceremony a trio composed of Misses Patricia Woodard, Phyllis Edwards and Helen Murray sang "Always" and "Because."

The bride wore a white floor length gown with an orchid corsage. Miss McConnell wore a pink gown.

The couple will make their home in Indianola, where Mr. Craig is engaged in farming with his father.

Sunday, Oct. 17, with Tony Stimac, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stimac of Westville. Rev. C. C. Brown of Casey, Ill., performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bonomo, Mrs. Alfred Bedinger and Miss Jennie Stimac of Westville. Alfred Bedinger and Thomas Ferraro were ushers. Mrs. Jennie Lou Lewis sang "Always," "I Love You Truly" and "Because," accompanied by Miss Audrey Woodard at the piano.

The bride wore a white satin gown and fingertip veil, with a seed pearl tiara and carried a white bridal bouquet. Mrs. Bedinger wore pink and Mrs. Frank Bonomo and Miss Jennie Stimac wore blue. Each carried a colonial bouquet.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held for those present. There were guests from Chicago, Indiana and Michigan.

The bride was graduated from Georgetown High School and until recently has been employed in Chicago. The bridegroom was graduated from Westville High School and at present is employed at the Sunbeam Corp., in Westville. The couple will make their home for the present with the bridegroom's parents.

Answer — For rehabilitation training other than Public Law 16, veterans can apply to the State Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, any time.

Question — Can a veteran get a G. I. business loan to buy a pleasure car or furniture for his home?

Answer — No. The loan must be used by the veteran for business purposes only.

Question — While I was in service, I did not take out a National Life Insurance policy. Is it possible for me to apply for it now?

You Can't Swim the Mississippi with a Million Head of Cattle

The Mississippi River always has been the "continental divide" in the geography of the livestock-meat industry. In the old days the great herds of longhorns trailing north from Texas had many rivers to cross. The Red. The Canadian. The Big Blue. The Platte . . . but there was never a trail that ended east of the Father of Waters. The Mississippi was, and is, one river you couldn't swim with a million head of cattle.

It's a staggering job to get the nation's meat from producer to consumer. Two-thirds of the meat animals are produced west of the Mississippi . . . two-thirds of the meat is eaten east of it. On the average, meat has to be transported more than 1,000 miles. It's a big job—a huge job. Just consider: in 1947 alone, this job of getting the nation's meat from the farm and range to the cooking range involved 32,158,000 beef animals, 24,044,000 sheep and lambs, 82,579,000 hogs!

Harvesting any national crop—from wheat to meat—is a big job. Big machines are needed. Who uses binders when combines are more efficient? Similarly, in the processing and nationwide distribution of meat it takes large-scale, efficient "machinery." There's a need for all of us—producers and meat packers; shippers and marketing people; transportation lines; wholesalers and retailers. We all play a part—whether we are individuals or companies, whether we operate locally or on a nationwide basis.

Over the years, we at Swift have worked to perfect our nationwide system of marketing. We, and 26,000 other commercial slaughterers, provide a competitive cash market for your livestock. We buy your animals and dress them. We process and refrigerate them. Then, we distribute the meat to retail store men everywhere. (Our earnings for all these essential services are only a fraction of a cent a pound.) Because this big job is done efficiently, you producers are assured of markets . . . consumers everywhere are assured of meat. We at Swift & Company are proud of our part in building the "1,000-mile bridge"; the "bridge" which carries meat from the point of surplus production to the point of consumption. So long as all America wants meat it will take efficient nationwide organizations to bridge that 1,000-mile gap.

Soda Bill Sez:

Time counts unless you're counting time.

All That Glitters Isn't Profit

J. F. Brandt

Government reports tell of farm and ranch income from livestock that totals more than 17 billion dollars. Many folks read those reports and say—"No wonder meat is so high. Livestock producers must be coining money."

That is a thoughtless comment, based on misunderstanding. That 17 billion dollars is not profit—it is gross income. Many expenses must come out of your gross livestock income before you can make any profit on it. There's the cost of breeding-stock and feeding-stock . . . of your hired labor . . . of feed, machinery, equipment. All these costs are at all-time high levels. Out of your gross income also must come property and income taxes, interest; insurance premiums; repairs; new buildings; fences; death losses, etc. After you've paid all those necessary business expenses, you're lucky if you end up with 10 or 15 per cent profit.

A lot of people are just as wrong about Swift's profit as they are about yours. They look at our total sales of 2¼ billion dollars last year and say—"That's a barrel of money. No wonder meat is high!" But the fact is that competition in both buying and selling is so keen that from those 2¼ billion sales dollars an average of 79¢ went to pay you for your livestock. 10¢ for pay to our employes. 6½¢ for supplies and other necessary business costs. 3¢ for taxes and transportation. All we had left as earnings was 1½¢.

Yes, in our business, as in yours, there's a big difference between gross income and net profit!

Feed Pregnant Sows To Control Anemia

M. L. Buchanan

by M. L. Buchanan
North Dakota Agric. College, Fargo

Pig anemia has long been recognized as a nutritional disease causing death losses in young pigs. A new program at the North Dakota Agricultural College controls anemia. In this work pregnant sows were fed a ration that included copperas, an iron compound (feeding grade sold in most drug stores). Pigs from such sows had a high iron content in their blood stream. Their death loss was less than 10% from birth to weaning. This mortality figure compares with an estimated national average loss of about 34% during the same period. Other litters that had insufficient iron in their blood were of lighter weight at birth. They grew less rapidly during the first week of life. And they were more likely to be laid on or chilled.

In this program the greatest benefits from copperas feeding were observed in spring-farrowed litters—or in litters from sows confined during pregnancy. We recommend the feeding of one-half ounce of copperas per day with the sow's feed. Or add one-half lb. of copperas to each 100 lbs. of mixed feed.

Hog men only recently have associated anemia with the occurrence of weak, chilled and over-laid pigs. These losses are a heavy drain on the pocketbook of hog producers everywhere. True, such pigs can be treated. But it is extremely difficult to dose weak, anemic litters. From this standpoint alone, the copperas treatment would be desirable to prevent or control anemia from the beginning.
