The Westville News

Vol. 19 — No. 42 Georgetown, Vermilion County, Illinois Friday, July 29, 1949

When it gets so hot and humid that even the village gossips slow down, then that's humidity at its peak.

Folks are coming and going, to and from vacations, outings, picnics, reunions. Then they get down to business when they realize that the first installments of real estate taxes are due Aug. 1.

Vacationing on Mosquito Bog

Dear Town Crier—Here is a report from the "Last Resort," (Deep in the heart of Mosquito Bog, on the Vermilion River) where Uncle Ez is vacationing and having a wonderful time. You would enjoy it here. This beautiful villa on the banks of the Vermilion is the last word in inconvenience and connivance.

Being located on a mosquito bog is not detrimental to its popularity, because the mosquitos here are the friendly type. They love people. Particularly around the evening campfire do they thrive on company. They are dull of bill and cannot drill on the rhino-hided guests who stop here. They are a great help, too, when one is fishing as they can be used for sinkers and are large enough to disturb the peace of the inhabitants of this piscatorial haven.

Fishing here is very good
If you eschew chopping wood;
Not for heat but cuisine
Do they use this fuel,
Since there's no gas or gasoline
And no fuel like an old fuel.

Since the health-giving qualities of this typical spa are highly touted and ardently advertised, you are urged to drink and drink again of its fine mineral waters. This eliminates the heavy food intake but is conducive to good health and relaxes a person into sublime ecstasy, where no deep thinking is required.

—Ezra Pash.

Several of the St. Louis Cardinals fans plan to take in the three big games late this week between the Red Birds and the Brooklyn Dodgers, as the long home-stand of the St. Louis team reaches its grand climax . . . Beware of fake subscription agents for magazines; Boys Town, Neb., reports that a magazine racket misusing the good name of Boys Town is being carried on in various communities . . . Don't forget that the squirrel hunting season does not open on Aug. 1 this year; the boys in the state legislature and in the Department of Conservation made the opening date this year 30 days later—Sept. 1

We asked another of our newer residents what he thinks of our town after a month's residence here. His answer: "A good town; swell people, hospitable and all that. But why do so many folks knock the town and then go elsewhere to do their shopping."

Our Clean Story Club — Two big turtles and a little one stopped at an inn one day to quench their thirst with a mug of sarsaparilla. As they began to drink, one of the big turtles noticed that the rain was starting to fall outside. The three then got into an argument as to which should go home and get an umbrella. The two big turtles finally decided that the little turtle should get the umbrella. The little one objected, afraid that if he went the others would drink his sarsaparilla. But they finally convinced him that they would not touch his drink.

Three weeks went by. Finally, one of the big turtles said: "Let's drink the little guy's sarsaparilla."

"That's what I say." said the other large turtle. "Let's go ahead."

From down at the end of the bar near the door, a shrill voice piped up: "If you do, I won't go after that umbrella."

Plans Of New Library Building Are Expected Soon

Brick and Concrete Structure Being Designed

Work on the plans and specifications for Westville's new Public Library building are well under way by the firm of Blackman & Strader, architects. It is expected that the completed plans will be ready for submission to the Library Board soon.

As soon as the plans are approved, it is intended to advertise for bids on a construction contract. A general contract will not be awarded at this time as it is planned to acquire the building materials separately, and to let some of the servicing work in sub-contracts.

After actual construction work is started, donations again will be solicited. The fund now is approximately $6,000, and about $10,000 will be needed. A drive, therefore, to raise additional funds will be necessary.

The building will be of brick and concrete blocks, and an attractive exterior design is being planned. The building will be about 28 by 38 feet, with additional space on the property for adding to the 38-foot length later, if this is found to be necessary. A separate contract may be awarded for the finishing of the interior.

All indications are that the building will be a decided credit to the community in attractiveness and general utility as a library.

The Tri Lambda sorority, which has organized and kept the library going, has furnished all the work in the old library building. The members have worked as librarians in relays on specified days of each month throughout the years, and all have joined on frequent "work evenings" to catalog books, repair them and to handle the necessary administrative details in operating the library.

Bubble Up made eight hits off of the two Horseshoe pitchers, Sabalasky and Neild. Two base hits were made by Pete Dowiatt and Carl Thompson. The score by innings:

Bubble Up	100	106	0—7

Congregational Church Notes

Rev. C. R. Dierzamm, Minister

There are many churches and many members. There are always a great many people in every community who ought to attend their respective churches of their faith.

There is a considerable portion of the membership of the average church that joined the church and without the necessity of a changed heart. The other portion, though quite small, has found the real joy of communion with Christ. The churches of the United States are contemplating a general Evangelism through the Council of Churches of America.

In the fall, we contemplate a general revival of the Spirit. The more people of the membership who respond to the order of the coming day, which will be the revival of daily Christian living, the stronger will be the church and religious life of its community to which it ministers. Be sure to come within the inner sanctuary of this new day in Evangelism. Watch for it. Pray also.

Miss Marcella Dolan Will Teach in Japan's Occupation Territory of Army for a Year

Miss Marcella Dolan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dolan, Catlin, will sail for Japan early in August, it is stated, where she will teach mathematics in the American Dependents School under jurisdiction of the U. S. Army of Occupation. Her pupils will be children of the military personnel and civilian employes stationed in Japan.

Miss Dolan received her Bachelor of Arts degree from St. Mary's-of-the-Woods College, Terre Haute, and has done graduate work at the University of Illinois and Loyola University, Chicago. She has been a teacher of English and mathematics at Gage Park High School, one of the finest high schools in the Chicago area, for more than five years. Her contract with the Army is for one year, and she will be located on one of the American government reservations, probably in the environs of Tokyo.

GEORGETOWN

Mrs. Joe Attan received word this week that her aunt, Mrs. Mary E. Fauley, 305 W. Green St., Urbana, had the misfortune to suffer a fractured hip in a fall at her home. She is getting along as well as can be expected. A daughter, Mrs. Edna Yeazel of Detroit, is caring for her at Mrs. Fauley's home. Mrs. Fauley is well known in Georgetown. She was a sister of the late Lewis A. and Lance Reid, and was 88 years old last May. She has been in excellent health.

Mrs. Florence Campbell, city clerk, will be at the Georgetown City Hall to transact business each Saturday evening, from 6 to 10 o'clock, until further notice.

Mrs. William Lyon received serious burns last Monday evening when attempting to remove a coffee percolator from the stove. The lower half of the percolator became loose and spilled hot coffee, scalding her left leg and right ankle. She is being treated by Dr. Saul Halpern.

Plans are complete for the first homecoming of Primrose Camp, Royal Neighbors, at Georgetown City Park, Sunday, July 31. All members, adults and juveniles, and their families are invited.

There will be a basket dinner at noon and ice cream at the close of the day. Those attending are to bring table service. There will be a program in the afternoon, and a prize for the person with the oldest membership.

The recorder will be at the Houghton Funeral Home for dues Friday, July 29.

Mrs. Sam Harris entertained a family dinner at her home July 13 in honor of the 87th birthday anniversary of her mother, Mrs. Eliza Scott. Present were her only brother, Charles Ridgeway and wife of Oaktown, Ind.; a nephew, Ira Ridgeway and son of Paxton; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Effie Ridgeway of Robinson, Ill.; her daughter, Mrs. Effie Gannon of Georgetown; and son, Melvin Scott and wife. Mrs. Scott's other son, Homer Scott of Newport, Ind., was unable to be present. Her husband passed away 14 years ago.

Mrs. Scott enjoys reasonably good health for her years and is able to help with the housework. Her hobbies include flowers, piecing quilts and crocheting and etc.

A picnic dinner was held in Georgetown City Park in honor of Frank Ireland's birthday. A large birthday cake formed the centerpiece of the table. All children were present except two.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Morgan. of South Bend, Ind., Mr. Morgan's mother of Kentucky, Mrs. Julia McKee and children of Michigan City, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Carol Jones and family, Mr. and Mrs. Cloyde Gebhart of Dana, and Mr. and Mrs. John McNaughton and sons of Fort Wayne, Ind.

While the total circulation of both books and periodicals made a record in the last year, at 4,843, the number of borrowers of books who were registered at the Georgetown Public Library by card declined from preceding years, it is shown in the annual report of the librarian and the Public Library Board.

The number registered by card was 593 adults and 616 children, making a grand total of 1209. Fiction books still take the lead with adults as well as children. Adults borrowed 2,526 works of fiction, as compared with only 83 non-fiction books. The circulation of periodicals continued large during the year, and the reading room has been well patronized.

The number of volumes added during the year was 85, all of which were adult books, no new children's books having been purchased. The total number of volumes in the library at the close of the year was 2442.

The library board is composed of Roscoe Murray, chairman; Riley Smith, vice-chairman; Herman Stoltz, Mrs. Love Beauchamp, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Lois Flynn, Mrs. Vina Switzer and Mrs. Eva Dukes. Mrs. Sam McDill continues as librarian.

A number of complaints have been brought to the attention of city officials concerning carelessness on the part of some citizens in the hauling of trash, debris and tin cans to the city dump or other places of disposal. Careless loading and handling of some of the litter have resulted in a scattering of such material on the streets.

As a result, Mayor Ivan Rucker has issued a statement calling attention to the fact that debris and trash scattered on city streets is in violation of city ordinances, and that these ordinances will be enforced.

It is asked that trash be put into containers so that it will not be scattered in transportation, and that tin cans be kept from littering sreets or alleys.

The annual reunion for descendants of Charles Yoho will be held Sunday, Aug. 7, at Georgetown City Park. There will be a basket dinner at noon, followed by a program.

The annual Lockhart - Maskel reunion will be held Sunday, Aug. 7, at Georgetown City Park. All relatives and friends are invited.

The annual Lamar reunion will be held Sunday, Aug. 7, at Georgetown City Park. There will be a basket dinner at noon and a program during the afternoon. All relatives and friends are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson are the parents of a son born Friday, July 22 in Lake View Hospital.

THOUGHT . . . for the . . . Quiet Hour

THE NEED OF AN ALTAR

The altar in early religion might be the simplest structure, but it was always a spiritual symbol. It was built by a man as a response to some revelation of God to him.

One of the beautiful pictures in the Book of Genesis describes Isaac making his home in Beersheba. He put first things first. The account says, "He builded an altar there." That was the recignition of God, an act of devotion, a recognition that without God he could do nothing.

Let us today think about it, if we believe in the existence of God, the heavenly Father who cares for His children, the all-powerful One who holds the destiny of our lives in His hands. Then the altar should come first.

Isaac believed in God. Although he was far from being perfect, he possessed a sense of God-awareness. So he built an altar. That was the expression of the deepest that was in him. The Altar of Surrender is the place where we meet God. He speaks our sins forgiven, and a new life begins.

Then there is the Altar of Loyalty that needs to be erected in the home where day by day in the family we meet God and hold communion with Him through Jesus Christ, His Son. That loyalty to Christ extends to the fellowship of believers in His Church, also which is so necessary to keep our lives atuned to the things vital and spiritual. As we meet week after week in true devotion and love to Christ, who is the Way, the Truth in the Life, we become stronger to meet the problems which we must meet these days.

The poem "The Altar Within the Heart," by Grace Noll Crowell, is very expressive of our privilege.

"I have reared an altar firmly in my heart,
A sacred place where I can go apart
And meet my Lord. At every day's bright start
I come to Him and find Him waiting there—
Perhaps I come bowed down beneath some care,
Or burdened with a grief too great to bear,
And lo, He lifts that burden, shares that grief.

I know a sudden swift and sure relief
And am strengthened for my day beyond belief.
It may be that I come at set of sun,
Glad to know my work has been well done;
Or with some spiritual victory I have won,
And behold, a love wide as the sea is wide
Awaits for me there at my altar's side,
Where my Lord abides, and ever will abide."

For The Ladies: A Diet That Really Works

We went out visiting the other night and the ladies were talking away about weight-reducing diets. One of them had a special "15-day Hollywood diet" guaranteed to slim her down fifteen pounds' worth. Another was living on bananas and skim milk!

I might have known the missus would get the bug, too, and sure enough the other day she asks me, "Joe, what kind of a diet do you think I ought to go on?"

"Mother," I says, "the only diet I would ever recommend to anyone is simply moderation. I wouldn't trust any of those get-thin-quick diets. Simply cut down on desserts, bread, butter, sweets and fats—but when you do, even do your cutting down moderately."

From where I sit, moderation is the watchword. Moderation with food, with smoking or with the enjoyment of a friendly glass of temperate beer or ale. Actually, moderation adds to the enjoyment of just about anything.

Recommended Wheat Varieties Are Given

Pawnee and Westar are the varieties of hard winter wheat best suited to Vermilion county, Farm Adviser O. W. Hertz announced. For soft wheats, he recommends Royal and Blackhawk.

These recommendations come from Circular 643, "Winter Wheat Varieties for Illinois," just received at the farm adviser's office. You can get a free copy there. The address is 117 N. Walnut St., Danville.

The variety recommendations are based on field tests made from 1943 to 1948. Results covering four years or more are more dependable than those for a shorter period, because varieties respond differently in different seasons.

Royal, a new soft wheat for central, southern, and extreme southern Illinois. was developed by O. T. Bonnett, College of Agriculture plant breeder.

Local Price Support On Wheat Is $1.98

Harry W. Lenhart, of the Vermilion County Agricultural Conservation Committee, announced Saturday that the basic price support on the 1949 wheat crop has been established at $2.08 per bushel for farm stored wheat in the county. The national average rate is given as $1.95 per bushel.

The loans and purchase agreements, based on the county rate, will be available to producers through Jan. 1, next, said Mr. Lenhart. Loans will be made on farm and warehouse-stored grain. The maturity date is April 30, 1950, or earlier on demand. Growers who keep their grain the required length of time in farm storage will receive a storage allowance of 7 cents a bushel. Wheat eligible for loan or purchase arrangements must grade No. 3 or better. or No. 4 or No. 5 graded by test weight.

LAW ON THE FARM

By H. W. HANNAH
Associate Professor of Agricultural Economics, University of Illinois

Affidavits, Oaths and Seals

An affidavit has been defined as a voluntary statement, reduced to writing and made under oath. For example, when a person's age and place of birth must for some reason be made a matter of record, he may be asked to make an affidavit—that is a statement that he was born on a certain date and at a certain place. Statements thus made will be regarded as truthful and correct unless competent evidence is produced to show that they are incorrect. Affidavits are useful in establishing the facts necessary to make many transactions "legal" and to permit their completion.

An oath is a means of appealing to a person's conscience to tell the truth. The appeal to conscience lies in the fact that the Supreme Being is requested to "listen in," and that the oath can be made only before certain officials designated by law. Persons whose religious belief does not include the concept of a Supreme Being may make an 'affirmation" instead of an oath. When people are "sworn in" to an office, they take a particular kind of oath—an official oath of office—the thought being that such an oath will make them more conscious of their duty and of their national allegiance. Many ordinary documents, such as deeds, mortgages, and the forms issued by various agencies, such as the veterans' administration, must be "sworn to" or "acknowledged" before a notary public or other officer legally qualified to administer oaths.

Seals were originally wax impressions made on important legal documents, such as deeds, to identify the parties to the instrument. It once took the place of a signature, and persons had their own special seals. Sealing serves no very useful purpose in modern legal transactions, but the requirement still remains with respect to many instruments—deeds for example. The requirement is met by a scrawl or scroll—a mark placed on the instrument to take the place of a seal.

Illinois law provides that ". . . any instrument of writing, to which the maker shall affix a scrawl by way of seal, shall be of the same effect and obligation, to all intents, as if the same were sealed."

Seals are not essential to the validity of an instrument unless required by law.

Georgetown Fair to Have $5235 Premiums Aug. 29-Sept. 3

Premiums totaling $5,235 are to be offered by the Georgetown Fair and Junior Livestock Show to be held Aug. 29-Sept. 3 on the new fairgrounds on W. West St., Georgetown. The midway and general entertainment features will be on the fairgrounds and on W. West St.

Both the open class and the Junior show premiums are higher than last year. Livestock superintendents and premiums as announced by William D. Kirby, who with Richard Graves, is a general livestock superintendent, are as follows:

Fred E. Brown, president of the Fair Association, reported this week that the Illinois tuberculosis x-ray trailer unit probably will show here during fair week, and that the State of Illinois State Department of Health also plans to have a tent with moving pictures on various communicable diseases.

Total premiums will amount to $5235 this year, which is the heaviest premium gross of any of the fairs held. Virtually all individual premiums are higher than last year. Livestock superintendents and premiums include the following:

Beef cattle, premiums totaling $1,129; Forrest White, superintendent.

Dairy cattle, $1104 premiums, Gordon Humrichous, superintendent.

Sheep, $288 premiums, Don Finley, superintendent.

Swine, $1200 premiums, Jack Sanders, superintendent.

The poultry division, Durward Smith, superintendent, will have total premiums of $126.

Premiums for agricultural products are $27.25, W. O. Sawyer, superintendend.

Miscellaneous, $50.

Included in the home economics and arts division are premiums as follows:

Horticulture, $175; fine arts, $75; domestic arts, $200; dairy, apiary and culinary arts, $75.

Junior Department, other than livestock, $100.

In the Junior Livestock Department the premiums will total $712. Products of 4-H Club members, the FFA and individual showings will be displayed. Everyone under 21 years of age may compete in the junior exhibits.

Among the judges selected are: Dairy cattle, Robert Lindsey, Alvin, Ill.; beef cattle, John Trapp, Georgetown; sheep, William Lyon, Milford, Ill.; and poultry, Sam Ridlen University of Illinois poultry specialist.

Depression Peculiar, Is View; Uncle Sam To Start Building

By Reynolds Knight

NEW YORK — They're going to count houses again. With the passage of the housing measure, another home census is assured. Meanwhile, some rather surprising figures have come to light. For instance, who'd have guessed that since 1930 the number of new houses has risen faster than the population In 1930 we had 123 million people and 31.5 million dwelling units; in 1949 the population is 146 million and the number of dwelling units is 43.5 million. Thus, in 1930 we had only one unit to every 3.9 people, whereas today we have one for every 3.4 persons.

And the rate of construction is still rising. New housing "starts" were low in the first part of the year but in June the rate of new building passed that of June, 1948. So new homes are still increasing faster than the population.

All this adds up to quite a lively boom, with office buildings, apartment houses, schools and factories contributing more to this year's total than in 1948.

UP SCHOOLS — Activity in the school building field is increasing largely because authorities realize they can wait no longer for "more favorable" conditions, in the opinion of R. H. Jacobs, director of the school controls division of Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co., who has just completed a coast-to-coast study of the situation.

The nation's schools are facing the greatest crisis in history due to the unprecedented increase in population and the failure to expand facilities during the last two decades. The U. S. Bureau of Census estimates that 8,240,000 more children will be enrolled in the first to twelfth grades in 1958-59 than are in the already-overcrowded classrooms today. To house these increased enrollments will require at least 250,000 additional classrooms.

Mr. Jacobs found on his tour that educators and school boards are insisting that buildings erected today must be modern in every respect. Most specifications today call for highest standards of illumination, acoustical treatment and automatically-controlled heating and ventilating systems.

THINGS TO COME—The appliance makers must be counting on many new homes, too. Each week sees new-model gadgets being introduced. General Electric announces two new ironers in the low-price class, one of which offers 96 square inches of ironing surface; arch-competitor Westinghouse is out with a new wringer-washer to retail for less than $100; Never having been able to put a keen edge on a stainless steel knife, your correspondent is glad to record the promise of a cutlery company that its new stainless steel knives will require no sharpening for three years; on the other hand, still another company offers a handy gadget to sharpen scissors. Well, it's difference of opinion that makes a market . . . Comes now plastic pouches for the better shipping of oysters . . . Television, which seems already to have everything, now will have a new picture magazine to serve the set-owners.

HOME SHOWS—If you were building a new home a generation ago, there was no one central place to give you information on all the products that might be used in its construction. Today's home builders are much better informed, thanks to the home show. The home show gathers under one roof not only construction materials but also furniture and equipment, so that prospective builders can see, in an hour or two, the latest improvements and design ideas of many industries. Typical of home show exhibitors are the 100 clay tile contractors who participated this spring in more than a score of home shows throughout the nation. These dealers wanted to show the public the many colors now available in clay tile, and to demonstrate a variety of new uses for it—in the nursery, the utility room, for patios, dens and rumpus rooms.

BITS O' BUSINESS—The pajama manufacturers are worried. Seems the average man buys only "one-third pajama pair a year." So the industry is planning an educational campaign, and also investigating the possibilities of making pajamas more comfortable . . . The machine tool industry is back in the news with good news. This industry, most talked-about of all during the war, was first to feel a slump, but some officials think the coming autumn will see a sharp upswing in activity . . . It will cost the taxpayers $100 million for the planners to plan the $3 billion works program . . . Better prices for poultry are being reported . . . State of Michigan is expecting a bumper crop of apples, pears and peaches . . . Inventories of newsprint in producing mills showed a decline last month, but they're still above any month last year . . . Plantings of popcorn in the 12 producing states are said to be 40 percent below last year's acreage. May be lean eating for the kids in the movie houses next year!

From the State Capital

(Special)

SPRINGFIELD — Increasing prevalence of polio, or infantile paralysis, in Illinois this summer is being reported by the state department of public health. Up to July 22, a total of 183 cases has been noted, with three deaths.

Studies started some years ago by the department indicate that every third year brings a sharp increase in the prevalence of this disease. As 1949 is the third year of the cycle, the department has predicted the probability of some 2200 cases in Illinois this year.

The state health department, the division for crippled children and the Polio Foundation are offering joint services throughout Illinois in an effort to check and alleviate the effects of this disease.

Headache, nausea, vomiting, muscle soreness or stiffness and fever are listed as polio symptoms, while preventative measures include the avoidance of crowds and excessive fatigue, swimming in water which has not been declared safe, and chilling. General personal cleanliness and the use of clean food are advised.

Gov. Stevenson has signed House bills 775 and 776, designed to take the Illinois state police force out of politics and put it on a permanent merit basis. Under the new laws state policemen are forbidden to participate in politics and the solicitation of policemen for political contributions is prohibited. The personnel of the force is to be divided equally between Republicans and Democrats so that parity may be reached before Jan. 1, 1951. After that date, appointments will be on a strict merit basis without regard to political affiliations.

Examinations of candidates for miners' papers will be held in 12 Illinois cities next month, Walter Eadie, state director of mines and minerals announces.

The Illinois State Fair, Aug. 12 to 21, will be replete with exciting and entertaining events. Each of its 10 days will have a special program.

Gov. Stevenson will officially open the main gate to the grounds on Children's Day, Friday, Aug. 12, and will have plenty of free tickets for carnival rides. Admission to the grounds will be free that day.

Saturday, Aug. 13, will be all-Illinois Day, featured by Illinois-owned harness race horses, Illinois Horse Show, Illinois Gladiolus Show and Illinois Rural Chorus Festival preceding the WLS Barn Dance.

Sunday, Aug. 14, will be Veterans' Day, with free admission to grounds and grandstand, and a full program of patriotic demonstrations.

Flying Farmers' Day will be Monday, Aug. 15; while Tuesday, Aug. 16, is set aside particularly for residents of Springfield.

Special rallies are being planned for Republican Day, Aug. 17, and Governor's Day, Thursday, Aug. 18.

Friday, Aug. 19, has been designated Farmers' Day and Editors' Day, and will be featured by the grand parade of prize-winning livestock.

Automobile Race Day is set for Saturday, Aug. 20, and the final day of the great exposition, Sunday, Aug. 21, has for its big attraction the AMA motorcycle races.

New Houses Now Rising Faster Than Rate of Population

By L. H. SIMERL

College of Agriculture,
University of Illinois

If 1949 has been a depression year, it's a peculiar one. Total retail sales for the first six months were almost exactly the same as a year ago, and 1948 was considered to be a "boom" year. The boom reached its peak during the last half of 1948, and sales for the first half of this year were only 2 per cent under the high record of that time.

These sales totals are in terms of dollar values. But retail prices are a little lower than they were last year. This means that people have been buying an even larger quantity of goods than in 1948.

Apparently consumers have been spending more and saving less than they were last fall. A year ago about this time they seemed to have adopted the familiar advice, "save your money." In the past three months they have loosened up a bit. This freer spending has kept retail sales at a high level even though family incomes have declined.

Volume Is Up

The total dollar volume of business transactions in June probably was a little less than in the similar month a year ago. This is indicated by "bank clearings" in 25 large cities. Bank clearings, which are a measure of payments made by check, were 5 percent less last month than in the similar period of 1948. June figures were higher than those for May. This is a normal seasonal pattern. The increase from May to June of this year was a little less than last year but more than in 1947.

Automobile production reached a new all-time high last week. Factories in the United States and Canada turned out more than 155 thousand cars and trucks. The previous record of 153 thousand units had stood since 1929, or for more than 20 years.

For the past year to date, automobile and truck makers have produced 3½ million units. That's about one-fifth more than were made in the corresponding time last year. Most of the big companies say they will increase production schedules for the next six months.

Builders started about as many new homes in June as in the peak month of last year. The United States Bureau of Labor Statistics gives a figure of 100 thousand non-farm "dwelling units" for the month. During the first half of this year, new dwelling units put under construction numbered 451 thousand. That's about 6 percent less than were started in the corresponding period of 1948. About one unit (house or apartment) in every 22 is being built by state and local governments. Last year only one out of 80 was built with public money.

Uncle Sam Is Building

The federal government may soon start a big home and apartment building program. Congress has passed and the President has signed a new public housing bill. It authorizes the construction of 810 thousand dwelling units (probably mostly apartments) during the next six years.

The new housing law authorizes construction but apparently provides no money to do the job. The money will be appropriated by another bill—that's usual Congressional procedure.

If adequate funds are made available, it will help some people get better homes. On the other hand, if the government builds a lot of new houses and apartments, private builders won't do so much. They can't compete with government-subsidized housing.

In England, the government has carried on a large housing construction program since the war ended. Now very few homes or apartments are being built by private money. This trend eventually will lead to government ownership of most housing.

The threat of a steel strike will tend to maintain or increase sales and production during the next 60 days. Possibilities of higher labor costs reduce prospects for lower steel prices. This situation may in turn prevent price cuts for many articles manufactured largely of steel.

Markets for a number of commodities have firmed in the past few weeks. Inventories (stock piles) of many raw materials or manufactured products have been reduced in recent months. Many businessmen have been planning to cut their stocks for several more weeks but could change their minds. They will change them whenever they decide that no more important price cuts are in prospect. When this change occurs, they'll send new orders to their suppliers. Then industrial production, employment and payrolls will increase again.

OLIVET NEWS

The Olivet Camp Meeting opened Tuesday and continues through Aug. 7. Rev. J. L. Woolman of El Paso, Tex., is the evangelist and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Crouse of Wilmore, Ky., are the music directors. A cordial invitation is extended for everyone to attend.

The following children are attending Children's Camp at Nazarene Acres, near Springfield, this week: Pauline and Willa May Hines, Dorothy Stark, Francis Crook, Dixie Lee Pollard, Arthur Pollard, Carol Ball, Marian Sill and Lowell and Raymond Kerns.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hughes were Saturday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kerns.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Ball and children were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Kerns in Ludlow.

Miss Ruth Stoke has returned to her home in Chicago after a short visit with her mother, Mrs. J. W. Stoke, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Smith of Lewiston, Ill., were weekend guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Mills and family have returned home following a trip through the Smokey Mountains and other southern states.

Miss Mary Stoke, teacher in Galesbury School, is visiting her mother and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pribble of Champaign were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Smith.

Mrs. William Stark and children of Armysburg, Ind., were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Stark.

Farm Briefs

Over 90 percent of the forest plantings in Illinois consist of pine.

When not in use, farm machinery should be protected against rust with new low-cost rust preventatives.

About 14 percent less milking time is required in face-out stanchion barns than in face-in barns.

With proper pasture improvement, the grass will not "look greener on the other side of the fence."

Soybeans change only slightly in quality if they are stored at 12 percent moisture for a year or less and are kept dry.

Greatest efficiency in milking results from a combination of two men and three machine units in herds of 25 or more cows.

In 1837 a patent was issued to Hiram Pitts for "the first noteworthy threshing or separating machine invented in the U. S."

The oldest community forest in the U. S. was started at Newington, N. H., in 1710 and has been maintained continuously ever since.

Although wood is vital to Illinois farms and industries, more than nine-tenths of the lumber used annually must be imported from other states.

A study of 206 farms in 57 Illinois counties indicates that on the average these farms use each year 100 fence posts, of which 89 are wood; 1,100 board feet of lumber; eight standard cords of wood; and five tons of coal.
