Vol. 19 — No. 39 | Georgetown, Vermilion County, Illinois | Friday, July 8, 1949

The rains came to a parched and dry (?) Westville Wednesday afternoon, and also laid the dust in Danville, but Georgetown sweltered in heat and humidity with only a few drops of water. Did they do wrong?

The Grapevine

June has just gone around the corner, as practically everyone is aware, and with it has gone the theme song, "O Promise Me" . . . A few improvements in the business district are scheduled to take place this fall . . . Westville's Midwestern League teams have been going to town in a big way; the Sunday Afternoon League and American Legion Juniors have run into a little bad luck recently, so it seems, but they will come out of it, no doubt.

The bug that dotes on oats is in Douglas County this week. No doubt Vermilion County, too, is on his itinerary. While the lightning bug is illuminating, he'll have to hurry if he's carrying the torch for the June bug, whose month expired Thursday.

Everett Ward is the only fisherman we h[illegible]rd of this season who can prove without the shadow of a doubt that his "biggest fish" got away. While enjoying the science and art of fishing in one of Minnesota's 10,000 lakes on his recent trip to the Paul Bunyan country, Mr. Ward was about to land a huge muskelunge when it broke away—hook, line and all. No one in his party, not even his wife, it seems, could quite believe the catch was quite as big as his imagination. Soon, however, another fisherman in a boat nearby got a strike and landed one with Neighbor Ward's line in its (the fish's, that is) mouth. Definite proof, therefore, that this "musky" could have been none other than "the fish that got away."

Fortunately, no one was injured by fireworks over the 4th. There were a considerable number of explosives discharged, and several citizens were frightened out of their wits by the fireworks of the mysterious Blonde Bomber, but no real casualties resulted.

During the last week, those places with the air-conditioned atmosphere were a magnet for those who carry their business with them and various big deals were put over while cokes and coffee were consumed; property was leased by the local traders and operators, farms were sold and swapped, cars were traded in, and the fate of the British Empire, the United Nations and the Soviet Republics were settled and disposed of in the cooling air which touched fevered brows.

Our Clean Story Club—"You really love Harold, don't you?" said the young woman to her friend.

"Yes, and he's asked me to change my name to his, too."

"O, I wouldn't do that, Harold is no name for a girl."

New Ohio Oil Co. Service Station Is In Operation Here

Local Manager Is Wanted to Take Over, States Official

Work on Westville's newest service station is virtually completed on S. State St., on the site of the former Bee Line Garage, by the Ohio Oil Co., which purchased the location more than a year ago. The new station already is in operation, servicing cars and trucks and handling the Marathon products of the company, as well as some motoring accessories.

C. C. Moore, Urbana, district manager, states that the company is desirous of getting a Westville man as manager as soon as possible. The man wanted should be acquainted with the local trade and have a good following, he stated.

The station is finished in white porcelain. The main building is about 30 by 50 feet in dimensions and has about $4,000 worth of concrete driveways. When the final lettering is placed on the building, the construction work will have been completed.

A "grand opening" day will be observed next month, according to plans.

About 8000 in Attendance At Georgetown Fireworks Show

A crowd estimated at about 8,000 was on the Georgetown City Park grounds Monday night for the Fourth of July fireworks, the 12th annual event, despite the heat and humidity.

The carnival, which was at the park for Fourth of July "homecoming" week, also was a drawing card. The size of the crowd was somewhat larger than expected because of a fireworks show given the same evening by the American Legion in Danville. Cars were parked four deep in all the available space at the park, and each street leading toward the park grounds had parked cars for a quarter to a half mile.

The fireworks, purchased from the Illinois Fireworks Co., were in charge of Walter Radomski, assisted by Bill Clark. The program contained some added features this year, including a large number of ground tableaux settings. These consisted of fountain sprays, waterfall settings, the Statue of Liberty and a patriotic grand finale of the Star Spangled Banner and bombs.

The traffic was handled by the police and special officers without accident. The Music Patrons Club had charge of the park refreshment stand. The carnival was brought here by the Georgetown Agriculture Fair Association to help finance premium and other expenses for the annual Georgetown Fair to be held in August.

Congregational Church Notes

Rev. C. R. Dierlamm, Minister

Mankind has always rebelled against harmony. God, who is the most perfected One without blame or blemish, gave His Son, our Savior the emblems of a perfected Gospel.

In the final analysis, there was to be no fault to be found in Christ, and yet men hated Him, and finally killed him. And having falsely accused Him as a criminal, they went on their sinful way, smacking their lips at he lowdown accomplishment. The grinding process in making harmonious pearls is known only in the disturbing work of the enduring oyster. Diamonds in the rough are made most beautiful by the grinding process that makes them harmoniously precious. If you feel embarrassed in the company of the saints who work hard at Christian perfection, it would be well for you to fall in love with God, who is the Author of all that is good and beautiful.

Coal Miners Start On Three-Day Week Pending Agreement

Negotiation Date Changed; Tilton Company Shuts Down

Coal miners in this area were at work Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday this week, in accordance with orders from John L. Lewis and the headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America at Washington.

Beginning next week, the miners will work Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays. The three-day week has been established, according to UMW headquarters, in order that negotiations for a new contract may be carried out with the least possible strain on the membership, the coal industry and general consumers.

This marked the first time in recent UMW history that the union miners returned to work after expiration of a contract, without a new one. The contract expired last Thursday.

The Tilton Mining Co., with operations near Catlin, has announced an indefinite shutdown. It was claimed by William Martin, head of the company, that lack of orders is responsible for the shutdown.

Some miners in western Pennsylvania, Kentucky, West Virginia and Indiana were unable to resume work because operators had expected a work stoppage this week and the mines were not ready for resumed operation. Most of the miners, however, worked this week.

It was announced in Pittsburgh, Wednesday, that the northern and western soft coal operators have extended further negotiations to July 19, instead of July 12. This was agreed to, it was stated by the operators, so that mutual problems could be canvassed.

Inspector Approves Safety Features at Local Mining Co.

(Special)

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A federal coal mine re-inspection report just released by the Bureau of Mines commends suitable timbering and recent safety improvements at the Tilton Mining Co.'s No. 2 mine, near Catlin, Ill., and also proposes additional safeguards.

The mine employed 55 men and produced 350 tons of coal a day when Inspector R. E. Seiger recently examined it.

The inspector recommended safer underground transportation for the permissible explosives, always keeping them in their containers until ready for use at the face, firing them electrically, and using combustible stemming. He endorsed adopting some safer underground storage practices, but said explosives should not be taken to the faces while electrical equipment is being operated.

Ventilation was good, and some recommendations were made. The inspector approved rock-dusting all the rooms and entries to within 80 feet of the faces, but he said excessive coal dust should be allayed during cutting.

Other recommendations were in regard to the hoist, lights, mine refuse and correction of some electrical hazards. He recommended the discontinuance of smoking and the carrying of flame-making devices underground.

The airway used as an escapeway was travelable, the inspector noted with approval.

HOMER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Sewage Disposal Plant Is Considered by Georgetown

Mayor Ivan Rucker and members of the Georgetown city council spent considerable time Tuesday evening at a regular meeting in outlining plans for the proposed new sanitary sewer system and sewage disposal plant. The sewer system plans embrace the entire town.

The survey is being prepared for the Federal Post-War Planning Board in the event that this project may be scheduled later for federal aid.

An engineering survey for the sewer system and disposal plant was made about 10 years ago by the firm of Wood, Walraven & Tilly of Springfield. The project was taken up for construction in 1941, but the war prevented actual start. The project again was earmarked for the post-war program, but has been held in abeyance.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Edward of Harvey, Ill., and Mrs. Marjorie Lewis of San Diego, Calif., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Brookshire.

---

For the July meeting, the Georgetown Sorosis will hold a family picnic July 20 at the home of Mrs. Quentin Leverich, a member. New members recently welcomed into the club are Mrs. Dorothy Strader, Mrs. Emily Goodwin, Mrs. Marjory Lewis, Mrs. Dorothea Ann Binkley and Mrs. Jean Crawford.

Candy and bake sale, beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday, July 9, in former Illinois Power Co. office in the Richie building by Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Annual homecoming of Liberty Cumberland Presbyterian Church, Sunday, July 17; all-day meeting with basket dinner at noon; all friends and members invited; Rev. and Mrs. Fred Tate of Mattoon to be in charge of speaking and singing.

American Legion Auxiliary sandwich, pie and ice cream social, beginning 3 p.m. Saturday, July 16, Fazio building.

Mrs. Elizabeth Richter of Danville was a Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Fortune and daughters of Tucson, Ariz., are visiting relatives in Georgetown and Ridgefarm.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorwin Jenkins and Mr. and Mrs. James Monroe of Tidgefarm spent Monday in Paducah, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Miller of Olney, Ill., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Akers.
