Vol. 19 — No. 37 | Georgetown, Vermilion County, Illinois | Friday, June 24, 1949

The first load of watermelons for the season came through town Monday. Even in June, this is a grim reminder of late summer and early frosts just a few months ahead.

E. E. says: We count our blessings on our fingers and our wants on an adding machine . . . No one will admit it, but the big American problem is how to kill leisure time and still keep within the budget . . . In a group of three, if one is a woman, someone is certain to be pushed aside.

Congratulations to the City Dads for the new paint jobs on the fire hydrants; they (the fire hydrants, that is) stand out like a brick schoolhouse in a fog . . . The stork has been quite busy in this vicinity. Several owners of prize rabbits report more mouths to feed . . . The next two months will see homecomings, reunions and picnics by the dozen.

There are those who say that Senator Hickenlooper of Iowa is playing for the limelight in the atomic spy investigation so that he can be a candidate for President in 1950. That's impossible. He might be elected all right, but then there is always the possibility that he might be taken down with some illness, perhaps pneumonia, and would have to be treated with asafetida. With a name like Hickenlooper and all the other complications involved, the newspaper headline writers could never in the world cope with the situation. How, for instance, could you get Hickenlooper, pneumonia and asafetida in the same headline?

To-wit: California has a new light heavyweight named Butcher.

Is this one "ever-sharp"—Schick-Shaver nuptials at Vancouver, B. C.—Doreen Joyce Schick, Saturday, was the bride of Leroy Cecil Shaver.

A former De Kalb industrialist and real estate broker's fortune has gone to Potts! To his housekeeper, that is—Miss Rowena Potts.

Beanblossom blooms again! W. M. Beanblossom, principal of Hillsdale High School, was appointed to the office of county superintendent of schools by the township trustees of Vermillion County.

"No fool like an old fool," said Ez Pash, as he sipped coffee in a local restaurant recently. An elderly "wolf" had made several sly but futile attempts to flirt with the pretty young waitress who was serving him. Finally, when she brought his dessert, he grew a little more bold. "My dear," he purred, "where have you been all my life?" "Well," chirruped the girl matter-of-factly, "for the first 40 years anyway, I probably wasn't born."

Says Ez: The best way to break a bad habit—is to DROP it! . . . You can't teach a man anything—you can only help him to find it within himself.

Reputation reflects the opinions of others, but character is what a company, or a person, or a product really is. And Ez cites an example of this latter truism from his recollection of a recent happening in a local store: "That chicken I bought here yesterday had no wishbone," said a customer. "Ah, indeed not, Madam. Our chickens are all happy and contented and have nothing to wish for," replied the alert grocer.

Mark Twain once said, "If you pick up a starving dog and make him prosperous, he will not bite you. That is the principal difference between a dog and a man." Looks like some of Uncle Sam's surplus foods should have gone to the dogs (?).

Our Clean Story Club—The youngster came dashing into the house. "Dad," he asked, "can you let me have a dollar for window shopping? I'm tired of playing baseball."

"I might," said Dad, "but why on earth do you need money? You don't need a dollar to go window shopping."

"This time I do," said the small fry. "It's Mrs. Babson's window next door I gotta go shopping for."

Why editors leave town: From a Texas paper—In her suit for separate maintenance, Mrs. B complained that her husband started amusing her three days before marriage . . . From the St. Louis (Mo.) Globe-Democrat—It was a sad day when the physician felt the patient's purse and decided that there was no hope.

Age limits of all grades of Boy Scout activities to be lowered one year by Sept. 1; boys may enroll in Scouts at age 11.

Old Public Library Building Makes Way For New Structure

Site Being Cleared; Architects Work on Plans

The work of dismantling the old library building on N. State St., which has served as photographic studios for many years, is well along. The building was sold by sealed bid on June 16 to H. Wiese of Danville. His bid of $112.50 was the highest of a number of bids received by the Westville Public Library Board.

The architects, the firm of Blackman & Strader, Danville, are at work with the library board on the plans, for the new library building. Two representatives of the Illinois State Library, Miss Helene H. Rogers, assistant state librarian, and Miss Laura Libutzki, field visitor for public libraries, were here Sunday from Springfield to confer and advise on interior arrangement and plans.

The two visitors met with members of the library board and with representatives of the Tri Lambda sorority, which founded the library and has maintained it.

The cost of the new library building cannot be definitely ascertained until the plans are more completely developed. It is believed, however, that about half of the amount necessary has been raised, almost entirely through private donations. The drive for funds is to be continued, and will reach greater activity this fall. Efforts will be made to keep down construction costs as much as possible without sacrifice to the appearance and utility of the new building.

The old library building now being torn down is one of Westville's oldest structures in the business section. The sale provided that the building be torn down and all materials be removed from the site. The Westville Lions Club is a sponsor of the new building.

Westville League Teams Still Ahead

Both of Westville's teams in the Midwestern Baseball League remain unbeaten for the season.

Bubble Up won in Danville, Sunday afternoon, from Thomas Mattress by a score of 12-8. The local nine batted a dozen hits off of Thornsburgh and Barry, while the Mattress crew landed 11 from Hacquet and Houston.

Playing on the home grounds, Horseshoe Bar walloped Fairmount, 21-4, the local team starting out with a 10-run lead in the first two innings. White got three hits out of four times at bat.

Westville Legion 9 Tops Sunday League

In a regular Sunday League game, the Westville American Legion baseball nine won from Danville Olivet last Sunday afternoon, 10-7. This was the Legion's fourth straight victory. The Legionnaires now lead the league of 12 teams. The box:

Officers Enforcing Parking Regulations

Warning Tickets Are Issued

Westville police officers report fewer parking violations since a drive has been started to remedy conditions that have been resulting in traffic congestion, particularly in the business district.

Mayor Byron and members of the city board have decided on a campaign for rigid enforcement of parking regulations. Warning tickets are being given out. Police officers have special tickets and blanks for the complaints. Violators will be brought before the village police court or justices of the peace.

Areas to be affected by the new orders are the bus zones, parking zones at the intersections of E. and W. Main and N. and S. State Sts.; the postoffice parking zone; and the zones for physicians' and the police cars. The areas have been plainly marked. Restricted time limits are in effect on E. and W. Main Sts., in the business section. Trucks will be permitted to park only long enough in the downtown area to load and unload merchandise.

Complaints of shooting birds within the city limits are being investigated, and a stop is being made to the discharging of small rifles firing BB shot. Complaints have been received of some property damage, and that injuries have been narrowly averted. the only product e know of made

$5 Prizes Offered For Catching Fish

The Illinois fishing rodeo, sponsored by the State Department of Conservation in co-operation with local sportsmen's, civic and fraternal clubs, will be launched shortly at Lake Vermilion.

The Fisheries Division of the Conservation Department will dump tagged fish into the lake. Fishing in the rodeo will be open to all fishermen, of all ages, in the state, it is announced.

A total of 37 prizes donated by local merchants are available for fishermen who catch the official tagged fish. Official Conservation Department tags carry the letters and numbers "CD-49" (meaning Conservation Department 1949) plus the serial number signifying a prize. The rules are:

Fish must be caught before next October 15; either artificial lures or live bait may be used; prizes will be awarded only for fish with official tag attached to the gill; fishermen who land tagged fish should report the lucky catch to a local certifying officer, who will be appointed by the local sponsoring unit.

The certifying officer for Lake Vermilion to whom tagged fish are brought is Stanley Rakausky, 18 Adams St., Westville, conservation officer for Vermilion county. Others of the sponsoring unit are John Lutchka, Sportsman's Inn, Westville; John William Cottrell, 127 Jewel St., Westville, and Walter (Fat) Velikis, Georgetown.

The prizes are fishing tackle, equipment and accessories, each of the 37 valued at $5.

Community Band Organized For Georgetown Concerts

Georgetown citizens, under sponsorship of the Music Patrons Club organized a year ago, are forming an old-fashioned community band. A meeting for try-outs was held Thursday night.

The high school and grade schools have no band instructor for next year, as Earl Houts, who has been music director and band instructor of the public schools for several years, has taken another position.

Ronald Miethe is directing the new band, which is to be composed of students and those who have played in some of Georgetown's city bands of many years ago. It is expected to have summer concerts this season.

The Tiny Theater is showing "What's Cooking," sponsored by the Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

Congregational Church Notes

Rev. C. R. Dierlamm, Minister

There are too many bossy babies. The rule of the babes, according to Isaiah 3, verses 4 and 5, 'I will give children to be princes, and babes shall rule over them," is more evident today than ever before.

The youngster in the cradle soon learns to be the center of the stage. They learn to be boss soon after they are born. That is what the expert doctors say. As for myself, I never hold the babies when they are baptised. If they do not know you, you are likely to get a slap in the face. Let the mothers hold them.

The reason there is a decline in government in state and family is because men began wrong in babyhood. Their parents could not manage the situation. Baby Hitler, little Mussolini and the infant Stalin were very cute, but not having wise parents to control them, they lived long enough to cut the throats of millions of people.

Resources Declining

Statements of those in authority point out that our fine Minnesota iron ore ranges are rapidly approaching depletion, as far as the high grade ores are concerned. Recently, we have found that lead and zinc resources in this country also are thinning out. The prediction is made that we will be dependent on foreign sources in this hemisphere for our richer ore supplies before many years.

The wastefulness of war is largely to blame for this situation. Even our iron and steel scrap has been wasted by war. Thousands of tons of it are in bleak South Pacific islands, never to be salvaged. Much other iron and steel scrap still is in Europe, some of which is being reclaimed. Our supplies of coal and petroleum are abundant for several generations, although wars have made terrific drains on those resources.

The decline in mineral supplies is a tremendous shock to those Americans who were brought up to think that the natural wealth of this country was inexhaustible. That is why many thoughtful persons are deeply concerned about shipments of our natural resources to foreign countries in times of peace.

Travel Industries

As you travel along the highways almost anywhere, you will see scores of small businesses serving the travelers. This is done in service stations, in food, cool drinks, motoring supplies as well as in sleeping accommodations and personal services for the tourists. All this has become a major industry throughout the open season. In the more tropical climates of this country, the winter months thus become the harvest time.

The roadside "capitalist" is typical of many thousands of the small enterprises, retail, services, even small manufacturing units, that dot the American scene. Each of these enterprises buys equipment, supplies, perhaps some lumber, paint and roofing. Collectively, they make up an immense buying power and give employment to thousands. They represent small industry but they are also big industry. The owner of each is sovereign in his domain and the management and guidance of his business often requires more ingenuity than the conduct of a big industry. Sometimes one of the small business enterprises in this country fail. But the owners are willing to take the chance, the risks, the perils necessary to conduct these business operations, even if this means longer working hours and less leisure time. The U. S. economy is essentially one of small business activities, many of which grow into big ones. The resort and travel industries in America, where no police permit is required to leave the home town and no passport visas are necessary for entrance into another state, always will be popular, whether by plane, train, bus or private auto. Freedom, as conceived in the U. S., includes some opportunity to move about.

The Assembly at Work

When the legislature knocked off for the week last Thursday, 1,020 bills had been introduced in the House and 679 bills in the Senate, a total of 1,699.

These bills cover almost every conceivable subject. Some are highly technical, affecting numerous phases of Illinois life — business, industry, farmers, youth problems, care of the aged, the mentally and physically handicapped—and, of course, all of them affect the taxpayers.

As the final two weeks' period of this session of the General Assembly resumed Monday, there were still on the calendar a lot of bills that are "bad" from the viewpoint of the taxpayer. Among them was the proposal to increase the state motor fuel tax and the bill authorizing cities to license numerous business activities for revenue, now limited by amendment in the House, to Chicago.

Obviously, no man could know what to do in all of those 1,699 bills covering such varied and difficult subjects, and hearings were conducted by the General Assembly committees. Roughly, there were 265 committee meetings held by the House and 259 by the Senate.

A total of 209 of the bills were passed up to last week's closing time. Of these, four had been vetoed by the governor and 33 had not yet been acted upon. In analyzing the bills that had been passed, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois found that none of them was considered a "bad" bill, and some are classed as good ones and of valuable public benefit. The Federation points out that careful consideration had been given the bills and thus some satisfactory results have been obtained.

Some of the pending bills, recently introduced, have not been given careful consideration. The interests of the people are always best protected when legislation receives careful and deliberate consideration, when all sides can be heard. Hasty legislation is too often bad legislation.

Disposal of the 'Useless'

When anyone moves or cleans house, there is always an accumulation of articles which finally is classified as junk. Many things must be thrown away that not long before had seemed to be treasured items.

In many cases, the disposal of junk is not such a serious problem as might be considered at first thought. The difficult solution seems to be the elimination of articles that really do have some value and could be used by others. There is always someone that can make use of what becomes junk to others. Few things seem to be entirely useless. What may seem waste in throwing things away that clutter up the premises may not be waste after all; that is, if it can be of use to someone else.

Fortunately, there are many agencies now that make use of discarded articles and work them over for the benefit of others. Everyone seems to accumulate more things than in times gone past. There is more mail, more travel by the ordinary citizen, more saving of souvenirs. The passion for souvenir collecting seems to be growing through the years.

It is virtually impossible to save all the things that the average person collects over a span of years. Much of this must go the way of all material things. In order to be neat and orderly one must be a little on the destructive side.

Facts and Education

Questions asked on the quiz programs of radio stations concern themselves so much with facts, many of them obscure facts, that often listeners are inclined to regard a memory for an accumulation of facts as the real test of an education.

Many of the questions, and the answers, give little or no indication of actual educational background. The average person finds it more important to have the ability to make wise decisions and to think than to remember curious oddities. Ability to think and make wise decisions requires a sense of proportion, a background of reading, a knowledge of human nature and a lot of common sense.

Someone who has passed examinations in higher mathematics may make foolish mistakes in elementary arithmetic, and others who can discuss Shakespeare's plays fluently are unable to compose a good letter, or otherwise express themselves precisely and interestingly in good English. The average radio quiz program offers little in the way of skill in the pursuit of education and cannot be taken too seriously.

Marriage is a splendid institution. It teaches a man thrift, regularity, helpfulness, and a host of other virtues he wouldn't need if he had stayed single.

Happiness is within us, provided we place it there. It does not get there by itself.

—M. M.

To punish ourselves for others' faults, is superlative folly. The mental arrow shot from another's bow is practically harmless, unless our own thought barbs it.—Mary Baker Eddy.

MESSAGE OF CHRIST FOR TODAY
By Mary Hiatt

I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly—John 10:10.

Jesus' message for all the people of the world today is the same He gave so long ago. It is a positive message —a message of Life and Hope. Jesus was interested in man's physical life and healed the sick and cleansed the leper; he was interested in man's mental life, and confounded the wise men of His day with His own wisdom; He was interested in man's social life and shared in it. But above all, He was interested in enriching man's soul.

Christ lifted life above mere existence. It is more than breathing, eating, working, playing. All life is a gift from God, in whom we live and move and have our being." But we shall never have life in all its fullness and happiness until we turn to our Lord Jesus Christ, who is the door into the sheepfold and receive from Him that highest, richest, noblest life He imparts to all who believe on Him.

Jesus asked the question in the Sermon on the Mount: "Is not the life more than meat and body than raiment?" Out of the heart are the issues of life. If we do not learn how to rebuild our own inner lives, we shall not be able to succeed in rebuilding our depressed, chaotic world.

Paul lived this abundant life and expressed it thus: "The life I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me."

The abundant life is a life of love, supreme love to God and love for all mankind. It is a life of faith that enables man to surmount all difficulties and fears. It is a life of fine friendships, for friends are links of gold in the chain of life. It is a life of service for others, for we serve Christ best when we serve a needy world.

LAW ON THE FARM

By H. W. HANNAH
Associate Professor of Agricultural Economics, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois

CATS

Recently, the Illinois legislature passed and the governor vetoed a bill which would have prohibited cats from running at large. The purpose of the legislation was to protect song and insectivorous birds.

Though dogs have been the subject of many laws, both statutory and common law in origin, cats are involved in but few. The only Illinois statute on cats provides that neither dogs nor cats shall be killed for dissection purposes in public schools. Also the common law as it developed in England did not regard stealing a cat as a felony. The same was held to be true of dogs until the English parliament made dog-stealing a misdemeanor.

Of practical importance to farmers are the following general legal conclusions regarding cats: (1) There are no laws prohibiting cats from running at large. (2) Cats are not protected in any way: therefore a farmer molested by them can take any steps necessary to prevent injury, including killing. (3) There are no state license laws of any kind applying to cats. (4) If the ownership of a cat can be established, damages may be recovered for injuries caused by the cat.

This would apply to injuries while on the property of another or to personal injuries resulting from biting and clawing. If it could be proved that a cat was responsible for transmitting animal disease, a cause of action might well exist in the injured party against the cat's owner for losses resulting from the disease. (5) Cat owners may sue for theft or for needless injury to their cats, even though the taking of a cat may not be punishable under the Criminal Code of the state.

The statute referred to is in the Illinois Revised Statutes 1947, Chapter 122, Section 27-13.

There are no hopeless situations; there are only men who have grown hopeless about them.

Every man must educate himself; his books and teachers are but helps; the work is his.—Daniel Webster

It is not well to see everything, to Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage.—Galatians 5:1

A reception for relatives and friends was held at Ss. Peter and Paul parish hall that evening.

The bride is a graduate of Westville High School and the St. Elizabeth Hospital School of Nursing and is employed as a staff nurse at the hospital. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Rozgonyi, Maple St. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutnicke Sr., is a student at Butler University, Indianapolis. LESKO - MANFROID

Miss Elizabeth Manfroid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvie Manfroid, became the bride of August Lesko, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Lesko Sr., at the Westville Congregational Church, Saturday, the Rev. C. E. Smith of Danville officiating. He was assisted by the Rev. C. R. Dierlamm, Westville.

Preceding the ceremony. Mrs. Luther Hitzeroth, church organist, played bridal airs and accompanied Miss Bonnie True, Danville, who sang "Because," "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Attending the young couple were her sister, Carolyn, maid of honor; Betty Lopinski, Charleston, and Thelma Schabowski, Hegeler, bridesmaids; John Kochvar, best man; and George Schabowski and Charles Quartier, ushers. Esther Ellen Linn, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore pink, orchid and blue gowns, respectively, and carried colonial bouquets of carnations and bachelor buttons. The flower girl wore a gown of chartreuse taffeta.

A dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony, and a reception was held that evening at Ss. Peter and Paul parish hall. Carnival Booked for Fourth 'Homecoming' in Georgetown

A carnival has been booked to add to the annual Fourth of July celebration in Georgetown. The day's program, with the municipal fireworks in the evening, is to be known as a Homecoming.

The carnival, Johnny's United Shows a Midwestern group of three shows, a half dozen rides and a number of concessions, was booked recently by the Georgetown Agriculture Fair Association as an aid to the financing of the 12th annual Georgetown Fair in August, and will show a week, beginning Monday, June 27, and continuing to July 5.

At the meeting of the Georgetown city council Tuesday evening, Mayor Ivan Rucker and members of council were of the unanimous opinion that it would be advisable to hold the fireworks celebration in the City Park. Suggestions had been made that if the carnival should be located on the new fairgrounds, it might be an advantage to stage the fireworks display on the high school grounds across the street.

The mayor and council, however, agreed that the fireworks should be held in the park, for safety reasons and for handling the crowds and to provide parking space. It was stated that there is ample room for the carnival on the park grounds, either in the grove or adjoining the baseball diamond.

William R. Belton, former Danville city commissioner, and now residing on his farm near Jamaica, has been named on the executive committee of the Eastern Illinois Fair to take the place of the late Russell Pollitt; tent contract awarded to Mahaffey Bros. of Memphis, Tenn.

Humid weather of the last week is big aid to growing crops, despite cool nights.

An item of $200,000 for completing the second link of construction at the Vermilion County Airport, northeast of Danville, is included in appropriation in State Senate last week for airport improvements; second phase of construction of county Airport Authority to include a second runway, apron and an administration building.

F. L. Jacobs Co., manufacturer of auto cushion springs, has been hiring more employes.

University Work Is Offered in Danville

Announcement is made that college courses again will be offered in Danville this summer in the new Danville Community College. This is the fourth year for the college in Danville.

For the last three years it has been known as Danville Extension, University of Illinois, and this year is the first that it will be known as Danville Community College. The work will be given in the Danville High School. The college office will be in Room 247 of the high school building.

The college will offer the same courses as heretofore, with the addition of some new ones. Every effort is made, according to the announcement, to fill the needs of the community.

The college office will be open for registration from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. each weekday all summer, with the exception of the first two weeks in August. A full freshman-sophomore course is offered in liberal arts, commerce, engineering, chemistry, premedical, pre-dental and others. Classes will be from 8:45 a.m. until 8:30 p.m. Classes will not meet every day. Many students take a full program, in addition to working half days. The school is on a tuition basis, not supported by public taxation.

Danville High School, by consent of the Board of Education, District 118, operated the extension center during 1946-47, 1947-48 and 1948-49. This spring, the University of Illinois closed all extension centers. The school district, by consent of the board, decided to continue offering college work. The two years of accredited college work to be offered is the result.

Extra-curricular activities, including basketball, a stunt show, parties, dances and a spring prom will be available, it is said.

Students desiring to confer with Miss Mary Miller, dean, may call at the college office every weekday. If Miss Miller is not in, Mrs. Barbara Kuras, college secretary, will handle pre-registration data. Prospective students should bring high school transcripts of credits and the $10 registration and incidental fees, it is announced.

Dealers Note 60th Standard Oil Year

(Special)

DECATUR—The Decatur Division of Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) observed the company's 60th birthday June 18. To mark the occasion the company is presenting souvenir fountain pens to employes.

It is also distributing anniversary issues of its publications and sending special letters from the chairman of the board and president to employes and dealers.

The souvenir pens for employes are in red, white and blue, and are imprinted "Standard Oil Co., 60th anniversary, 1949."

The company was incorporated in 1889. Soon afterwards a refinery, the first oil refinery in the Middle West, was started at Whiting, Ind. "In those days, the principal product was kerosene, sold from barrels and tanks in the back rooms of grocery stores to light the lamps and heat the trick cookstoves of what was then the 'west'," states R. E. Lee, manager of the Decatur division.

With the coming of the "horseless carriage" the oil business grew rapidly. By 1910, Standard was selling petroleum products in 10 Midwestern states. About 1912 it started building service stations, and at about the same time the process of obtaining gasoline by cracking, known as the Burton process, was developed. This greatly increased gasoline yield from crude oil.

Today the Whiting plant and four other refineries, built later, make gasoline, motor oil, kerosene and a total of 2,000 products from petroleum for distribution under the company's name to many thousands of agents and dealers who serve customers in 15 Middle West states.

Finally, education alone can conduct us to that enjoyment, which is, at once, best in quality and infinite in quantity.—Horace Mann

SPRINGFIELD—The 1949 Illinois State Fair premium list, offering $299,667 in prizes, is now ready for distribution to fair exhibitors and patrons. Both in total premiums and number of classifications, it marks new high records for this exposition, according to Henry J. White, business administrator of the fair.

The closing date for livestock entries is July 20, while entries in all other departments will close July 31. Only one registration fee of $2.50 is required from each exhibitor, no matter how many classes are entered or how many entries submitted.

Copies of the premium list may be obtained by addressing Illinois State Fair, Box 546, Springfield.

Gov. Stevenson has proclaimed June 25 as Chicago Railroad Fair Day. The date marks the re-opening of a transportation exposition, which last year attracted more than 2,500,000 visitors from all parts of the country.

This season's fair will include displays of the most modern equipment and latest refinements in rail travel, together with many dramatic pageants tracing the development of American railroads. The fair will continue throughout the summer, closing Oct. 2.

Field men of the state Department of Conservation are now making reports on fishing conditions in various parts of Illinois. A summary of their first report follows:

Raccoon lake, one mile east of Centralia—Bass fishing is the best since the lake was constructed, seven years ago. Crappie and blue gill fishing about average. It is estimated that 30,000 to 35,000 catfish have been caught here this season.

Goose pond, in Putnam county—Fishing good. At Senachwine lake, in same vicinity, fishing is reported fair.

Spoon river, in Fulton county—Fishing good, particularly below Bernadotte dam.

Twin lakes, in Edgar county—Plenty of bass.

Sixteen district safety inspectors of the state Devision of Motor Carriers have just completed a three-day training course in Springfield. The course was designed to improve enforcement of the Illinois truck act.

The inspectors are responsible for checking 900 official testing stations throughout Illinois where some 300,000 trucks have to undergo semi-annual safety tests.

Psychiatric treatment for alcoholics is now being offered by the state Division of Vocational Rehabilitation. Other services,, such as psychological testing, medical attention, job training and placement are also available.

This work is part of an expanding program for the mentally and emotionally handicapped, according to Noble J. Puffer, director of the state Department of Registration and Education. Puffer says Illinois is among the first states to offer such help to alcoholics under a vocational rehabilitation program. Alcoholics Anonymous and Portal House. Chicago, are assisting in the undertaking.

Look at the Label

A lot of persons, who like to think that they think, are bandying about a couple of terms that mean less than a whole lot to a whole lot of people. I refer to the terms: "liberal" and "reactionary." May I put in my two cents worth in hopes that you may know these modern labels better?

What I mean is that armchair commentators and soapbox spellbinders throw these terms at you, without any apology. Sure, you can get their meaning, whether they are for it or against it, by the way their lips are curled and their epithets hurled. But that's not enough. We need to know what the labels mean. A man can't think straight unless he can know his ideas as he picks them up.

The Real Test

Jesus said of false teachers: "By their fruits ye shall know them." That is still the best way to size up a man and his idea. It is even possible to put that test to labels. That way, a man cannot call himself one thing and be another.

The word liberalism comes from the same basic word that gave us the term liberty. The ancestors of this label, therefore, are of the best blood. The term has the finest possible background, for it implies all sorts of freedoms and puts strong stress upon human liberty. Then how is it that those who claim liberalism as their doctrine are found waving the banner for the very worst enemies of all liberty?

State Supreme

We Americans declare that we hold sacred the right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. We have said that man is to be as free as possible, while also being responsible. The nation's founding fathers clearly insisted that government must be set up to serve man, and not man to serve the government.

But here and now we have the sorry mess of the liberals today wanting to change all this. They propose to improve this arrangement by "planning" us into either a socialist or a communist or a fascist society in which all signs of human freedoms must certainly vanish. These planners and plotters would have the society (government or state) to be supreme in all things. Even God they would replace by the State.

A New Serfdom

What need would we then have to guarantee personal rights and freedoms, if the state is to assume all the responsibility for everybody? No need, at all, if the State is supreme. These liberals (I am now applying the label test to their works) care nothing for the Constitution. They are all totalitarians at heart. Their aim is political power to suppress the personal liberty that belongs to the individual. Here we have the strange spectacle of dangerous "liberals."

What else is the explanation, when those who love to call themselves liberals denounce as "reactionary" anybody who distrusts the police state and would halt the trend to totalitarianism? A "reactionary," strictly speaking, is one who objects to progress and desires to turn back the clock. We must conclude then, that the real reactionaries of today are those liberals who would return us to the slavery of the State. They would make the coming century a new Dark Age.

Big Georgetown Grain Elevator Being Built Following Fire

Construction work is proceeding at the elevator plant of the Federal-North-Iowa Grain Co., near the Big Four railroad tracks at the west edge of Georgetown. Arrangements have been made to start receiving and loading wheat on cars by early in July, although the final work will not be completed before late in August.

The fire of last Thanksgiving morning, which destroyed the frame section of the main plant, caused enough damage to a huge concrete storage tank to make considerable cleaning up and repair work necessary. This work was started early in March.

Another concrete storage tank has been erected, and the towering tanks with the four overhead bins over the driveways, and the high headhouses can be seen for miles.

One storage tank will be used for corn and the other for soybeans. Each overhead bin has 2,000-bushel capacity for small grains. The total capacity of the elevator plant will be 75,000 bushels, as compared with 50,000 bushels before the fire.

Latest developments in grain elevator construction and equipment are incorporated. There will be two fast legs to convey the grain into the elevator and for loading on cars. There will also be a power, v-belt driven, corn sheller. The office building and platform scales were not damaged by the fire. The general contractors for the work are J. E. Reeser & Son, Morea, Ill.

The corn handling and storage capacity will be double that of former years. The capacity of the old frame structure was only 14,000 bushels. The new tank has a 33,000-bushel capacity. The capacity for small grains will be about the same.

All of the soybeans in storage at the time of the fire were salvaged and moved to the company's elevators at Ridgefarm and elsewhere. The corn in the frame elevator was entirely consumed. Insurance only partially covered the cost of the new structure. The new cylindrical tank is 94 feet high with a headhouse about 20 feet high, making a total height of 114 feet. The cylinder is 25 feet in diameter and walls are 6 inches thick. The 8-inch floors are 30 feet in diameter. The floor of the new tank is set on a 130-ton sand fill at the base, serving as a floating foundation and settling-shock absorber.

About 400 tons of material will be used in the structure, of which about 220 tons is concrete, 130 tons sand at the base, and about 50 tons of steel reinforcing bars.

POSITIONS OPEN

R. J. FitzGerald, manager of the Danville Employment Service office, states that the Illinois Civil Service Commission is giving examinations for employment interviewer and unemployment claims examiner, and that application forms may be obtained from his office.

FitzGerald said these examinations are being given now to attract as many qualified high school and college graduates as possible.

Fill your time with positive service and good. Do not drift. Have definite things on hand to do.
